BREVITIES.

New Orleans has a hair-brushing machine.

"Shall we wear corsets? Never!" says the Revolution.

The San Francisco, Alta, made $18,000 last year.

The Morning Call says the "Grecian Bend" broke out in Oakland recently.

G. F. Train writes:—"It is well. In 1872 I shall be President."

Apples keep perfectly when packed with dried leaves.

A little girl at Plaistow, New Hampshire, lately killed herself by eating matches.

John Brougham has written a new drama, "The Emerald Ring," for the Barney Williams.

London University will be open to women May 1889. They must be seventeen years old.

The heir apparent to the throne of Greece is henceforth to be called the Duke of Sparta.

Russian leather is the male fashion in Paris, appearing in canes, porte-monnaies, cigar cases, pocket boots, penholders and watches.

After a recent execution in Macon, Ga., the hangman's rope was eagerly cut up into bits by some of the spectators, to be used as charms.

The Massachusetts Homeopathic Medical Society declare against the use of butter, which, they aver, "contains no element of food required by the human system."

Fashionable ear-rings in Paris are made in such curious designs as owls suspended by the beak, monkeys balancing on a hoop, squirrels in cages, etc.

Dr. Poulet, of Ploacher-les-Mines (Haute-Saone) has sent in a paper to the French Academy of Sciences to show that alcohol taken in large doses is a sure specific in cases of poisoning by mushrooms, especially by those of the Amanita genus. He further states that mere boiling in salt and vinegar is by no means sufficient to render the poisonous kinds innocuous.

The street robbers, with whom London is infested just now, have hit upon a new dodge. A ruffian stoops down, as if in the act of tying his shoe, and then suddenly bounding up, butts into the stomach of a pedestrian who is passing by and sends him head over heels. Confederates then pounce upon their victim and fleece him of his money.

A gentleman in Worcester, Mass., made an attempt recently to stupefy a bear, formerly owned at Webster Park, with opium, for the purpose of putting on a new collar. He first gave the beast six grains, the usual dose for a horse, but without effect. A day or two after he made another attempt and gave him fifty grains, but the bear rather liked it without showing the desired effect. Finally the animal was pulled up to a post and a collar was put on without any trouble.

Last month Mr. P., an old man of 70, committed suicide by hanging himself from the bedpost in the Rue de la Roquette, Paris. He left on the table a paper containing the following: "Accuse no one of my death. I have killed myself because I could not do otherwise. This has been the way of all my family. My grandfather cut his throat with a razor. My father and his oldest son shot themselves. My daughter Margaret threw herself into the river two years ago. And now I must obey the fate which has attended my family for more than 100 years."

Some years ago, at a public dinner a Dutchman was one of the company, and during the banquet, he paid assiduous attention to a roasted pig immediately in front of him, that he devoured the entire animal. As he finished the last morsel, unctious and savory, a bustling waiter asked him what he would be helped to next? "Oh," replied the feeder, "I'll thank you for von more of dem little hoks."

A witness in court, who had been cautioned to give a precise answer to every question, answered to talk about what he might think the question meant, was interrogated as follows: "You drive a wagon?" "No, sir, I do not." "Why, man, did you not tell me I learned friend so this moment?" "No, sir, I did not."

"Now, sir, I put it to you on your oath, do you not drive a wagon?" "No, sir."

"What is your occupation, then?" "I drive a horse, sir."

The contract for furnishing the government with postage stamps for the next four years has been awarded to the National Bank Note Company of New York. New designs have been adopted for all the stamps as follows:

The two cent stamps represent a post boy on a horse running at full speed, illustrating the fact that this stamp is mostly used for dispatch letters.

On the three cent stamp there is a finely engraved locomotive. This is surrounded by lines of lightning, indicating the speed with which letters are carried on which this stamp is used.

The five cent stamp has an excellent portrait of Washington.

The ten cent stamp has an excellent microscopical copy of the painting of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, bringing in the rotunda at Washington.

The twelve cent stamp, mostly used for foreign postage, has a picture of a steamer at sea.

The thirty cent stamp has a copy of a painting of the surrender of Burgoyne, hanging in the rotunda of the national capitol.

The ink to be used will prevent washing and using the stamps a second time. The fibre in the centre of the stamp is broken completely, and they adhere better, while the ink of cancellation sinks into the paper.
