Salt Lake Route This Morning.

TALE OF TEMPERANCE DRINK

An Incident of the Journey Here—
Press Club is Showing the Visitors
The Elephants.

Some 30 members of the Southern California Editorial association are quartered at the Kenyon where they will be until tomorrow night when they leave over the Oregon Short Line for the Lewis & Clark exposition at Portland. In the meantime the editors and their wives will take in the sights of Salt Lake and be entertained by the Press club.

Through the courtesy of the Commercial club, the Utah Light & Railway company, and the Salt Lake Beach company the visitors will be accorded a diversified program which will keep them on the move. The chief of police has also instructed the patrolmen to shadow all wearing white badges so that they may not experiment in the last trick of being induced to purchase gold nuggets from miners with hard luck stories.

The party arrived in Salt Lake over the St. Pedro at 6:30 this morning. Going to the early hours of their arrival there were only the buck drivers and the baggage man to meet them. This lack of courtesy, however, has been rectified and this afternoon all are taking a dip in the lake under the watchful eye of the Press club committee which is trotting all the worn out stories which are exhausted for strangers on special occasions.

Most of the visitors are no strangers to Salt Lake for they have been here before. Those who are here for the first time have probably come by Direct Freight and Passenger Agent J. L. Meese who went down the line to meet them and escort them into Salt Lake.

The journey up from Los Angeles passed without any startling comment beyond the breaking of a barrel which some humorist had presented to the editors. The aforesaid barrel arrived at the Los Angeles depot shortly before the departure of the train for Salt Lake. On the top of the barrel was a big cake of ice; the contents it being affirmed seriously damaged eggs and ham.

This was followed with due ceremony in the baggage car.

It is further asserted that the majority of the editors in the party are strong prohibition men. They are mortal, however, and all prone to get thirsty. Yesterday morning before Las Vegas was patched ice water began to pull and a delegation waited on President Edgar Johnson with the news that by an overwhelming vote it was the sense of the meeting that the log be breached.

In due season the temperance drink was sampled and pronounced to be cold, clear and containing. Later the committee on irrigation was impertinent to go into executive session and report instantaneously. To cut a long story short and incidentally cut out painful retelling, about 1 a. m. today, the song of the Coney was heard in the land and from every birth in the special car a head was thrust through the curtains and one grand chorus of "Too Much Johnson" started the go-phers as the train sped past.

Early this morning the dregs of the barrel were sent to a chemist for analysis. His report is awaited with breathless interest. Johnson is sure that the cask contained merely a temperance drink and it was only the high altitude which made the party indulge in chorus singing at an uncannily hour this morning.

Nothing daunted by past experience the visitors were out and about early with indications they will be kept on

FOR FORGING TELEGRAM.

Louis Norton was given a preliminary hearing in Judge Dickey's court this morning on the charge of forging the name of Fred Welch to a telegram. It is alleged that Norton sent a telegram to Welch's father in Newark, N. J., asking Welch senior to send $50 at once. The court ordered the defendant held to await the action of the district court. He was taken to the county jail in default of $250 bonds.

HER IDEA OF THINGS.

Mrs. Beach Files Divorce Complaint and Traces Matrimony.

The Missouri Pacific special carrying train, which always loaded down with doctors from Kansas and Tennessee arrived in Salt Lake this morning and will continue on to Portland over the Oregon Short Line this evening.

A dispatch from Basile, Wyo., to the New York Times: "T. M. Westover, the right-of-way agent for the B. & M., was here a few days ago and secured a right of way through this city. From here he went to Thermopolis, where he purchased a right of way, and also purchased right of way through several farms between the cities. This action makes certain the building of the B. & M. to the reservation, and Mr. Westover says it will be completed before July 1, 1906."
