Local and Other Matters.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, MARCH 29.

Water.—The City Hall building will soon be supplied with water from the water works, the pipes having been previously laid throughout the building, and the excavation is now being made for the service pipe, to connect with the main, on First South Street.

Surgical.—On Sunday Dr. Anderson performed the operation of taking the whole of the front bone of the leg, from the knee to the ankle, of a twelve-year old girl from Bountiful. He performed a similar operation several years since, upon a boy, in the 12th Ward, and, in that case the bone was replaced by another growth and the limb became perfectly sound.

Satisfied All Around.—According to the Ogden Junction people of Riverdale are well satisfied with their school teacher, Mr. Thomas Wadsworth, and he is well satisfied with the people and their children whom he teaches, or, in the language of our contemporary, "he praises the children for their aptness, intelligence and progress, and is well satisfied with the treatment he has received from all parties concerned during his labors at Riverdale."

Knocked Down.—About noon today a horse, with saddle on and rope attached to its neck, broke loose from the California stables, Second South Street, and started away at a rattling pace. In crossing East Temple Street, near the residence of Mr. J. R. Walker, the animal collided with a young woman named Jones, resident of the 10th Ward, knocking her down, and causing her to be for some time insensible. We did not learn whether she was seriously injured.

Home Manufacture.—The warm season is approaching, when straw hats of all kinds will be in demand, and those who want such articles should consider whether it is not to their advantage to purchase the home manufactured in preference to the imported article. We were pleased to note to-day the progress that Mrs. Rumel has lately made in this branch of industry, being now engaged, with the aid of a number of practical English braiders and hat and bonnet makers, in producing articles from the common sort to those as fine as anybody need desire to wear, and at prices equally as low as those charged for the imported goods; in fact, so far as we could judge, cheaper, when the matter of quality is considered. The lady has recently obtained the necessary machinery to enable her to compete successfully with outside markets.

"Out of His Mind."—Last evening a miner, giving the name of S. L. Mack, was arrested at the instance of Fritz Fullreide. An investigation, before Justice Pyper, this morning, developed the fact that Mack had approached Fullreide, very smilingly, in the latter's saloon, and knocked him down. On regaining his feet the Teutonic dealer in strong beverages retaliated upon Mack's head with a poker, when it became his turn to assume a recumbent attitude. Fullreide told his antagonist to be quiet, and the tap on the head seemed to have soothed him considerably, but subsequently, when the proprietor of the place was behind the bar, Mack once more approached, his face still wearing a serene smile, and, while in the act of seizing a bottle, said he would soon show the Teuton how rapidly he could extinguish him, when the police were called and adjourned the proceedings to the City Hall.

This morning Mack had a talk with the Judge, about a ring and a watch and two dollars and a half being shot out of a gun, and finally seizing a pen he held it in such a position as to favor the idea that he was about to take aim and jab the point into Judge Pyper's eye, when that functionary thought it was time to order him to sit down, which he refused to do.

The fact of the matter is the man was completely non compos mentis, caused probably by hard drinking, although Mr. Fullreide stated that he had scarcely drunk anything the last two days. He was locked up for safe keeping.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, MAR. 29.

Ho for Conference!—During Conference time, or definitely from April 5th to 12th, inclusive, tickets from Half Way House to this city and return will be issued by the Great Western Railway Company at a low figure.

Post Mortem.—Dr. P. L. Anderson, who was called in to ascertain the cause of the death of Mrs. Sumner at Slaterville, decided that it was "paralytic apoplexy." Mrs. Sumner had experienced two attacks previously. —Ogden Junction, March 28.

Bridge Over the Weber.—We learn, from Supt. Sharp, that the erection of the new U. C. R. R. bridge over the Weber at Ogden will commence to-morrow. The material will arrive at 5 a. m. to-morrow.

Pedestrianism.—At five minutes to seven o'clock last evening a professional pedestrian named Allen completed the feat, on a wager, of walking, at the Wasatch Hall, a distance of one hundred miles in twenty-four hours. He started at fifteen minutes past eight on Monday evening, accomplishing the feat in twenty-two hours and forty minutes.

A Heavy Task.—The removal of the stock of Z. C. M. I. to the new building is something of a herculean task, there being a continuous arrival of goods and departure of empty wagons from the receiving entrance day after day, and yet the removal is far from being complete; notwithstanding it is calculated the opening for business will take place on Saturday.

Personal.—We were pleased at receiving a call to-day from Mr. J. H. Howard, who is here in the interests of the Chicago firm of Palmer, Fuller & Co., wholesale manufacturers of sash, doors, blinds, mouldings, stair work, lath, shingles, &c. This house does a large and very satisfactory business with this Territory, and Mr. Howard is pleased to learn, from business men in this City and vicinity, that there is quite a fair prospect of brisk times ahead hereabout. He will remain in the City a few days.

"A Century of Presidents."—We have received from Dwyer's, where it is for sale, at 50 cents, an interesting and instructive little work, giving sketches of the lives of all the Presidents; with a portrait of each, of the United States, from Washington to Grant. It is notum in parvo, having, in connection with the matter already mentioned, the Constitution of the United States, with all the amendments.

Unconstitutional.—The Federal election law, decided, the other day, by the U. S. Supreme Court, to be unconstitutional, and therefore void, is the same law under which the unconstitutionally inclined ring of this City sought to shield themselves a year ago last August, when they created such disgraceful disturbances during the election at that time, winding off with an attempt to obtain possession, by force, of the ballot box at the City Hall. Like many other rotten props upon which they have leaned, it has been knocked from under them. The Court of last resort is the best safe-guard of human liberty in the Republic, for, while political corruption runs riot in the land, that institution appears to maintain its integrity as a bulwark of the rights of man. Long may it keep a position so honorable and exalted, and be a check upon the doings of those who seek to trample upon the constitutional privileges of the people.

Waterworks Tested.—Last evening the efficacy of the water works for fire extinguishment purposes underwent a complete test, with a highly satisfactory result. Seven streams from nozzles varying from one inch to one and a half inch played for fifteen minutes, in the vicinity of the Walker House Block, without any apparent diminution of force during that time, the average height being about that of the hotel named. When six of the streams were turned off, the remaining one threw a stream over the flag staff which surmounts the Walker House.

At the City Hall the fire steamer was brought into requisition, in connection with one of the hydrants, and 1,200 feet of hose was attached and stretched along First South Street, and then northward to the vicinity of Col. Winder's residence, and through this extent of hose a stream was thrown from the nozzle a distance of about 140 feet, and subsequently, without the aid of the steamer, about 60 feet. These facts and figures speak for themselves, and show, as heretofore stated, that the waterworks are an unqualified success.

University of Deseret.—The third term of the present academical year of this institution closed to-day. The school is in a highly prosperous condition, there having been enrolled during the ten weeks, just closed, 178 students, an excess of eleven over the enrollment of last term. The branches of study pursued were Reading and Elocution, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, Dictation and Punctuation, Geometry, Calculus, Civil Government, General History, Rhetoric, Botany, Geology, Analytical Chemistry, Cæsar and Virgil.

The next and last term of the year will begin to-morrow and close the 9th of June.

No change will be made in the programme of studies from that of the term just closed, except to substitute U. S. History for General History, and Mineralogy for Geology.

The library connected with the University has been also increasing in patronage, there having been 1,312 volumes given out during the last term of ten weeks.

City Council.—The Council met last evening, Mayor Little presiding.

Petition of E. D. Hoge, Geo. Dunford and thirty-two others, asking that South Temple Street, east of the Du Rell residence, be graded and placed under proper repair; referred to committee on streets and alleys.

Petition of Eliza Salisbury, relict of the late William Salisbury, asking that her city taxes be remitted; granted.

Petition of A. Neibaur, for remission of city taxes; laid over, to come up in its order.

Petition of John Hepworth for the use of a portion of the street and sidewalk, in front of his premises, east side of East Temple Street, on which to pile building material for four months; granted twenty feet of the street and the inner ten feet of the sidewalk; the width of the premises. On the verbal petition of Councillor Dinwoodey, himself, Mayor Little, W. Jennings and H. W. Lawrence were each granted a similar privilege, in front of their respective premises, on First South Street.

Petition of Joseph A. Morris and others, residents of the 19th and 16th Wards, asking for the removal from the former ward, of Mr. W. Jennings' slaughter house; referred to the Marshal.

On motion of Alderman Pyper, the committee on municipal laws were instructed to, forthwith, draft an ordinance regulating the terms of the distribution, &c., of water in buildings.

Bill of J. L. Rawlings, city attorney, for legal services from Feb. 25 to March 25th, $166.66; amount appropriated and the salary of the attorney fixed at $2,000 per annum, payable monthly.

Bill of Davis, Howe & Co., for material supplied the waterworks, $2,090. Also, bill of the Boston Machine Company, for waterworks material, $626.63; received and amounts appropriated.

Adjourned till next Tuesday, at 7 p. m.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, MARCH 30.

Colder.—Thirty degrees colder to-day than yesterday.

On the Rampage.—March appears to be marching out "like a lion," as the old saying goes.

Leap Year Party.—The people of the 6th Ward are having a leap year party to-day, commencing at 2 o'clock this afternoon and closing at 10 to-night, at the School-house.

Repairing.—First South Street, from Flagstaff Centre to the Market Square, is being graded and placed under general repair by the Supervisor.

The Way of It.—This morning first clouds, after an unusually warm night with wind towards daylight, then gentle rain, then light hail, then an old fashioned driving snowstorm from the north.

Notice is hereby given that Thomas J. Stevens was cut off from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for unchristianlike conduct.

C. E. ROBINSON, Bishop. Montpelier, Bear Lake Co., Idaho Territory. March 19th, 1876.

Conference Rates.—From April 5th to 12th, inclusive, the Utah Western Railroad Company will issue tickets at cheap rates for the trip from Half Way House to this city and return, for the accommodation of people desirous of attending Conference, which will open one week from to-day, at the New Tabernacle.

Fine Work.—To-day we were shown by Miss Davis, several specimens of Utah Honiton and clung lace, made by Mrs. L. U. Crompton, Miss L. Durant and Mrs. L. Durant, the latter sixty years of age, all of Morgan City, Morgan County. The specimens consist of collars, neckties and piece lace, and two of them, by the last named lady, are book marks, with appropriate mottoes, all being beautiful, and delicately worked.

Brigham City.—A gentleman from this flourishing place informs us that the numerous branches of the co-operative institution there are prospering, turning out their several varieties of crude and manufactured materials, the only department now resting being the cabinet-makers and carpenters, the hands attached to which having taken a respite of a couple of weeks to attend to gardening.

Overpowered.—To-day a female could have been observed at the Exchange Buildings corner, wrestling with the wind for the possession of an umbrella, which Boreas seemed determined to carry away. He certainly got the best of it, for the unfortunate woman lost her equilibrium in the contest and fell with considerable force against some wooden steps alongside the water ditch, severely cutting the upper part of her face. She was taken into the drug store to have her wound dressed, when her condition revealed the fact that whiskey had about as much to do with her misfortune as the wind, the first named of the two elements being probably the stronger, its influence causing her to desire to make the store alluded to her permanent quarters.

Another Storm.—The late spell of fine weather, which lasted over two days, having become monotonous, was substituted to-day by what appears to be the first end of a storm, causing mercifully disposed people to feel as blue and grey as the atmosphere. This is not, however, the effect produced on a certain acquaintance of ours, whose weather ideas are so thoroughly English that it has been suggested to him to obtain some artificial means of producing its effects in summer time, such as standing ankle deep in a tub of water occasionally, with the valve string of a shower bath handy, so as to let down on his physiology an occasional refreshing shower.

Gone from His Gaze.—Justice Pyper had a peculiar civil suit before him yesterday, in which the plaintiff, a male specimen of the genus homo, attempted to recover $140 from a defendant of the softer sex. The evidence brought to light the fact that the plaintiff had been fired with a tender flame of affection for the defendant, and, when under the influence of that soft condition, was lavish with his money upon the object of his solicitude; but it transpired that the lady, owner of a snug property on First South St., was engaged to be married to another, causing a revulsion of sentiment to ensue in the plaintiff, which was evinced by a letter, produced and read in Court, in which he earnestly exhorted the defendant to "seek religion," and not get married, winding up with the doleful phrase, "If you get married to another, I will lose both yourself and my money."

It was rather a soft case, inasmuch that the attorneys on each side were nearly sick before it concluded, and absolutely refused to take advantage of the Judge's suggestion, who, seeing their embarrassment, informed them slyly he would be delighted to hear them argue the case elaborately, but they hurriedly submitted it on the evidence.

By the way, the Justice and Alderman's courts frequently show up not a few peculiar phases of human affairs.
