A HEALTHIER TONE.

As compared with a condition which prevailed in our midst a few months go, the present beat of the public suise is temperate and healthful. Public sentiment has become normal again, and a sensible and practical ap-preciation of the true situation is predominating, to the suppression of the "wild cat" element and gambling excitument, which for a time exerted quite an influence here. There has been a gratifying adoption of a traditional custom of a class of Arabs, who, under certain circumstances, "quietly fold their tents and silently steal away." The individuals who have borrowed this custom from the Orient, have thereby aided materially enhancing the public weal, as the best thing they could do very fine tables and comfortable seats for the community was to leave it. Even though the market for second-hand office furniture may be surfeited, and though landlords and boarding house keepers may be "out" to some extent, the departure of op tion gamblers and unscrupulous spec-ulators, who swooped down upon us with the opening of the year, ought to be deemed a cause of public re-

One good thing has resulted from the experience of the past few months: All classes of the community have been compelled to admit that the kind of growth wanted here must be based upon a solid foundation of which man-ulactures and industrial enterprises must be made corner stones; and the folly of inducing a class of people to come here who must live by their la-bar, before employment has been provided for them, is universally con-fessed. There has been a sensible abandonment of the chimerical theory that climate and scenery can be sub-that, in consequence, an element in the personnel and policy of the community is being eliminated. A healthier tone
