The scene in the Twenty-Fifth ward of Philadelphia today is one of desolation, many houses being razed to the ground. Others are completely gutted while many more are roofless. The appearance of the localities on both sides of the Del-aware River in the direct track of the tornado, bears a resemblance to a once thickly populated region that had been visited by an extensive fire. The total loss will amount to about $500,000 including $250,000 on property in Camden $15,000 in Philadelphia and $25,000 on vessels damaged in the river. The rainstorm which followed the tornado also did a great deal of damage. The water in the Schoylkill river this morning is higher than it has been for many months. Oregon and Transcontinental Co.
