correct them by half-way remedial laws. These provoke as much re-sentment as thorough policy, would, and have not the merit of doing any good at all. The Utah bill, as the Senate amended it day before yesterday, is worse than no legisla-tion at all. It is simply applying an irritant to an old sore which might have safely been left to time's changes for a complete cure. It will result in nothing but an ad-ditional advertisement of the ex-piring religion and the moral force which always goes with those who can show plausible grounds that they are persecuted. The amend-ment gives the judges to the United States, and the courts to neither of the parties in the contest. It pro-vides that three-fifths of the Board to select the juries shall be Federal ap-pointees, and two-fifths Mormons. If there is virtue in the logic of mi-nority representation, the juries se-lected by such a Board ought to be NEW YORK, 3.-While the Rev.
