The West Cache Irrigating company has just completed arrangements for securing a loan of $40,000 from the Utah Mortgage Loan corporation of this city, with which amount it is estimated that the company's large irrigating canal can be completed. The canal is to be thirty-six miles in length, tapping Bear river four miles north of Battle Creek, in Idaho, reaching the Utah line in fourteen miles, and coursing twenty-two miles through the most arid part of Cache valley. A great deal of the work has already been done, the farmers whom it will benefit exchanging work for shares, and water rights. It is estimated that the canal will cost $150,000 and will irrigate 25,000 acres of land.
