

NO MINING CAMP FOR CITY CREEK

City Council Refuses Little Giant Company Permission to Operate Its Holdings.

CITY'S SECURITY WORTHLESS

Loose Franchise Granted Public Service Company Gives Loophole to Escape Paying $25,000 Bond.

The city council last night refused the Little Giant Mining company permission to establish a mining camp in the north fork of City Creek canyon, for a certain percentage of the net receipts of the ore that might be discovered and the water developed. Councilman Black is in favor of granting the company the right to establish a mining camp in the canyon even if there is any danger of contaminating the city's water supply. He gave notice of reconsideration after the request was lost by a vote of 11 to 2. The question will come up next Monday night, and in the meantime Atty. A. B. Sawyer, who is promoting the interests of the company, will attempt to show the councilmen that there is no danger of polluting the water.

CANNOT COLLECT BOND

Because of the loose manner in which the franchise was written and the subsequent agreements entered into with the Salt Lake Public Service company, the city cannot collect the $25,000 bond executed by the company for the carrying out of the franchise. The "American" administration had its eye on this amount of money and expected to realize something on the bond in order to liquidate some of the city's bills. J. Daily, the assistant city attorney, delivered an opinion to the effect that the money could not be collected. The bond was executed for $25,000 on Dec. 19, 1907.

UNSANITARY ABATOIR

Patrick Vitale and 25 other property owners in the northwestern part of the city sent a protest to the council last night against the unsanitary conditions around a slaughter house which is close to the Olympic school, where there are 600 school children. The proprietors of the slaughter house allow vicious animals to run at large and the moral effect of the slaughtering of animals is declared to be bad for the children. The sanitary committee will investigate the matter and report to the council next Monday night.

OBJECTS TO LICENSE

The Superior Baking company entered a protest last night against the paying of a license of $15 a year for the operation of the bakery. The bakery asks that the license be repealed. It was referred to the license committee.

James Stewart & Co. contractors, were granted permission to use part of the street at South Temple and Main streets in the work on the Utah Hotel company's building. George Curley, contractor, was also granted permission to fence in 15 feet of Main street for the work on the Kearns building.

The bill of P. J. Moran for $21,000 for repairing the outlet sewer was laid over for another week. It is expected that the special committee appointed to check up on the work will be ready to report on it in detail by that time.

PRaises SALT LAKE.

Virginia Paper Devotes Nearly a Page To Unbiased Article on City.

Nearly a page is devoted to a review of the forty-third annual encampment of the G. A. R. held in this city last August, by The News-Dispatch of Parkersburg, W. Va., in its issue of Wednesday, Sept. 22. The article is written by C. W. Archbold, of the Andrew Mather Post G. A. R., who was present from Parkersburg as a delegate to the forty-third convention of the Grand Army.

The writer takes a very unbiased view of conditions found in this city, and is complimentary to the people of this city for their hospitality toward the soldiers and the veterans at the encampment. After describing the trip from Parkersburg to Salt Lake City, a distance by shortest rail route of 2,025 miles, the writer says: "Salt Lake City was very generous toward the encampment. A G. A. R. official of the inner circle told me that the city contributed between $60,000 and $70,000 toward defraying such expenses as the committee thought should be assumed locally. Free quarters were offered to all comrades of the G. A. R. who might apply for them. These free quarters were located in the school houses, miners' hospital, etc. From all information to be obtained the adherents of the Mormon Church joined most cordially with the so-called Gentile population in making a most generous welcome to the encampment—indeed the co-operation of Zion was perhaps most notable, as they tendered the use of the tabernacle and assembly hall for the meetings of the G. A. R. and arranged for a series of evening concerts in the tabernacle by picked members of the tabernacle choir to which Grand Army delegates were admitted free. The decorations about the city were admirable but the interior decorations of the tabernacle were wonderful. A single vast flag was used in decorating the ceiling of the tabernacle, which was most artistically arranged in front of the great organ, in beautiful electric characters, appeared this word and initial, 'Welcome G. A. R.'"

"The main note was a notable feature. Perhaps the band that attracted most attention was the Ladies' G. A. R. Military band of Utah, consisting of 29 pieces. The ladies played well and marched well, and would be a credit to any part of the country. Also there was present the Hawaiian Troubadours.

"A most important matter was the hotel and boardinghouse accommodations. These from all quarters of the country were satisfactory, and I heard of no overcharging. Salt Lake being a great tourist point is coming to be also a hotel city. We were told that a two-million dollar hotel is under construction and judging from the size of the excavation I think this may be true."

The writer then proceeds to throw a bouquet at the newspapers of the convention city, referring in complimentary terms to the "handsome evening paper, the Deseret Evening News," and saying that all the papers vied with each other in extending a welcome to the veterans.

$100.00 REWARD.

Would gladly be paid for a cure by many people who are crippled with rheumatism, yet if there are only a few bottles of Ballard's Snow Liniment, and the price is only 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle, sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112 and 114 South Main Street, Salt Lake City.

F. B. LOOTBOUROW CHOSEN CHAIRMAN

Named by Unanimous Vote at Meeting of Republican City Committee.

PARLEY P. JENSON, SECRETARY

Headquarters for the Campaign Will Be Opened in the Dooly Block at Once.

The Republican city committee last night chose Frederick B. Lootbourn as chairman of the city committee by unanimous vote, at a meeting held in the courtroom of Judge George C. Armstrong. Mr. Lootbourn is district attorney of the Third district, comprising Salt Lake, Summit and Tooele counties, and is one of the ablest and most prominent Republicans of the city and state. Parley P. Jenson was re-elected secretary of the committee. Mr. Jenson has been secretary for the past two years, and has given such excellent satisfaction that the Republicans thought they could do no better than place him in the position again.

The committee decided to open up headquarters for the campaign in the Dooly block, at 238 south West Temple street. The work of re-decorating and furnishing the rooms is now going on, and the committee expects to be able to move into the new quarters at once.

The matter of fusing with the Democrats and Citizens came up during the course of the meeting. According to the report, considerable sentiment against fusion on the city ticket was developed, and at one time a motion was made and carried that the Republicans consider no proposition for fusion which did not include the endorsement by all parties of the Republican candidate for mayor. Other motions were made to the effect that the fusion ticket be required to carry each of the Republican candidates for the city ticket. Later, however, in executive session, the committee decided to take no definite action on the subject of fusion until after the meeting of the joint committee to consider the matter, which will be held at the office of C. E. Felt, at 42 Post-office Place at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Republican committee, consisting of W. A. Leatham, Parley P. Jenson, and Claude Y. Russell, are instructed to ascertain what the other parties have to offer in the way of fusion. As to the matter of fusion on the ward councilman candidates, the committee decided to leave this entirely to the various ward committees.

DEMOCRATS MEET.

A meeting of the Democratic city committee was also held last evening in the office of J. H. Moyle. The matter of fusion was considered at this meeting, and the report of the committee appointed to represent the Democrats in the matter, consisting of T. H. Fitzgerald, Joseph Kimball and James Haslam, was received. No further action was taken, however, in regard to the matter, except to continue the same committee in power for the joint meeting which is to be held this afternoon.

HATCHTOWN AUCTION.

Members of Land Board Reject Proposals Because of Disinterest.

William Farnsworth, secretary of the land board, and A. Glasque, a member of the board of state land commissioners have returned from the Hatchtown reservoir site, where they went to sell some lands at auction. Several bids were made but they were rejected because the bids did not cover enough land to warrant the state expending any more money at present on the irrigation project. The commissioners were offered $2.50 an acre for the dry land and $5 an acre for the irrigated lands.

The state has spent about $150,000 on the reservoir site and canal. There were only about 500 acres bid for and the commissioners did not think that it would pay the state to maintain the irrigation system to supply this small amount of land with water. The land is open to entry and as soon as enough applications are made for the land, it will be sold and the irrigation system opened.

STATE OFFICES UPTOWN.

Scattering of Officials in Need of Remedy to Facilitate Business.

The board of examiners has decided to group all the state officers in one building uptown so that it will be convenient for the public to transact business with the officials. As it is now the offices are scattered all over the city and it is puzzling to find them. Here is where they are located:

- State engineer, Commercial club building.
- State board of equalization, Dooly block.
- State board of sheep commissioners, Scott building.
- State dairy and food commissioner, Dooly block.
- State coal mine inspector, Dooly block.
- State fair association, Swan building, Third South street.
- State board of health, Mercantile building.
- State fish and game commissioner, Dooly block.

It has been proposed to rent an entire floor of a building uptown and place all the state officials on it. In this way the business of the state could be kept together. The board will meet again next week to take the matter up and come to some definite decision.

Anty Drudge on Mending.

Mrs. Housewife—"I seem to do nothing but mend and darn all the time. Half the clothes are full of holes after a few washings."

Anty Drudge—"It's the boiling of your clothes in the wash that causes you all this work, Dearie. Boiling weakens them and makes them soft just as it does meat or vegetables. Use Fels-Naptha soap in cold or lukewarm water and the clothes will wear much longer."

Did you ever wear homespun? Probably not, but your parents did. Old-time clothes were coarse and tough, able to stand the boiling and rubbing and pounding of the old-fashioned way of washing.

The delicate fabrics of to-day won't stand it. Perhaps your clothes are boiled and rubbed hard, and that is why they get frayed edges, tear easily, and wear out before their time.

Fels-Naptha soap is the modern way of washing. It cleanses clothes thoroughly in cold or lukewarm water—no boiling, no hard-rubbing, little time.

Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.
