LIVELY RUNAWAY AT SYRACUSE.

Will Kay Has an Exciting Time In a Three Mile Run in The Country.

BUSY DAY IN THE POLICE COURT

Dr. Edward A. Purdin of Corinne Dies After an Operation—Junction City News Briefs.

Dr. Edward A. Purdin, a practicing physician of Corinne, Utah, died at the Ogden general hospital Wednesday. He had been a sufferer of liver complaint for some time and was operated upon for abscess of the liver. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Lindquist and shipped to Corinne where the funeral occurred yesterday.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

An exciting runaway occurred near Syracuse yesterday in which W. C. Kay of the firm of W. O. Kay Co., was principally interested. After a lively ride of about three miles Will came to a sudden stop, while the horse proceeded toward Riverdale where it was stopped without doing much damage.

It appears that Will had been out to synapse on business, and when returning the dash board of the buggy worked loose. The horse became frightened at the rattle and soon was unmanageable. For about three miles Kay rode the country road, but off and on he was followed by the runaway. Will took the risk of his life. On nearing a canal, and not desiring a fresh water bath, he decided to take to the water. He didn't light in the best of order, his feet being the last to leave the buggy. He arose from the ground, broke the sand and sage seed out of his hair and reluctantly returned for his hat saying things about the animal which would not be well to repeat in Sabbath school.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION.

Spirit of Retrenchment Manifest—Cachoe County Tax Levy.

Special Correspondence.
Logan, Cache Co., Aug. 3.—At the city council meeting tonight, a petition was presented by J. H. Linnford and others asking that cement walks be laid on the following streets: The south side of First South, between First and Second West; on the east side of Second West from First South to First North; on both sides of First North, between First and Second West. The petitioners represent 115 rods front out of 216 rods on those streets.

Mr. Cargio, representing the Westinghouse Electric Supply Co., was present to ask the council to fix the balance due his company on electric light plant and to submit a proposition for additional machinery to double capacity of present plant.

The contract allowing Western Union Telegraph Co. use of city poles for the depot to Main street, was rescinded on the claim that the telegraph company had failed to open an up town office, as agreed. Thirty days were given them to fulfill agreement or remove their wires from poles.

A proposition was submitted to reconsider action in fixing tax levy and to reduce it one mill. This reduction will make it below last year's levy.

The treasurer's report showed an overdraft at bank of over $5,000 on account of delay in getting returns from sales of bonds.

A spirit of retrenchment has taken hold of the council that will be commended by all citizens.

Several petitions for street paving were read and until petitioners could be advised that city would not go to any expense on account of such improvements. The city police force was reduced on man and the services of the health officer were dispensed with.

The sexton's report showed 25 deaths during the month, or a rate of 17 per thousand for the year. This is a remarkably low rate and speaks well for the health of the city.

W. W. Carter was arrested today, charged with breaking and entering the Singer Machine Co. while in their employ as agent. He will have his hearing tomorrow.

Harvesting is now on in full blast throughout the county. Farmers are selling their grain right for the machine for 70 cents per bushel.

CACHE COUNTY TAX LEVY.

The board of county commissioners today fixed the tax levy for Cache county for the year 1904 as follows: For general purposes, 2 1/2 mills; poor fund, 1/2 mill; sinking fund, 1/2 mill; interest fund, 1/2 mill; county schools, 2 mills. The rate for special sheep tax was placed at 3 1/2 mills.

A resolution was passed allowing the opening of a street through the block at the rear of the court house.

The proposition to make an addition to the court house was also discussed. The plans submitted by the architect provides for an addition of several rooms at the west side of the present building.

THATCHER, ARIZONA

HEAVY RAINS AND FLOOD.

Washed the Town Clean and Did Little Damage.

Special Correspondence.
Thatcher, Graham Co., Arizona, July 30.—About 5 p. m. yesterday a storm came up the valley and simultaneously with it another came down the valley, and as they met above Safford and Thatcher the clouds let all their water out at once. Inside of two hours the country road between the two towns was a veritable river, water extending from fence to fence and up to the flanks of the mountains. The water opened headgates of laterals, permitting some of the water to escape, and it ran off without damaging the canals to any great extent. Stacks, fields and yards were covered with a sheet of water. The slope of the valley is such that it naturally cleared itself, and this morning the streets are comparatively dry. It rained out of the town, cleaned out ditches and yards, and left the city of Thatcher as clean as newly scrubbed kitchen floor.

There was no apparent damage done, except here and there the roads are cut out a little.

Storms have been moving about us in some direction every day for two weeks now, and as our country is situated, if rain falls within 100 miles of us, all tributaries direct their course to the Gila river. Our canals are replenished and our hay crops are not injured by the rain.

Politics is now running high; but in Graham county it is comparatively quiet. The Democrats are practically casting lots as to who among them shall have the positions. The primaries are held this evening and the county convention meets on the 6th of August at the county seat.

Mrs. Clara Kimball Brinkerhoff is the proud mother of a little son, President Andrew Kimball and Sister Olive are rather young to be grand parents but they take kindly to it.

Mesa, Maricopa Co., Ariz., July 25.—A crushing sorrow has fallen upon the relatives and friends of Mary Prudence Bond, who departed this life Tuesday, July 12, after an illness of only four days. After doing a large ironing she drank a bunch of seedless grapes, and a glass of milk shake. Soon afterwards she was seized with violent cramps, which continued to grow worse till she passed away, notwithstanding everything was done for her that could be.

She was the daughter of Prudence Richens and Joseph Bond and was born Nov. 5, 1883. She was a loving and dutiful daughter and a tower of strength in the home. Having always been the healthiest and strongest of three grown daughters. She was one of Zion's fairest and purest daughters, and was an active member of the Sunday school and of the Mutual in the Alma ward, of which she was a valued member. One very sad feature of the case was that she was to have been married today to M. A. Milner, Jr. Her departure comes as a heavy blow upon the young man. She leaves a father, mother, three brothers, six sisters, and numerous relatives and friends to mourn her demise. Impressive funeral services were held on Wednesday; comforting and consoling remarks were made by Elders Wainwright, I. H. Forsythe, H. C. H. Allen, J. A. Stewart, and President C. R. Hakes.

MANASSA, COL.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Thrilling Experience of Four Boys—Soaking Rains—State Conference.

Special Correspondence.
Manassa, Connel Co., Colo., July 30.—The quarterly conference of the Salt Lake stake was held at this place last Sunday and Monday. Elder Seymour B. Young and Sisters Caine and Harkness of Salt Lake City being in attendance. The latter two coming to attend the Relief Society conference on Saturday. There were a goodly number of Saints in attendance and all enjoyed the meetings.

The crop prospects have improved of late as we have had a number of good soaking rains; the first of any consequence for nearly a year.

STUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Four small boys met with a shocking accident last Thursday by being struck by lightning; two of them were severely burned, one having his hat and clothing torn to pieces. They were about one-half mile from town when the accident occurred and it was some minutes before assistance reached them. Lewis Swensen who was plowing near by, was thrown off his plow by his horses becoming frightened. He looked and saw the boys were all right, and not thinking anything of the boys took no more notice until he heard them crying. The two who were least hurt got up and ran towards him crying, when he ran to meet them. They were not able, however, to tell him what had happened, only that two were down and could not get up. He went to the boys and thinking one dead, raised him up, when the boy uttered an unearthly yell and continued to scream for some time. Mr. Sorenson took his own coat and put it around the boy and started to put for assistance. Others nearby also started to the rescue. He went to the nearest telephone and called a doctor to come and bring assistance. At this writing the boys are improving fairly, and will likely soon be around.

The contractors have finished boring the state artesian well, the required 600 feet, but the water does not flow out at the top of the casing. The well has been accepted by the state. A short time after it was accepted the drill was dropped in the hole. One of the drillers has returned to try and pick it out of the well.

The Sunday school had a social today. An interesting program was rendered in the forenoon and afternoon for the children in the afternoon at which candies were passed to all the children. The Sunday school is doing a good work among the children.

PRIMARY AGRICULTURAL INSTRUCTION.

Whatever appertains to agriculture interests the majority of people who follow the avocation of husbandry. While the State agricultural college provides an extended scientific course, which includes chemistry, biology, botany, agronomy, and the breeding and management of livestock, a primary curriculum is deemed advisable in the common schools. Whatever is associated with the profession of farming interests people who desire to devote their lives to agricultural pursuits. The primary course is designed to treat only of the most common phenomena of plant and animal life. It may be asked of what utility such a kindergarten course would be to scholars who intend to devote their time to commercial pursuits. To acquire a knowledge of the primary forms of plant and animal life is to bring the student into touch with the great mysteries concealed in the laboratory of nature, and such knowledge is ennobling and refining of human character. Education is a developing process, designed to broaden and discipline the intellect to grasp greater problems.

To master the simple laws governing plant life and development, as demonstrated in experimental work, will broaden the mind and always prove valuable knowledge even to students who do not follow the profession of agriculture. It is a wise movement to interest rural boys and girls in the primary principles of husbandry. It is expected to induce greater contentment with rural environments and in most instances lead to home adornment and embellishment. To master the common school course of primary agricultural instruction will be laying the foundation for aspirants for higher attainments in the knowledge of nature's scientific law at the agricultural university. Law, medicine, mechanical and civil engineering are of importance to the student of agriculture, and why should not farming, the paramount profession, be signified by a special educational regime? The farmer feeds and clothes the world, and his knowledge which treats of his vocation is valuable as equipping him to prosecute his profession successfully. The common school elementary course in agriculture will accomplish great good in stimulating experiment in plant life and ultimately lead to better and more profitable methods of conducting farm operations.
