Among a few of the numerous points of superiority enjoyed by the patrons of this road, are its DAY COACHES which are the finest that human art and ingenuity can create; its PALATIAL SLEEPING CARS, which are models of comfort and elegance; its PALACE DRAWING ROOM CARS, which are unsurpassed by any; and its widely celebrated the like of which are not run by any other road anywhere. In short, it is asserted that IT IS THE BEST EQUIPPED ROAD IN THE WORLD.

NORTH-WESTERN DINING CARS,

All points of interest North, Northwest and West of Chicago, business centres, summer resorts and noted hunting and fishing grounds are accessible by the various branches of this road.

It owns and controls over 5,000 miles of road and has over four hundred passenger conductors constantly caring for its millions of patrons.

Ask your ticket agents for tickets via the route, AND TAKE NONE OTHER. All leading ticket agents sell them. It costs no more to travel on this route, that gives first class accommodations, than it does to go by the poorly equipped roads.

EVENING NEWS.

WHEELMAN'S DAY IN WASHINGTON.

Through the courtesy of Hon. John T. Caine we have received copies of The National Republican of the 19th, 20th and 21st, each containing several columns on the subject of the annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen, which took place this year in Washington, D. C., a city admirably adapted for the purpose, being smoothly paved with about forty miles of asphalt. The business meetings for elections, etc., took place on the 19th, the grand parade and banquet occurring on the 20th. We have already given a brief statement which came in our dispatches, of the principal races. We make the following extracts from the National Republican of the 21st in regard to the parade:

WHEELMAN'S DAY.

Washington 21st.

Shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning an old gentleman wearing a natty uniform, with brass buttons, and a white helmet, came down the steps of the Arlington hotel. He was accompanied by a bright nickle-plated bicycle and a benign smile. He mounted the wheel and was soon gyrating about the open space "silently and swiftly." It was not many minutes before a score of gentlemen attired in the same manner, followed, and by 9 o'clock the streets in the vicinity were filled with whirling machines of every description, carriages and people. The sun shone bright and clear. Everybody agreed that a better day could not have been selected for the parade of the American Wheelmen.

* * * *

On the east side of the street, mounted on four heavily built chargers were as many buglers from the arsenal.

In front of the hotel, lining the sidewalks, were stacked the brightly burnished machines, extending as far north as O Street.

Gen. West stood in the centre of the street, and told police officers, under the command of Lieut. Arnold, to keep the streets clear.

The windows and balconies of the hotel and surrounding houses were filled with people, while the spectators on the sidewalk pushed and surged to catch a glimpse of the approaching wheelmen.

In room No. 21 of the hotel the adjutant and President N. W. Beckwith placed the men and gave out orders, and they were kept busy until 10:30 o'clock, when Dr. Beckwith announced that it was time to start. The clubs got in their places rapidly and waited the signal, which was sounded on the bugle at precisely 11 o'clock.

Two young men, dressed in olive green suits, with white helmets, led the way, carrying small blue guidons with gilt letters. Behind came the four buglers, seated erect and firm on a 62-inch machine of excellent pattern was Dr. Beckwith, while four feet sway, looking handsome and dignified, was the adjutant, G. R. Bidwell. The staff, consisting of T. S. Steele, Hartford; C. E. Pratt, Boston; W. E. Scribner, Washington; W. H. Miller, Columbus, Ohio; A. G. Coleman, New York, and A. E. Fauquier, Mount Vernon, N. Y., looked happy, and all wore boutonnieres. Loud applause and shouting greeted the appearance of the chief and staff as they flitted gracefully past the hotel, countermarched to L Street, and turned down Fifteenth Street to the Avenue. Sixty feet separated the staff and first division, and when the machine of Howard Conkling, the commander, came in view a big floral horseshoe adorned the front of his wheel. Twelve men in light gray uniform and caps, with black band, made a good showing for the New York Cycle club. The Massachusetts club of Boston, wearing dark blue uniform and cap, with gold band, and five representatives in line. The Buck Tail coats and white pants and helmets, with monogram, of the New Haven club set off their figures nicely, and it was loudly applauded. The silver keystone in front of the cap of the next club identified it as one of the Philadelphia clubs. The graceful riding of the Essex club, of Newark, N.J., was favorably commented on, etc., etc.

Then comes about a column of matter descriptive of the various clubs from all parts of the country.

On the portico of the White House, attired in a neat mixed suit and wearing a silk hat, was President Archer. A large ruby gleamed on the third finger of his left hand, and he was smoking a cigar. He threw this away when the wheelmen appeared in sight, and his face lighted up with a smile. Beside him stood Congressman Houk, of Tennessee, and a number of ladies and gentlemen. The President raised his hat as the wheelmen approached and bowed to Dr. Beckwith. The wheelmen then raised their hats, as they glided silently by. The President commented on the fine appearance of the wheelmen and smiled recognition to several of the men.

Then follows a lengthy account of the grand banquet in the evening with speeches, toasts, etc., by Chas. E. Pratt and other prominent members of the League, which has more than doubled in numerical strength since the annual meet in New York of one year ago.

SEVIER STAKE CONFERENCE.

RICHFIELD, Sevier County, May 25th, 1884.

The Quarterly Conference of Sevier Stake has just closed. President Spencer and his Counselors were present, and each in turn gave a very interesting account of what they had seen, experienced and heard, at the dedication and opening of the Logan Temple. They rehearsed with much earnestness the teaching there given by the First Presidency and others, as also the promptings of the good spirit for us to purify and cleanse ourselves from all unrighteousness to lay aside our habits so far as inconsistent with true progress and growth in the knowledge of the truth —to cultivate humility, charity and every attribute necessary for the work devolving upon the Latter-day Saints in the building of Temples and performance of those sacred ordinances necessary for the salvation of the living and the dead.

The Conference was well attended by the Bishops, their Counselors, High Councilors, Home Missionaries, Presidents of Quorums, and Saints generally, and was instructively addressed by Elder Palmer, Bishop George W. Bean, H. B. Miller, Superintendent of Sabbath Schools; Elder Asa S. Hawley, a returned missionary from the Southern States, contrasting ably the doctrines of men as strikingly at variance with the doctrine of Christ and the teachings of his Apostles and servants in His day.

It was endorsed by the marked attention of those present and the teachings of the Presidency were enlarged by their words of kind counsel and encouragement, to increase and cement that brotherly love which can only be attained through a course of faithful devotion and obedience to the order instituted and principles of the Gospel of Christ.

The general and local authorities were presented and unanimously sustained.

The statistical report for the quarter ending May 24th gives—1 Patriarch, 96 Seventies, 137 High Priests, 397 Elders, 59 Priests, 146 Teachers, 276 Deacons, 2,279 members, 1,681 children under eight years. Total of souls, 4,924, 335 families, and 11 baptized new members.

Collected of 50 cent monthly cash donations for Manti Temple at the Priesthood meetings and conference, $215.69.

WM. MORRISON, Stake Recorder.

DISCOVERIES IN BIBLE LAND.

Important discoveries have recently been made in Egypt, the Holy Land and Syria. At a place called Kikmeen, in Upper Egypt, Professor Maspero has come upon huge necropolis, of which hitherto there was no knowledge. In five tombs, or catacombs, he found 120 mummies. After three hours' examination of the neighborhood he discovered 140 more similar sepulchres intact. It is concluded that Egypt must contain 16 feet, five or six thousand embalmed dead, and that, although not perhaps a very large proportion of the mummies may be of any great historical value, there will be quite a harvest of papyri, jewels and funeral treasures of various kinds. The place is identical with the ancient Khemmis—the Panopolis of the Greeks. The discoveries made in Syria and Palestine within the last year or two have been of equal interest. Among these prominence is given to a marble pedestal ornamented with bas-reliefs and inscriptions supposed to have belonged to the pagan temples built in the Graeco-Roman period on Mount Gerizim, a Christian inscription, a Jewish sepulcher and other remarkable finds at Amwas, now identified with Emmaus Nicopolus; to a votive paten or plate for the eucharistic bread found on the Mount of Olives, and to various Roman, Greek and Arabic inscriptions. To all these discoveries M. Clermont Ganneau attaches much importance, as being illustrative of different domications, but he admits that forgery of antiquities is extensively practiced, and points out some of the difficulties which lie in the way of the archæological investigator. At Jerusalem a thriving trade is done in bogus relics.—Ex.

A FEMALE MASON.

"We're bound to be equal to the men," said the Mason's wife; "we formed a secret society of our own last night."

"Indeed!" said the Worshipful Master, composedly; "then I hope, my dear, your project will be successful. Is it a benevolent society, or what?"

"That's none of your business. It's a secret society, and we've sworn by solemn oath not to divulge anything relating to it."

"Very good, my dear," observed the Worshipful Master, returning to his paper. "I'm sure I do not wish you to violate your oath."

"It wouldn't matter if you did, I wouldn't. You keep your secrets close enough—and to think of that stupid Mrs. Fairbelow! She could recollect neither the grip nor the sign. It took us an hour to teach her. When I gave her the sign she would make it this way, ha! ha! Her stupidity would have been exasperating if it hadn't been ridiculous; and as for learning the grip, why she would have it in the way—give me your hand a minute—there, she would have it that way, while it was this way. And the password! she couldn't keep it in her mind for two minutes. Over and over again I told her it was: 'Be just and fear not,' and she would have it: 'Swear not at all,' or 'Do unto others as you would be done by;' ha! ha! We almost despaired of getting it through her head. But we managed to make her understand at last. Oh, yes, we are going to have a flourishing Society, and we can be as secret about it as you men can be about yours."

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS and DISORDERED LIVER,

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fulness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, a feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work, and are a perfect

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

The majority of the ills of the human body arise from a derangement of the Liver, affecting both the stomach and bowels. In order to effect a cure, it is necessary to remove the cause. Irregular and sluggish action of the Bowels, Headache, Sickness at the Stomach, Pain in the Back and Loins, etc., indicate that the Liver is at fault, and that nature requires assistance to enable this organ to throw off impurities.

Prickly Ash Bitters are specially compounded for this purpose. They are mild in their action and effective as a cure; are pleasant to the taste, and may be safely by both children and adults. Taken according to directions, they are a safe and pleasant cure for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Habitual Constipation, Diseased Kidneys, etc., etc. As a Blood Purifier they are superior to any other medicine, cleansing the system thoroughly, and imparting new life and energy to the invalid. It is a medicine and not an intoxicating beverage.
