FRAGMENTS.

Live quotations, New York, per 100 lbs., $4.50.

"AROUND THE WORLD" for the last time this evening.

A. T. REYNOLDS was fined $2.00 today for battery upon Richard Powers.

SILVER quotations, corrected daily by Wells, Fargo & Co. (New York), 101, London 47-167.

THOMAS SNOWELL, was arrested last night, drunk, and was assessed $5 in the Police Court this morning.

MEMBERS of the police force and other witnesses attend certain important persons, are still in attendance upon the grand jury.

On Sunday morning, in the Sixth Ward, the wife of Mr. W. J. Poulton gave birth to a daughter. Mother and child doing well.

The telegraph informs us that a postmaster has been appointed for Utah, but leaves us in blissful ignorance as to who he is or where he is to hold forth.

A witness of the bar, in court, today, referred to assistant district attorney Varian as his "extinguished friend." The remark doubtless had reference to the "friendship."

The next attraction at the Theatre is Alice Harrison in "Hot Water," next week; then comes "Iolanthe," followed by a "Mikado" matinee and performance by the Home Dramatic Club.

In the suit of James Thompson vs. F. Cronin et al., in the Third District Court, a decision was rendered this morning, giving plaintiff Thompson $175; the action was dismissed as to defendant Fursley.

A music lantern exhibition takes place at the Twenty-first Ward hall, on Monday evening, it being a series of views representing a trip around the world and other entertaining subjects. It will doubtless attract a large audience, as it deserves to.

How "majestic" Judge Boreman must have appeared yesterday, when he took his seat in the official position to receive an honorable man over seventy years of age, in addition to sending him to jail, and all because the aged hero would not renounce a principle of his religion! Who is the barbarian?

ACCORDING to the reasoning of the prosecution, it is a clear case of blackmail for a sheriff to make a mistake in the service of a warrant when the names are similar. Any one of that angelic host known as deputy marshals might do the same thing, and it would then be an oversight. (Certainly.)

When Judge Zane interpreted a member of the bar this morning, and informed him that "in arguing before the court it was improper to refer to any feeling outside among the community," did his Honor remember that, when the prosecution heaped the most shameful abuse upon the "Mormon" people, or when Mr. McMurrian threatened that there would be trouble if certain exposures were made, there was no word of rebuke for those attorneys? Or can unprincipled individuals pour out unadvised vituperation upon "Mormons" with impunity, and when an attorney refers to a well-known public feeling in defending a "Mormon," is his mouth to be closed? Why not work the rule all around?

LOCAL NEWS.

Off to the Bay State—Sister E. B. Wells started this morning for a visit to her birthplace in Massachusetts, where she has a large circle of relatives whom she has not seen for forty years. She will probably be absent about a month. Her daughter Louise will attend to the business of the Exposition office in her absence. We wish her a pleasant journey and visit and safe return.

Embalmers.—The body of the late Francis Platt has been embalmed by Dr. Benedict, in order that the funeral services may be deferred until the arrival of the son of the deceased, who is now on a mission in the Southern States. The family are grief-stricken, and the eldest child, Mrs. C. M. Brown, and her husband, have been sitting up and working ever since the death, being now quite exhausted. The son cannot reach here for several days.

Reduction in Rates.—On and after the present date the prices of the semi-weekly and weekly editions of the Evening News are to be reduced $1.00 each per year, that is, the Semi-Weekly from $4.00 to $3.00 and the Weekly from $3.00 to $2.00 per annum. The Evening News is not only the oldest paper published west of the Missouri river, but by this reduction it is also made the cheapest paper in this region, and it is to be hoped that the efforts of the company to place the paper within the reach of the whole people will be met by a disposition on their part to extend to it the necessary increase of patronage to compensate for the reduction in price. The News should be in every family of Latter-day Saints at least, and no head of a family in the community who is alive to his own interests and those of the Church will willingly be without it.

The Theatre.—There was another large audience at this place of amusement last evening, owing principally to the fact that a number of chairs had been secured on Monday, the Kiril Brothers' reputation having caused the doubt with many that seats would command a premium throughout the engagement. The merits of the entertainment alone would not have accomplished any such result for even one night; they were fairly to be expected. Monday evening, and last night, dropped down to the point indicated on the thermometer by a cipher. The scenery, meagre enough at the beginning, was still further reduced; the elegant but not appear, and the only points of absolute merit were the dancing and the Street Pavers; these are good enough for any show, and they looked entirely out of place last evening.

Managers of travelling companies ought to understand that there is a thing as going beyond the limit fixed by good nature, and practicing an imposition upon too often. This is concededly one of the best "show towns" in the country, and our theatre-keepers are more tolerant and indulgent than those of any other community in our experience; but their tolerance should not be construed as infidelity, nor their generosity imposed upon too long. They want only what they pay for and are entitled to; to give them less is to obtain money under false pretences.

The show will be given for the last time this evening. It is worth staying away from.

DEPUTY COLLIN.

HE APPLIES TO BE ADMITTED TO BAIL. BONDS FIXED AT $1,500.

In the Third District Court this afternoon, Mr. J. S. Rawlins, for Deputy Marshal H. F. Collin, presented the question before the Court on writ of habeas corpus, with a view of having Collin admitted to bail on petition having been confined at Fort Douglas on the charge of assault with intent to murder.

Mr. Varian said that he was informed by Dr. Benedict that it would be dangerous to bring McMurrian out as a witness, owing to the latter's condition, but he had understood that a statement had been made in the presence of Judge Speers and City Recorder H. M. Wells, and would take testimony relating thereto.

H. M. Wells was called as a witness.

He was present when Jos. W. McMurrian made his statement, after being shot by Collin, witness reduced the statement to writing and signed the document to Judge Speers.

Judge Speers and Dr. Benedict were the only ones beside himself who heard the full statement; witness had not seen the paper since, knew of no other statement by McMurrian; Judge Speers propounded the questions to Mr. McMurrian.

Judge Speers was next sworn and testified that the statement of Joseph W. McMurrian was in his possession.

The Court instructed Judge Speers that it was his duty to produce the statement.

Judge Speers conformed with the Court's requirement, and Mr. Varian read the following as McMurrian's deposition:

Q.—Do you know who fired the shot?

A.—Deputy Marshal Collin.

Q.—Do you know his first name?

A.—No.

Q.—Did you see him plainly so as to recognize him?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—How close were you to him?

A.—He was right against me.

Q.—Where were you when the shooting took place?

A.—In the alleyway by the Social Hall. I was on the south side of the alleyway, I crossed over to the north side. As I crossed I saw a person coming along. I saw who it was when he got close to me.

Q.—Who was it?

A.—Collins and I, you know, had words down in the Third Ward when he came to suppress witnesses. We ran against each other in the alleyway. Collins and I, I struck at him. He stuck a pistol up against my stomach and fired.

Q.—How many shots were fired?

A.—Two shots.

Q.—Did you fall?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—How far did you go after getting shot?

A.—I guess it was four or five rods.

Q.—What took place after the shooting?

A.—Nothing; he disappeared.

Q.—Didn't you speak to each other after the shooting?

A.—No; not a word.

Q.—Was it light or dark?

A.—It was pretty dark.

Q.—Was any person else present?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—When you struck at him did the blow hit him?

A.—I think I struck over him.

Q.—Did you feel the effects of the wound immediately?

A.—I should think I did.

Q.—Was that all that took place between you?

A.—That is all.

Q.—Just put down that I returned that fire in the excitement, but then I guess I missed him.

A.—Did you have a pistol?

A.—Yes; I am a watchman; I always carry one.

Q.—Which direction were you going in?

A.—From the east to west.

Q.—From the east to west.

Q.—From the east to west.

Mr. Burmaster stated that the case had been forced for trial on the bare application of C. S. Varian, without giving the defendant time for preparation. It was an "ordinary" case, instead of an "extraordinary" case, there would have been no such action on the part of the prosecution, who had followed that course because of the peculiar situation of this community, and had taken advantage of the defendant. There was nothing in the case that required its trial after the jury for the term had been discharged. (The Court interrupted Mr. Burmaster, and stated that it was improper to refer to any outside feeling in the community.) Mr. Burmaster continued, affirming that the proper time for trial of this case was at the term following that in which the indictment had been found, and the prosecutor had no right to take the step he had. The defendant simply asked that the statute be complied with.

Judge Hoge asked that the name of Mr. Sheeks be entered as of counsel for defense, and after a short review of the summary proceedings in the case, stated that the defendant had not had time for preparation, and that the next term to that in which the indictment was found, but there were exceptions to this rule, and the Court had such in its experience. The motion to set aside the order setting the case for trial was denied and overruled. The Court, however, continued the case until Tuesday, Dec. 22d, and ordered that all the witnesses be present at the time stated.

The open terms jurors were excused from further attendance on the court, and the court adjourned.

JUDGE BOREMAN'S COURT.

HE IMPOSES A SEVERE PUNISHMENT IN ADDITION TO THE EXTREME PENALTY ALLOWED BY LAW UPON AN AGRAND-INVALID BECAUSE HE WOULD NOT PROMISE.

BEAVER, Dec. 16th, 1885.

Editor Deseret News:

Henry Gale, convicted of cohabiting with his wife, was arraigned yesterday to receive his sentence. Judge Boreman asked the usual questions as to what he intended to do in the future, and upon the aged invalid stated that he could not promise. Knowing that celestial marriage was of God, he felt under obligation to stand by it, whatever might be the consequence. Judge Boreman then gave vent to a long, fanatical harangue in which he denounced "Mormon" revelations as being from the devil, and declared that the Priesthood, if allowed to govern, would destroy any nation or people; that plural marriage must be put down; that the valleys and mountains of Utah had to be filled with troops to accomplish it, and lots of other things. He then sentenced the old man to six months in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $500 and costs of trial, and to stand committed until the fine was paid. For the first time this morning in charge of a deputy marshal for the penitentiary.

The case against B. V. Hampton, for "conspiracy," was continued Tuesday next in the District Court to try the case which will have to pale its fire for the time being.
