

DARK HORSE MAY BOLT INTO RING

Extra Thompson's Name May Be Heard in "American" Convention.

WHAT DEFEATED LIPPMAN.

Letter from Dougherty, Bamberg and Hoppebeck Started Fire in Lippman's Tent.

Yesterday the political pot was boiling. Today it is merely simmering. The simmering may account for the fact that the boiling, especially in the "American" party.

"Lippman is strong in the same position as the boy who was digging potatoes. He was asked what he was going to do for his work and the boy replied that he got nothing if he didn't dig. Lippman and McMillan are hopelessly out of the race, those who are digging potatoes have hit upon another scheme, said scheme to dig for Lippman. The opponents of Lippman have suddenly awakened to the realization of the fact that he will no longer stand hunched, and they fear that the red light district will not have to land enough votes in the convention to nominate Thompson.

Next to this fight comes the one for the nomination of the "American" party. The "American" party has six more to have the chance of power in that august body. Every effort will be made to land two in the first, two in the second and two in the fifth, but in the second there will be a merry fight against the "American" candidates on the red light district matter and there is great fear that this precinct will go either to the "American" or to the "American" party. The "American" party is being made to induce W. Mont Perry to run again in the fourth.

That Mulvey will land the nomination to the fifth there is no doubt whatever, as he is the most popular man in that section of the political world. Whether Moreton will be his running mate or not remains to be seen. Mulvey says he does not know.

"I am a candidate for the council from the fifth," said he today, "but I don't know who else is running and I am not worrying about anyone but M. E. Mulvey."

Those who would like to see a surprise, say that it is the logical Thompson say that it is the logical Thompson to do as they fear Bransford could not be re-elected owing to the "dark horse" affair. They call attention to the fact that Bransford did not want to run again but he refused to stand for Lippman or McMillan.

When the convention meets there will be 25 votes in the same. It will take 25 to nominate. The Bransford people claim 25. David C. Dunbar, the leader of the Bransford forces, was ill today. He said:

"Today we are merely gathering up the stray ends as it were. I am confident that Mr. Bransford will receive the nomination on the first ballot. As to his election, that is another matter."

REPUBLICANS TO HOLD PRIMARIES MONDAY

Committee Designates Places at Which Delegates to City and Ward Conventions Will be Chosen.

The Republican primaries to select delegates to the city convention to be held next Wednesday evening at the Salt Lake theater and to the ward conventions to be held on Tuesday evening, will be held in the various election precincts on Monday evening. The primaries will last one hour, between 7 and 8 o'clock Monday evening. The city committee has designated the following places where the primaries will be held:

SMOTHERING SPELLS

The Experience of This Kansas Woman Will Be Valuable to Others of Her Sex.

To women who suffer, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold. A woman needs medicine to regulate her blood-supply or her life will be a round of pain and suffering. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are of untold value to women for they increase that portion of the blood which absorbs oxygen, the great supporter of organic life. In this way they may be said to make new blood. They are good for men too but are adapted in a special way to the needs of women and growing girls.

Women who suffer will find encouragement in the cure of Mrs. Theodore Bowman, of No. 1802 North Tenth street, Coffeyville, Kansas, who says: "I was troubled with smothering spells for about three years and was a sufferer with weakness common to my sex. The smothering spells were worse in the morning but would last until noon. I could scarcely get my breath. They grew so much worse that I could get hardly any rest day or night. I had gas on the stomach and palpitation of the heart."

"My doctor said that I would have to undergo an operation. I did not consent to this and received no help until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pills gave me great relief in a reasonably short time and finally cured me. My health has since continued to be good."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have corrected serious disorders of the stomach, have revitalized the nervous system and restored to health sufferers from severe disorders of the blood and nerves. Rheumatism, indigestion, nervous headaches and many forms of weakness and debility Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended even if ordinary remedies have been tried without relief.

If you are ill and the treatment you are taking does not cure you, write for proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done in similar cases. Their merit has made them the most widely used family medicine in the world today. They are absolutely harmless to the most delicate system as they contain no opiate or narcotic whatever.

A valuable booklet, "Plain Talks to Women," containing information of value, will be sent free upon request. They are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60c. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schuettebury, N. Y.

GOOD WORD FOR ABUSED DAIRIES

Secretary of State Board of Health Deprecates the Amount of Abuse Heaped on Them.

Secretary Beatty of the state board of health said today, relative to the Davis county milk situation, that by this evening, the premises of the dairies involved will have been entirely cleaned up, and every objectionable feature eliminated. All outhouses for the radius of a mile from each dairy has been disinfected carefully, so Dr. Beatty says there need be no more apprehension from this source. He deprecates the amount of noise made over these dairies, and the publicity that the dairymen tell him has practically ruined them. The secretary believes different methods might have been observed that would have answered every purpose, without creating unnecessary excitement.

ALFRED BEST AT THE TABERNACLE

Alfred Best the Utah tenor who won decided recognition in Berlin and other European cities is to give a concert in Salt Lake before he returns to Germany to fulfill a two years' contract in opera. Mr. Best has been studying in Berlin for several years and his work has attracted attention from musicians and critics of high standing in the music world. Caruso, the great tenor, asked to hear him sing and was enthusiastic in his praise and encouragement. On the recent tour of the tabernacle choir, Mr. Best was the tenor soloist and his work was highly praised by the press. His voice is of unusual power and sweetness and his control of it shows careful training and years of practice.

Mr. Best has not been heard in Salt Lake for several years and in that time he has made almost phenomenal progress. His voice is much fuller and the quality as well as the range have been wonderfully improved. In more than one case his voice has been compared to that of Caruso.

In his concert here, he will be assisted by Prof. J. J. McCellan, organist and Willard Weber, violinist. A program of unusual excellence is being arranged and a treat is promised. It will include at least two arias from some of the popular grand operas as well as some lighter numbers. The concert is under the auspices of the tabernacle choir and will be under the business direction of John D. Gilles.

NEW ASSOCIATION OF CONSERVATION

President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard To Assume Charge of The Work.

(Special Correspondence.)

Chicago, Sept. 15.—The launching of the new National Conservation association was the result of conference during the summer with President Taft and numerous other conferences between President Eliot of Harvard, President L. J. Fisher of Chicago, president of the Conservation League of America, and others who have been conspicuous in advancing the conservation of the shown by the resources of the United States. They include James H. Gardfield, ex-secretary of the interior, Charles L. Pack, a member of the national conservation commission appointed by President Roosevelt, H. N. Baker of Baltimore, Henry J. Anderson of Chicago, a prominent attorney, and now a prominent Republican candidate for mayor of New York; John P. Bass of Chicago, and others.

The headquarters of the new association where the great work of organizing as a regular movement will be carried on is located at the University of Chicago. President Eliot. It is believed that the membership will soon run into the hundreds of thousands. That such an organization is needed has been shown by the letters which have poured into the office of President Fisher of the Conservation League of America, a combination of organizations is now in progress to make membership open to any man, woman or child in the United States. The constitution of the association provides: "Each member shall pay annual dues of $2. Each member who makes an additional contribution shall be known as a contributing member. Members who contribute one thousand dollars or more shall be known as patrons. Any member may become a life member by the payment of one hundred dollars for that purpose. Life members shall be relieved from the obligation to pay annual dues."

The first element of President Eliot to carry out his splendid career by taking personal charge of the campaign was the importance of the movement of his leadership and his profound interest in the conservation of the resources of the United States.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The Rainbow Trout company of Provo filed articles of incorporation yesterday with the secretary of state, with a capital stock of $100,000, in dollar shares, of which 72,000 shares are held in the treasury and the balance is paid up in taking over the property and equipment for water rights on the south fork of the Provo river in the names of Hyrum Baird and A. ## CHINESE OIL-PRODUCING TREE

The "tungshu" is not found in this province (Kiangsu), either in a natural or cultivated state, but is common in the province of Kiangsi, Hupeh, Szechuan and Yunnan. It is rarely found growing wild, but it is extensively cultivated and is propagated by seed. There is probably no pruning, and while there may be a process of cultivation it does not appear to be known, as the Chinese are usually little practiced in adapting a tree to the soil.

There is probably but one variety of tungshu or Tungshu, and it is not of the forest tree variety, but low and spreading resembling a peach or apricot tree, though the branches are fewer. The flowers are small and white, blossoming in April and May before the leaves appear and the tree is low and elongated, while the leaves are large, rounded and hairy underneath. The fruit is harvested in October and resembles an orange, and is about three inches in diameter. The outside covering is a soft, greenish skin, while the inside is filled with seeds growing in rows. The outside is said to be like the hull of a walnut and after being plucked turns black. Each piece of this fruit will yield about three ounces of oil, and the average yield of a tree is from 15 to 20 of the orange-shaped fruits. The fruit is dried after picking and the white seeds are pulled out and ground and cleaned in the wind. After the seeds have been dried in the sun they are put into a large stone basin and pounded fine with a stone maul, after which water is added. This mixture is then manipulated in a hand lever press made of wood. This is the ordinary way of pressing, but those able to afford a better system employ an iron basin-shaped receptacle, the bottom of which is pierced and permits the oil to pass through into another basin. The hand lever is of iron and is operated by a screw pressure of about 1,000 pounds. No heat is applied to this product, which is called "light oil," and is thick, viscid and of a brownish color. To get a dark oil a large vessel is embedded in masonry under which is a furnace. This dark oil is thin and of a yellowish color—Consular Report.

Cures Baby's Summer Ills — FREE!

The mother should watch her baby very carefully these hot days. If it refuses to play and to eat, if it is peevish and crying, look to the action of its bowels. For there lies the basis of health. Be careful of its diet. The food and water are germ laden. The fruit is too often over-ripe or unripe. If it has any indication of sickness, either in the form of constipation or diarrhea, give it a reliable laxative like DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN. This remedy is a standard in thousands of American homes for just such purposes. It is a favorite with children because its taste is pleasant and it never grieves. It is the one remedy best suited to the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, biliousness, etc., headache, stomach complaint, etc. It is equally as good for grown people, and we know thousands who no longer use strong salts, sours, tinctures, tablets, pills and such things, but take the safer, more gentle and pleasant DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN. It can be obtained at any druggist at 50 cents or in a large bottle. The entire family can use it, and as these ailments arise suddenly the hand of the nurse should see to it that a bottle of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN is always at hand.
