President Seymour B. Young of the First Council of Seventies, was the next speaker. The deceased was a dear friend to him, and he eulogized the noble work and character of Elder Nye, referring to his long and faithful missionary labors in England, California and in the Eastern and Southern States. In all these fields, the Elders, Saints and friends learned to love him A double male quartet sang "His Noble Work is Done." Elder John Henry Smith, of the quorum of Apostles, delivered a forcible dis-course on the work of the salvation of souls, and paid a glowing tribute to the great work done by Elder Nye in this direction during his life time, and which he would continue in the world beyond. Bishop John Watson made a few closing remarks. The choir sang, "Come, Dearest Lord," and benediction was pronounced by Elder L. F. Moench. The funeral cortege, nearly a half mile long, fol-lowed his remains to their last resting place in the Orden city cemetery. grave was dedicated by Elder Thomas A. Shreeve. The pall bearers were, C. the spirit of truth. Jos. B. McCallister sang "Where the Silvery Colorado Wends its Way" in excellent voice. Elder Reed Smoot spoke of the power of humility in influencing others, stat-ing that it was a wonderful power in church and state, and was recognized as such. Education, said the speaker, was a desirable thing and one that all should desire and aim to obtain; but the basis of life was character-honor and truth should be made the basis of every act in life. The spirit of God and the testimony of the Gospel which is cultivated in these Church schools, were among the greatest blessings that could be secured, and would greatly assist the graduates in making their lives honorable and successful. The importance and nobility of motherhood was touched upon, and the necessity for a liberal education for the young women, in order that they might with honor and a true appreciation of its sanctity fill the office of motherhood. He closed by urging all to keep the testimony of the Gospel in their hearts and retain through all the changes of life a love for the school and for the Gospel, and he wished them all the success they desired. Miss Alta Ercanbrock sang "O Love Divine" with excellent voice and expression. President A. H. Lund, after expressing his congratulations to the graduates, encouraged them to apply their education to useful endeavor; to aim to excel, which would always secure recexcel, which would always secure rec-ognition. Education was compared with tools placed in the hands of a workman. Sometimes it was said that a certain man had done exceedingly well in life, in spite of the fact that he lacked education, and this was used as a comment accepted up to the fact that he an argument against education "but," said the speaker, "how much better they could have done with education. B. B. B. Y. A. COMMENCEMENT.

The commencement exercises of the Beaver Branch of the B. Y. A., have been held this week, and a series of most gratifying programs have been reflecting great credit upon the students and faculty alike. Principal A. B. Anderson's report, which was read yesterday, showed that the enrollment for this school year has been 233, divided as follows: Primary, department, 30; preparatory, 76; high school, 119; missionary, 8. The students from Beaver county numbered 116; Garfield, 57; Iron, 14; Kane, 6; Millard, 15; Uintah, 1; Washington, 11; Plute 12, A general feeling of satisfaction at the results of the year's work is very much in evidence. The musical department, under the direction of Elder Alfred M. Durham, is deserving of more than a passing mention. He has been thorough, sys-tematic and careful in his work, and the numbers rendered at the week's ex-creises, would do credit to any instiution of learning in the country, endent of Czmhz bmh bmh bmh hmhb Elder Joseph M. Tanner, superintend-ent of Church schools, delivered the commencement address, and will give he alumni oration today.

DEATH OF ESTIMABLE LADY.

Last night Mrs. Mary Clayton, who has been living at the Beaver branch of the B. Y. A., since is organization, taking care of her children who were in attendance at the school, attended the reception, at the close of the commence-ment exercises in her usual good health, and enjoyed to the full the exercises, and upon her way home was struck with a sudden pain. Upon reaching her rooms she became very ill, and not-withstanding all was done for her that could be, she passed to her rest, at 2:30 this morning. The doctor who was called in gave it as his opinion that the cause of death was either rheumatism of the heart, or congestion of the lungs. The time which should have een devoted to alumni exercises was devoted to memorial services for Sister Clayton, whose devotion to the interest of the school had won the love and esgrewing district.

The citizens assembled in convention at this place today to consider the ques-tion and much enthusiastn was awak-ened in the project, which is consider. ed most practicable and feasible, A committee was appointed, consisting representatives from each precinct in Emery county, to prepare necessary data, etc., and prepare for the visit of the state board of land commissioners, who will visit Emery county in June and consider the matter of opening up the Buckhorn flat for settlement. The the Buckhorn flat for settlement. The committee is made up of the following citizens: A. Exleson of Cleveland, Jas, Peterson of Castle Dale, Andrew An-derson of Orangeville, F. A. Killpack of Ferron, W. A. Staku of Lawrence, Dan Powell of Deseret Lake, Bishop Brinkerhoff of Emery, Lyman Beach of Mo-en, Orson Burny of Clawson, Wm. Foy of Green River and Scott Milton of Woodside.

Representative Johnson, who is at the ead of the proposition expressed his ideas regarding the flat and said that in his opinion the land was the best in the state for horticultural purposes, and also said that he was satisfied that the state board of commissioners would do all in its power for the re-clamation of the land.

Buckhor flata comprises about 12,000 acres of beautiful land lying directly under the south end of Cedar mountain some 12 miles east of Castle Dale and 2 miles south of Mounds, on the Denve & Rio Grande railroad, the nearest rail road point. To water it, a dam would have to be built at the base of Cedar mountain to catch the rainfall, and another to catch the flood waters of Huntington creek in the spring. To insure a still safer water supply it is proposed to establish a reservoir in the Wasatch mountains in the vicinity of Miller's flat, turning the water into Hunting-ton creek, thence into the Cleveland canal to the Buckhorn flat. The cost of the reservoirs, canal work and fluming is variously estimated at from $30,000
