

from the Beet root, has recently fallen into the hands of the Church, at least so far as to be controlled by the Council, and conducted under the superintendence and management of the same. I feel it a pleasure if not a duty to state, through the "News," (should it be deemed proper) that there are combined in this machinery, every facility and power for producing, not only Sugar, Molasses, Vinegar, and various kinds of Liquors from the Sugar Beet, but also Oil from Flax seed, from the Castor Bean, and from the same Sunflower.

This Machinery having gone into operation, and having produced a very good quantity of Molasses which the people have seen and of which they have tasted, there remains no longer a doubt as to its ability to produce as good an article of Sugar as can be produced in France from the Beet, so soon as the necessary appendages and fixtures can be prepared; and will answer every purpose for which it was imported into this Valley. What an acquisition to this new and isolated settlement! Such a matter is brought within the reach of every laborer. Beets of the choicest quality are grown here in rich abundance—fuel from the mountains in large quantities of necessity must be used; and labor must bring these articles, besides many others that must be used, to the very door of the Manufacturer, who will then be enabled to exchange for the products of the establishment. The attention of our farmers and gardeners cannot, therefore, be too pointedly and urgently directed to the culture of the Sugar Beet, the Castor Bean, the Sunflower, and Flax Seed.

The more free and liberal use of Sugar and Molasses, particularly among children, would greatly tend to promote their health, and prove an antidote against many ills that now afflict them, in addition to the luxury and comfort to be enjoyed. Vinegar is also an important article here, as its free use counteracts Erysipelas and several other complaints incident to this climate. Brandy, Whisky, Rum, and Gin, are useful in many cases for their stimulating and medicinal properties, and some even say, that they are good to take on both extra and common occasions. Be it as it may, these liquors are all produced from the Beet, and the grain is unmoistened and undisturbed for this purpose, but remains for bread and food for animals.

The wise virgin took Oil in their vessels with their lamps, but the foolish ones were told to go and buy for themselves. We have been sending our money out of the country to buy Oil; and have not been foolish long enough! especially after this means of helping ourselves and of becoming wise are placed within our reach!

Flax Seed can be exchanged for Oil. Who then wishes his house, fence, wagon, carriage, or any furniture painted, will neglect to raise a good crop of this seed, that he may obtain Oil for all these purposes? And then have the Flax to spin into thread and weave into cloth. "Let thine apparel be the beauty and work of thine own hands." Castor Beans are an ornament to any garden or farm. They keep go-phees and moles away from the premises, and are rich in Oil which is very useful as medicine and for burning; and for preserving the beauty and life of the hair. Sunflower Oil is good for coarser painting, such as fences, barns, and various outhouses, and also for lights; and probably may be used in dressing leather to profit and advantage. Who then will be found without Oil after the present season? The foolish virgin may; but the wise ones hardly will.

Begin now to create what you need for your comfort, health and convenience, out of the elements that are all around you; and if you begin on these small principles, and by perseverance succeed in your enterprise, you will always be able to create what you need if you remain faithful. As inhabitants of this world that swims in the boundless ocean of space, you may see the time when your increase will require more territory to inhabit. Then you may find use for your gigantic creative powers to bring a world out of the elements that surround you, and may do it with as much ease as you now can bring Oil and Sugar out of the simple elements with which you are at present acquainted. "He that is faithful over a few things, shall be made ruler over many."

While the for going subjects should be constantly in the mind's eye, the raising of Wheat should not be forgotten or neglected. The previously named commodities may all be dispensed with and life remain; but the staff of life, which is bread, is indispensable. Plough and sow your fields with Wheat. The mountains are thickly clad with snow which betokens plenty of water for irrigation, and consequently, a fruitful season.

Let us go to with our might this season and develop the resources of the soil in every possible shape and manner; and to the people from Pottawatomie I would say, remain here & go not to California for Gold, and prove yourselves unworthy the complaint that was paid up of being "the clank and tailings of the heap." You will prove yourselves, I am confident, to be the pure Wheat whose bread your accusers will seek with greater avidity than they now accuse you of seeking the Gold of California! Not only to the good folks from Pottawatomie would I say this; but unto all that are in these valleys. Stay here! Love Wheat, and every useful thing. Build a Temple in the "tops of the mountains," unto the name of our God, that we may begin the work of Saviors to save our living and our dead—and if in a little adversity, we lay the foundation of our greatness, the top stone may be brought forth with the shouts of prosperity, and Hosannas to God and the Lamb.

Truly, your Servant and Fellow-laborer, in the Kingdom and Church of our God.

ORSON HYDE.

Great Salt Lake City, }
Feb. 27th, 1853.

Editor of the News:

Dear Sir—As we frequently hear that persons are going to California, and often that they have been counseled to do so by us; we wish to say that we do not preach one thing and practice another. Our sentiments we have avowed publicly and in private, in all the settlements, on the road from San Bernardino to this place, save two, as well as in this City repeatedly; and further that no person has been advised by us to go east, west, north, or south, since our arrival in the Territory.

Our feelings are as expressed in our teachings, that the place for the saints is wherever the counsel of the Lord through the Presidency of the church, may place them, and to go when sent and to come when called, and we believe to be the privilege and duty of all saints, without thinking for a moment, by any other change, to serve the interests of the Masters cause; with whose obedience is better than sacrifice and to hearken than the fat of rams.

We hope that after the very plain and pointed advice and counsel given by the Presidency, that the saints, knowing their duty, will be found in the path of obedience. We went to California because we were sent to build up the kingdom of God, and for the same reason we are here, not by pulling down one part to build up another, and if our acts have not proved what we now say, let those that know the facts speak; and if any think that those who love not God sufficiently to serve him in one place, will not do it in another; so if they would go to California they will confer a favor if they would take the Northern route, which will the sooner bring them to the palace of the Golden God, and spare us the curse of their faithlessness.

We do not feel that in our Father's kingdom we have any private interests to serve but as faithful sons, to be ever watchful of the rich patrimony descended from the fathers and assigned to our care in the establishment of this dispensation; to preserve this unsolicited our highest ambition; other interests we have none, in this the wealth, the honor, and the glory we seek; in this our heaven, our happiness, our all, and to the enjoyment of these we pray our Heavenly Father to preserve us with all the faithful, in the name of Jesus, Amen.

AMASA LYMAN,
CHARLES C. RICH.

Editor of the News:

Sir—Agreeable to the request of the citizens of Mill Creek, published in the "News" of the 5th inst., calling on the citizens of the different Wards throughout the Territory, to send delegates from each Ward to a general Convention, to be held in G. S. L. City on the 3rd Monday in February, to take into consideration the propriety of fixing on more uniform prices throughout the Territory, on produce, mechanical labor, &c., and recommending the same to the people for their adoption. The delegates met as requested on the day appointed at the State House, from the counties of G. S. Lake, Utah, Davis, Weber, and Tooele, and proceeded to organize, by electing Phineas Richards, Chairman, and Walter Thomson Secretary of said Convention. Whereupon the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

That whereas, we have in Convention assembled for the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of fixing on more uniform prices throughout the Territory than at present exist on produce and mechanical labor, and recommending the same for the adoption of the people, which we believe will be for the better protection of the interest of the farmer, and the future guarantee of the mechanic and laborer in their wages, which will also be for the better interest, general prosperity, growth and development of the resources of the citizens of this Territory that the present prices are; and further, that in so doing we will uphold and sustain the prices that have been established by those who right (we acknowledge) it is to dictate for the good of this people.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the delegates of said Convention, will use our influence and exertions in our Wards and throughout the Territory, in establishing and sustaining the annexed prices that we have adopted in Convention assembled, and would most respectfully recommend to the citizens of these valleys, the same to govern them in all of the dealings and exchanges one with another.

Be it further resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention be signed by the Chairman and Secretary, and presented to the Editor of the "Deseret News," with a request in behalf of the Convention to publish the same.

Be it further resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention in organizing an Agricultural Society, called the "Deseret Agricultural Society," be furnished the Editor of the "News," with a request in behalf of the Society, that he publish the same.

Be it further resolved, that this Convention do now adjourn sine die.

PHINEAS RICHARDS, Chairman.

WALTER THOMSON, Sec'y.

IRON COUNTY.

Elk Horn Springs, Jan. 25, 1853.

(Indian name, Pakwots, signifying cluster of springs.)

Mr. Editor—Dear Sir: On finding that I did not receive the News by the last mail, I thought I would inform you that I ordered my name to be forwarded for the present year, with Henry Lunt's list of subscribers for Cedar City. I thought last year that one subscription (that of my son Sixtus) would do for my family, but being so highly pleased with the valuable matter contained in the News, we have this year concluded to give you three subscriptions, those of my two sons, Sixtus and Nephi, (whose names you have) and also my own, hoping by so doing, to strengthen your hands to do good. The subscription bill shall be arranged according to your direction with the Iron Company.

In regard to other matters, I lay in the first part of the winter, and with a very moderate winter, with but very little snow at a time, and that not often. The weather is now very fine with cool nights, and warm and pleasant days. I am keeping a large herd of cattle, of which, many were driven from the States last summer, and have lost none, with the exception of two or three small calves that were knocked in the head by the milk maid, before they were brought to the herd; (a common malady.) The cattle are thriving and doing first rate. I employ several Peoria Indians to assist in tending the herd and doing chores about the house, which I find as faithful to their trust, as any white man I ever employed. The Peoria are a different race from the Utahs, who are lazy, insolent, and thievish, while many of the Peoria are honest, faithful, and industrious. When employed and fed by the whites, they are a great help to the farmers, for many of them will do as much work as most any white man in a day, and can be hired for their board, and some small present by way of old clothing. I always feed them when they call on me. I have fed as many as twenty or thirty strange Peoria at a time, and afterwards, when I would be away from home and any of them would find me, they would catch me by the hand or arm and give it a hearty shake, exclaiming to their comrades, Kearsu, (the name by which I am known among them) Towich a wino, (very good.) They are a great benefit to me in herding, clearing land, putting in and securing crops, &c.

The Iron works are progressing as fast as could be expected. The brethren have found a plenty of ore within half a mile of the furnace, and expect to put the furnace in blast in a few days, as I am told. The brethren in the new settlements further south, are doing well and in good spirits. I think these settlements are the best calculated to accommodate new settlers of any I have seen in the mountains, for there is no calculating the end of pine timber and water power, neither our firewood and stone coal; and having formed to a considerable extent, for two years past in the valleys, I can say that it is my opinion that their fertility cannot be surpassed in these mountains; and if all the men in Deseret were to make Iron all their lives, the approximation toward the end of our Iron ore could scarce be visible. Then come O' ye farmers, mechanics, and Iron mangers, if any there be in Deseret, who are not located by counsel, and are not counseled otherwise, come to Iron county, for here you can find plenty of soil, water, timber, firewood, potter's clay, plaster paris, stone coal, iron ore, and a variety of other minerals, which are ready and easy to be organized into various useful articles needed, to make yourselves and the inhabitants of Deseret comfortable, independent, and happy. (Poetry not in season.)

Yours as ever,

JOEL H. JOHNSON.

P. S. February 4th. A little cooler, with a little snow last night, scarcely enough to whiten the ground, but very pleasant this morning. Had no snow before the present, for several weeks.

And their kingdom still increase;
Because they to the Printers sent,
The cake, and it was excellent.

DIED.

At Pleasant Grove, Utah County, January 28th, 1853, of Erysipelas, DAVID BENNETT, aged 51 years and 12 days.

In this City, February 11th, MARY M. RHOADS, wife of Thomas Rhoads, aged 38 years. King of men universal, yet unseen;
Uncommon offspring of deep guilt and sin;
A fugitive from hell, thy proper home,
To reign, and triumph over fallen man!

Stern heartless conqueror! thou! that mak'st not e'en Strength, age, sex or circumstance, condition Of reprieve from thy unrelenting grasp!
Perform thy worst; thou scarcely canst out-do This recent act of thine, which to thy crown Will superadd a gem of richest hue;
Since this thine office art delight, to mar By thy most fatal touch, all earthly scenes,
Where peace, love, happiness, domestic bliss Combine, to exalt and elevate the mind,
By near approximation to that heaven,
'Gainst which in open enmity thou stand'st!

A criminal, condemn'd! thy fate fast seal'd! We confess thy pow'r, but defy thee still To pierce our souls with awful fear, for we, With thy foul mother, will no concord hold,
Who stamp fierce terrors in human soul! Already from thy pow'r one half is shorn
By him who holds the power o'er thee and thine! Self-subjected to thy sway, Jesus came.

To show the subjects of a slavish fear How limited thy pow'r!—how over all When thou hast cast a shade, triumphant light Shall pierce the inmost chambers of the dead,
And forth shall come, in robes made pure and white, In their Redeemer's blood, the just and pure,
To chant thy requiem, and to sing His praise Who hath redeem'd them from thy pow'r!

Harp's faint celestial, the glad theme shall swell Of full victory over Satan Sin and Theft! All honor, glory, dominion and pow'r To Father, Son, and Spirit be ascribed!
Through ceaseless ages of unending youth!— Come then, when thou wilt tell terror subdued; Make thee but a passport to that peaceful shore Where once landed, thy dismal, doleful knell No more shall pierce the weary pilgrim's heart—
There tears shall cease and every sigh be hush'd! Oh death! where's thy sting!—Old grave thy victory!

Thanks to him, who hath given us pow'r to reign O'er sin and thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord! G. S. L. City, Feb. 20th 1853.

NOTICE.

IS hereby given to those interested in the Big Kan- yon Creek water set, that a meeting of the proprietors of the same was held on the 26th of February, and the following rules relating the same were adopted.

1. Charles Kennedy was appointed Water-master, with authority to direct repairs to be made, and to direct when each person may use the water for irrigating; he having a general superintendence of the water and ditch.

2. To repair the same, a tax of two days' labor for each five acre lot, and one day's labor for each city lot using water from said ditch was levied, to be laid out, at the call of said Kennedy, on or before the first of April, in default of laboring, two dollars in money was to be paid for each day, by the 1st of April.

3. If any should be in default in performing said labor or paying said money by the time appointed, the water is to be withheld from them.

4. If said tax proves to be insufficient to complete the repairs and keep the same in good order for the present year, then said Kennedy is authorized to lay an additional tax, not exceeding one half of the aforesaid amount.

Said Water-master gives notice that he requires the men to commence work on Tuesday, the 22nd day of March, and continue from day to day until the ditch is fully repaired. A few teams are wanted.
