

EDWARD'S MESSAGE TO THE PRESIDENT

Was One of Good Will and Was Brought by Prince Louis Of Battenberg

WAS A BRILLIANT RECEPTION.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt Were Markedly Cordial and Hearty In Their Welcome.

Washington, Nov. 3.—With great éclat Rear-Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg was received by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The prince was the bearer of a personal message of good will from King Edward to President Roosevelt, and was presented to the president by Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador. The presentation was made the occasion of a brilliant reception.

Tonight the British ambassador and Lady Durand gave a state dinner to their distinguished house guest, followed by a large reception and ball.

Not since Prince Henry of Prussia was a guest of the German ambassador at Washington has a royal visitor been the recipient of greater honors than those with which the British admiral prince has been welcomed to the national capital. Save for the absence of military honors the prince's visit to the capital today has been invested with as much ceremony as that which made memorable the greeting to the Prussian prince several years ago. This has been the busiest day he has spent since he arrived off Annapolis Wednesday.

Shortly after 8 o'clock this morning the prince, with his personal staff and officers of his squadron, repaired aboard the Yankton, tender of the North Atlantic fleet. Half an hour later the Yankton weighed anchor and, flying the pennants of the British and American admirals, started up the harbor. The prince was the life of the party on the trip, and after a chat with his fellow flag officers, joined the junior officers in the wardroom. Capt. Gherardi brought his ship to anchor well up in the harbor of Annapolis about 9:30 o'clock. Admiral Evans' barge was quickly alongside and took the flag officers ashore, the junior officers standing in Capt. Gherardi's launch.

Admiral Sands greeted the prince as the boat landed at Annapolis and escorted the party to the reception tent at the main entrance to the White House. The prince was met by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt, who were waiting at the entrance to the White House. The prince then presented the members of his staff and the commanding officers of his suite.

Both the president and Mrs. Roosevelt were markedly cordial and hearty in their welcome. The president expressed the hope that every moment of the visit of the British admiral in American waters would prove enjoyable to them. The president recalled the generous hospitality with which American naval officers are always received in British ports. The president and the prince then entered into an earnest talk about the various problems of a modern navy. The prince was impressed with the detailed and technical knowledge shown by the president in his discussion of various types of warships. The reception lasted about an hour.

Besides Vice President Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks and the cabinet members and their wives, many notables from army and navy were present. Secy. Bonaparte, who had the reception early and returned to the navy department to assemble the chiefs of the bureaus of the department in his reception room to await the official call of the prince. They were kept waiting for more than an hour. The prince, through a misunderstanding, having returned to the White House. When he finally arrived, accompanied by his personal staff, no

A New Preparation Which Everyone Will Need Sooner or Later.

Almost everybody's digestion is disordered more or less, and the condition that they are in is to take some one of the many so-called blood purifiers, which, in many cases, are merely strong cathartics. They do not cure the disease, but only give a temporary relief. If the organs are in a choked condition, they need only a little help and they will right themselves. The disease that breaks the digestive organs of the stomach and bowels and gives no more harm than good.

Nothing is so important as to put the food in condition to be readily digested and assimilated. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this perfectly. They partly digest what is eaten and give the stomach just the help it needs. They stimulate the secretion and secretion of the digestive fluids and relieve the congested condition of the glands and membranes. They put the whole digestive system in condition to do its work. When that is done you need take no more tablets, unless you eat what does not agree with you. Then take one or two tablets—gives them needed help, and you will have no trouble.

TWITCHING NERVES.

COLD SWEATS, STOMACH TROUBLE AND WEAKNESS.

Caused by Disregard for Health and Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills For Pale People.

Nature punishes every infraction of her laws, and careless habits easily lead to the condition described by Mr. Williams in his book, "The Great Blood Purifier." St. Joseph, Mo. Mr. Brown is an expert tinner in the employ of the National Alkali Co. He gives the following account of a trying experience: "In the spring of 1903," he says, "while I was regularly working at my trade, I grew somewhat careless in my habits of eating and drinking, and finally found that my appetite was failing, a bad taste lingered in my mouth, my nerves were tired and were beyond my control, my kidneys were out of order and cold sweats would break out over my body at odd times. Perhaps, while I stood talking with some one, this trembling of the limbs, and profuse sweating, and a severe chill would seize me. I became alarmed at my condition and, having read an endorsement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I got a box and began to use them. They helped me at once. After I had used one box, the twitching of the nerves and the trouble with the stomach and the cold sweats stopped and have not reappeared, and my appetite is good. I have told all my friends that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me and I recommend them to everybody."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured Mr. Brown because nothing can strengthen the nerves except good rich, red blood—and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually new blood. They do not act on the bowels. They don't bother with more symptoms. They drive from the blood the cause of anemia, indigestion, nervous disorders, general weakness and the troubles of growing girls and women.

Furthermore, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are absolutely guaranteed to be entirely harmless to the most delicate constitution and may be taken without fear. They have cured thousands of cases and if you will write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., stating your trouble, you will receive a frank reply. If the pills will cure you, proof will be furnished if they cure you and to your trouble, you will be honestly told so.

apologized frankly to the secretary and the chiefs of the department, and expressed his keen regret at the incident. His knee was loudly cheered by the employees of the department as he left the building.

Had the weather been clear Sir Mortimer Durand would have taken Prince Louis for a drive over the city, but a drizzling rain set in late in the afternoon and the drive was abandoned, which gave the prince several hours' rest before the elaborate state dinner, at which the prince and Lady Durand entertained in his honor tonight.

Thirty-six guests were up the company at the dinner, which included, besides the prince and the officers of his party and the embassy staff, Secy. Bonaparte, Lieut.-Gen. and Mrs. Chaffee, Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Evans, Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Davis, Rear-Admiral Brownson, Asst. Secy. of State and Mrs. Bacon and Asst. Secy. of War and Mrs. Oliver.

Three hundred additional guests were invited at 10:30 o'clock for the reception and ball. The spacious state apartments of the embassy were elaborately decorated.

Later in the evening the prince led the way to the splendid ballroom of the embassy and opened the ball, with Miss Durand. The brilliant scene in the ball-room has seldom been equaled in Washington.

Tomorrow Prince Louis will be the guest of Lieut.-Gen. Chaffee at an elaborate luncheon. In the afternoon he will witness an exhibition cavalry drill at Fort Meyer, and later attend a reception at the commandant's quarters.

In the evening the prince will be the guest of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt at a state dinner.

GOVERNOR FOLK TALKS ON QUESTION OF GRAFT

Cleveland, O., Nov. 3.—The Central attorney, with a seating capacity of about 5,000, was tonight completely filled with an enthusiastic audience gathered to hear a political address by Gov. Joseph W. Folk of Missouri, in support of the State Democratic ticket. He was introduced by Mayor Johnson and spoke in part as follows:

"A political revival is going on all over the land against grafting. The people of Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo, San Francisco and of Cincinnati are fighting for their cities and to regain the governments they have lost. A wonderful revolution has been wrought in the consciences of mankind in the last four years. We had gotten to a point in this country when patriotism meant little more than a word. A new standard has been established. The remedy for corruption has been found in the hearts of the people. The grafting as a rule does not know good from bad; all he knows is power. But he knows good politics from bad politics.

"When any number of individuals secure a monopoly on some necessity of life and exact from the people more than the natural price, it is a graft, such is the trust. This graft is the outgrowth of the greater graft known as the protective tariff, by which a class is given special privileges where they can prey upon the rest of the people."

"A special privilege is at the bottom of every graft. No one ever heard of a legislator being bribed to give equal rights to all. It is always for the purpose of obtaining some privilege or franchise for a few. To the extent that equal rights can be restored to all and the special privilege of the few taken away, just to that extent will the inducements for corruption be lessened."

VULGAR PHOTOGRAPHS.

Big Plant Discovered and Business Broken Up.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—The largest plant in the United States for the production of vulgar photographs has been discovered in this city, and its business broken up by the police.

The secret service of the postal department has for several years been seeking the place where thousands of obscene pictures come from, and today, with the assistance of the local police, they found it at 173 Milwaukee avenue, and the proprietor, Thomas Collins, was arrested and sent to jail in default of $3,000 bail.

One hundred and twenty thousand obscene photographs and negatives were seized, and just as the place was raided a delivery of 10,000 card mounts for pictures was made by a local house.

Death of Distinguished Architect.

St. Francisco, Nov. 3.—Dazed by an illness which he had crossed the continent to conquer, Louis Theodore Levy, a distinguished French architect, with office in New York, either fell or jumped from a window of a flat on McAllister street, and was crushed to death on the cement sidewalk 40 feet below.

During the summer Levy had been in the city assisting Dr. H. Burnham Berkeley for the beautifying of San Francisco. About two weeks ago, after he had returned to New York, his brother, Henry Levy, received a letter from him stating that he was threatened with a severe illness, and wished to come back to the coast.

Henry made the trip to the eastern city and the two reached San Francisco last night, going to the residence of a distant relative, Lucien Levy, Durand, the evening the architect completed of his condition, which he thought was the result of ptomaine poisoning. He seemed perfectly rational.

This morning his brother was awakened by a cry and a crash. Springing to a window, he saw his brother's body on the sidewalk below. He believes that Louis went to the window for air, lost his balance and fell out.

Louis Levy was a native of France, aged 37 years, a pupil of Beidler, in which he has been artist of Paris, and came to this country as the assistant to I. T. Bernard, who won the Phebe Hearst competition for the University of California plans. He remained at Berkeley nearly a year, and was afterward associated with the department of design at the St. Louis exposition.

LAND FRAUDS IN MINNESOTA.

Court Against Hyde, Benson And Glover.

WERE OBTAINED BY COLLUSION

With Officials of Washington Land Office, Forest Supervisor and Forest Superintendent Being Involved.

St. Paul, Nov. 3.—United States Dist. Atty. Hought today filed complaints in the United States circuit court, in which he brings suit against Frederick A. Hyde, John A. Benson and C. E. Glover to recover 24 tracts of land in Itasca, Cook, St. Louis and Lake counties in Minnesota, which the trio of respondents are alleged to have obtained by fraud and collusion with officials of the Washington land office.

The three defendants named have already been indicted in connection with the Pacific coast land frauds. A number of Minnesotans are named as co-defendants, as having either purchased the land or the stumpage from Hyde, Benson and Glover, or from their agent, C. W. Clarke of San Francisco.

The list of Minnesotans included Frederick Weyerhaeuser, Ackley & Sprague, the Itasca Lumber company, C. A. Smith & Co., Richard Chute, the Lessor Lumber company, the Pelhous for one company, W. R. Hill, T. R. Foley, Thomas W. Irvin, Alger, Smith & Co., and William Sundry, Stillwater.

It is not charged that the Minnesota men made co-defendants were in any way parties to the alleged swindle. They come into the case only because, as innocent purchasers, they now hold land which the government claims.

It is alleged that the principal defendants obtained the land by fraud and collusion with employees of the United States land office in Washington, namely: Woodford E. Harlan, William E. Valla, Benjamin E. Allen, forest superintendent, and Grant E. Torgart, forest supervisor.

The plan under which it is charged in the complaint that the Westerners defrauded or attempted to defraud the government was this: The forest reserve not provided that owners of land taken for the reserve may exchange it for any other equal area of the government domain. The defendants would get western lands at $1.25 an acre, persuade the land office men to include these next to worthless lands within the reserves and then select in lieu of the lands taken Minnesota or other lands bearing timber worth thousands if not millions of dollars.

Either the stumpage or the land, or both, was then sold, and the western men reaping rich harvest, when the United States began its investigation of stone and timber act operations. The government now sues to recover the land, much of which has on it the best timber left in Minnesota.

What Joy They Bring To Every Home

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

After Methodist Heretics.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—The board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church will inform the trustees of the Boston university school of theology on next Monday that the plea of the trustees for the retention of Prof. Hinckley Mitchell in the chair of Old Testament criticism in that school cannot be granted. Evidence of four students and Prof. Mitchell's book, "The World Before Abraham," formed the basis of his condemnation.

It is stated on the best authority that a heresy trial in Prof. Mitchell's conference—that of northern New York—may result now, and it is further said that the logical sequence of the ousting of the Boston higher critics is that Prof. Torrey of the Northwestern university of Evanston, Ill., who has written a book on "The Shortcomings of Jesus," is likely to hear from the board of bishops.
