MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS

NEW AREA FOR TONOPAH MINE

Adjoining Property May Yet Prove to Be Very Valuable.

THE OHIO-TONOPAH MINE.

Former Owners Did Extensive Development Work Without Desired Result.

Recent developments in the West End mine at Tonopah indicate that a new area will be opened up in that camp, and that the property formerly owned by the Ohio-Tonopah company, which did a large amount of work without finding ore, may prove to be a valuable territory.

Discussing the matter the Tonopah Miner says:

"Everything in and about the mine is going along highly satisfactorily to the management, and the big strike of ore recently made in the new shaft is assuming larger proportions as the work goes on. A carload of excellent ore was shipped last Saturday from the strike and about ten tons more of this high-grade rock is on hand. All this ore was taken out during the course of sinking the shaft, without drifting or mining an inch on the vein. A station is now being cut at the bottom of the shaft, which has reached the 400-foot point, and it will delay any further exploration of the immense ore shoot for probably a week. After this work is accomplished, drifting on the vein will be actively pursued and the ore body thoroughly opened up, and from present indications the work should prove this find to be the greatest discovery in the Tonopah district. This means a great deal for the future of Tonopah, as it gives every evidence of the finding of large ore bodies in the western section of the camp. The development work on the 150 foot level west, taken in conjunction with the large vein which the MacNamara Mining company has drifted on to within a short distance of the ground which the West End Consolidated Mining company owns, formerly the Ohio-Tonopah, is, to say the least, highly gratifying to the management, and the West End people are now securing data looking forward to the installing of an electric hoist on the site of the old Ohio shaft, and it is more than likely that active operations will soon begin from that point, as the present indications fully justify this move. A vast territory adjoins these late developments, and there is now good reason to believe that while Tonopah is a camp of wonderful mines, we have an area which is forcing us to a conclusion that we may yet find the largest ore deposits in the new ground to the west. While the new shaft is situated fully 600 feet west of the old one, and is the scene of the late big strike, it will be remembered that in former work on the 400-foot level from the old shaft and fully 200 feet still further west than this last discovery, the face of the drift exposed some very high-grade sulphide ore. These latter workings are within 100 feet of the old Ohio ground, and while the Ohio-Tonopah people performed an immense amount of work, late developments would seem to prove that they were working underneath the ore."

BIG FORENOON RUN.

Only Session of Today Sees Activity on Mining Stock Exchange.

Lively trading was seen on the local mining stock exchange this morning. Perhaps the announcement that no session would be held this afternoon—on account of tomorrow being the Fourth of July—made the brokers get busy and do all they could in the time they had. A record of 67,125 shares changing hands at selling values of $58,028, was made. This shows up considerably higher than yesterday's figures. Quotations and sales on both regular and open boards, follow:

THIS STORY WILL NOT DOWN AT ALL

Mining Officials Talk of Ely but Plead Ignorance on Agreement.

GOSSIP GOES ON MERRILY.

Looks as if Guggenheims Are Mapping Out Big Things in Smelting Way.

American Smelting and Refining officials who have returned from a trip to Ely on which they were accompanied by Rio Grande railroad officials are willing to discuss mining conditions in the White Pine district but when it comes to railroad matters they affirm all they know is what they read in the Salt Lake papers. The A. S. & R. officials who made the trip to Ely via the Western Pacific to Shafter and then down to Ely, included S. W. Eccles, president of the Nevada Northern and vice president of the A. S. & R.; W. S. Morse, a member of the executive committee of the latter company and others in high positions.

ELY PLANT BUSY.

Mr. Eccles was around town all forenoon. Mr. Morse was in his office and discussed mining and smelting matters pertaining to the Steptoe valley plant. This is running to a daily tonnage of about 1,500 tons, approximately a third of the proposed capacity. Furnaces in the smelting portion are being blown in with perfect success, the commencement of activities in this line being marked throughout with great promise for the future.

REPORTS ARE BELIEVED.

This is all good news but when the conversation turns—that is to say, when the interviewer would turn it to railroad matters—nothing is forthcoming. But that the Western Pacific and Nevada Northern agreement is a go is regarded as certain in this city. Those holding the belief base their opinions entirely upon the fact that C. H. Schlacks, vice president of the Rio Grande with A. S. Hughes, traffic manager, and other "way-up" Gould officials met the "way-up" A. S. & R. officials in this city and the whole party went out over the W. P. and down over the N. N., in a special train. And to a majority this reason is regarded as highly reasonable. That it looks like business cannot be disputed.

MEANS BIG THINGS.

Shafter, the point at which the Nevada Northern tracks cross the Western Pacific's is 160 miles west of Salt Lake. From Shafter to Ely on the Nevada Northern is 132 miles; the total distance to Ely from Salt Lake over the two roads, 292 miles. Dame rumor goes further than resting with the agreement story. It is out that eventually the Western Pacific will expend money and time that would have gone on a Shafter-Ely branch, upon an Ely-Ploche extension. The distance between the two latter camps is 90 miles. Then time will see another extension from Ely to the Tonopah center—a distance of 125 miles. The latter district is rich in silicious ores that would work beautifully with the fluxing ores of Ploche. Hence Ely's future is a picture of a great smelting center. The Guggenheims own the Nevada Northern; the Guggenheims are the biggest holders of Ely properties; they own the Steptoe valley plant—the thing unfolds itself most naturally.

CON. MERCUR O. K.

G. H. Dern, manager of the Con. Mercur properties is in the city. He reports the slime plant working in good shape and a good record for June in all ways. Mr. Dern will remain in town for a few days.

BUYS FAIRVIEW STOCKS.

George Wingfield's Activity Creates Interest in San Francisco.

George Wingfield has been buying Fairview stocks in San Francisco, according to a Nevada exchange, and has awakened a considerable interest in that camp, which has been quiescent as regards both its mines and its stocks for several months. In last week's issue of the Review it was announced that the Eagle, which is a Wingfield mine, was shipping ore that breaks $200 a ton.

"With Wingfield a heavy buyer of Fairview Eagle, and other Fairview stocks, such as Golden Boulder, Eagles Nest and Fairview Hailstone coming back into the limelight, the prospect for an active market in the stocks of this district has never been better. The wise ones on Bush street even go so far as to predict that next to Tonopah and Goldfield the district of Fairview will cut the widest swath in the fall market.

"As is well known, George Wingfield and Senator Nixon are both heavily interested in the Nevada Hills, Fairview Eagle and other properties in that section. Lately Georg Wingfield has repeatedly told his friends that Fairview is to be the next district toward which the Goldfield Consolidated people will turn their attention for the development of their mining interests.

"Wingfield has placed an order with two or three of the brokers for several thousand shares of Fairview Eagle. The stock immediately began to jump and went from 48 to 54 before the order was filled and a few hundred shares were sold to buyers for 55 per share.

POLLOCK RETURNS HOME.

President James A. Pollock of the Salt Lake Stock and Mining exchange has returned from a trip to St. Louis and other eastern cities after an absence of several weeks. He reports that business conditions all over the east are very much improved from what they were a few weeks ago.

"The feeling in St. Louis," said he is good, the condition is healthy; it is felt that the recuperative process is under way. I have never before known of a presidential year when politics had so little influence upon business as it has this year. The only 'waiting' that is being done now, so far as I can see, is for assurance of good crops, and in that direction the indications so far as favorable. I look for steady improvement of business conditions from now on."

THE OGDEN SMELTER.

Plant Will Be Placed in Commission Next Week.

The Ogden smelter will be placed in commission early next week. At least, such is the information released from the Junction City office of the Independent Smelting company, which has a lease on the plant.

Manager J. B. Jenson has his forces organized; the necessary changes in equipment have been made; with plenty of ore on hand and sufficient contracts closed up to guarantee a steady supply for an indefinite time, nothing now stands in the way to prevent the smelter from entering upon an era of prosperity. Shipments have been received from mines located in Idaho and Montana.

COMPRESSOR SATISFACTORY.

Management of Boston & Ploche Highly Pleased With Work Now On.

Things are moving smoothly out at the Boston and Ploche at Ploche. A new 100 horsepower compressing plant, started recently, is doing splendid work. Manager C. R. Pembroke who has been in charge of operations since the departure of C. S. Miller for the east, is more than pleased with conditions. The new compressor is furnished motive power by means of a gasoline engine. Word comes in a roundabout way that work is being pushed especially hard in the lower workings, where encouragement is said to be greater as development progresses.

THE BONNIE BRIER.

Late Developments of a Most Satisfactory Character.

Late developments at the Bonnie Brier property in Big Cottonwood canyon have been of a highly gratifying character and nothing would please the management more than to have local shareholders make a personal inspection and see for themselves just what has been accomplished.

Manager Smith Graham is in the city today and reports that the face of the tunnel, which is now in 150 feet, bears every indication of nearing an ore body of consequence. It is related that on the surface is exposed a large fissure which can be easily traced for 6,000 feet, and which is interspersed with numerous small veins containing ore of shipping grade, the values running silver, lead and iron. About 140 sacks of ore have been piled up on the dump ready for shipment. The company owns 12 lode mining claims, which adjoin the Maxfield mine. The president of the company is Robert J. Graham.

CONCENTRATES.

Development is said to be progressing very favorably at the old Flagstaff mine at Alta.

Ed H. Mead has returned from Nevada and has decided to remain here until the cloud of depression, which has settled over the camps of the neighboring state, lifts again. Mr. Mead believes, however, that a change for the better will be brought about by autumn.

The Swansea Extension Mining company has inaugurated an active campaign of development at its Tintic property. A winze is to be sunk from the end of an old 400 foot tunnel.

Fred Whitmore, mill superintendent of the Columbus Consolidated, is down from Alta to remain over the Fourth.

Augustus Reeves, secretary of the Consolidated Mercur Gold mines company, has been under the weather for several days, but expects to be ready for duty again by next Monday.

C. W. Stimson, a cousin of James A. Pollock, has arrived from the east to accept a position with the brokerage house of James A. Pollock & Co.

The annual meeting of the Consolidated Mercur Gold Mines company is scheduled for the 6th inst., at Jersey City, New Jersey. The annual report is usually issued about a month after the meeting is held when it is sent out to shareholders in printed form.

The offices of the Columbus Consolidated and associated companies have been moved to the second floor of the Judge building.

Swansea Consolidated is now called regularly on the mining exchange and inasmuch as this company has absorbed the Swansea and South Swansea companies, the latter have been dropped.

Nevada papers have been making a good deal of capital out of the recent visit of Samuel Newhouse to that state and have endeavored to connect his name with some big enterprises. Friends of Mr. Newhouse here, however, assert that he is not seriously inclined to undertake the responsibility of pushing any Nevada enterprise at this time, unless it is something in Ploche or in districts within close range of Salt Lake.

BUSINESS SMALL SLIGHT CHANGES

New York, July 3.—Only half a dozen of the usually active stocks figured in the opening transactions today and of these none varied more than an eighth from last night's prices.

Stock market fluctuations were not wide enough to call for comment during the first hour's transactions and the dealings were the smallest recorded since the stagnation in the market set in.

Transactions were at long intervals and in only a few stocks. Republic Steel preferred rose 1 and American Smelting preferred 1¼.

Bonds were unsteady.

The volume of trading diminished progressively, reaching only 6,000 shares between 12 and 1 o'clock, making an aggregate for the three hours' business of only 45,000 shares.

U. S. Rubber first preferred advanced a point. Othewise the list was unaltered.

The market closed steady, but without much sign of life. Prices were higher in the final hour, although the movement was trivial. B. & O. was up 2¼ and American Locomotive and Central Leather 2.
