

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 11.

A GOOD MAN GONE.

Elder Robert L. Campbell, a tried veteran of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, died, of typhoid fever, at his residence in the 12th Ward, at about four o'clock this morning.

Brother Campbell was known to nearly everybody in the Territory, as well as thousands outside of it, and he was held in universal esteem by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, as an honest, industrious, useful, upright, trustworthy man. He goes hence, so far as we are aware, with a clear record, after filling the span of life allotted to him here in usefulness to his fellowmen. He had the impression, from the time he was taken sick, that he would not recover, although his friends and relatives who hung around and clung to him were fain to hope otherwise.

Robert Lang Campbell was born at Kilbrachan, Renfrewshire, Scotland, Jan. 21st, 1825. He was baptized at Johnston, Scotland, in 1841. He emigrated to Nauvoo in 1844, and since his first becoming identified with the Church the circumstances of his life have been closely interwoven with its history. From 1850 to 1854 he was on a mission to Europe, when he was instrumental in performing a good work in Scotland. He held many public official positions, both of an ecclesiastical and secular character, and discharged the duties pertaining to them honorably and creditably. His labors in the Historian's office for many years, his operations as Territorial Superintendent of Common Schools, as chief Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Legislature, his connection with and the active part he took in the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society are well known to the public and need not be elaborated upon. He was an indefatigable worker, and it is probable that his excessive labors were upon his constitution, and perhaps hastened the termination of his career. He leaves behind him a large family and circle of friends who mourn his departure.

The funeral services will take place, at the 12th Ward School House, to-morrow, at 2 o'clock. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 13.

Weather.—On Saturday afternoon there were fitful gusts of wind, which raised showers of dust and swept them along the streets. Yesterday it was cloudy at intervals, and light clouds of hail and rain fell heaviest in the afternoon. This morning nearly a couple of inches of snow was on the ground.

Cattle Perishing.—In a letter from Mr. James A. Leishman, dated Logan, Cache Valley, April 10th, he says:

"Winter still remains. Cattle are dying in great numbers, in various parts of the valley. No hay to be bought."

Reward of Peeping.—Last night Mrs. Houghton, 11th Ward, told her husband that somebody was peeping through the window into the room where they were seated. Mr. H. darted out of the door, and, as the peeper was still there, brought him one from the shoulder. He then brought the fellow, who was somewhat under the influence of liquor, to the City Hall. This morning the peeper was fined $10.

Adjourned.—The Board of Directors of the D. A. & M. Society met at the Historian's office on Saturday afternoon, President W. Woodruff presiding, and adjourned the meeting, without attending to any business, from respect to the memory of Director R. L. Campbell, deceased. The members of the Board attended the funeral services of Elder Campbell yesterday afternoon.

Utah Marble.—This morning we saw a specimen of Utah marble, brought from the vicinity of Utah Lake, between Lehi and Provo, by Brother Neglar. Messrs. Morris & Evans have polished it. Notwithstanding that it was merely surface rock, it is quite beautiful, the colors being a mixture of yellow, white, pink and red. The party who brought the piece says that this marble exists in the vicinity named in inexhaustible quantities, within twelve miles of the Utah Southern Railroad. It seems there is almost every desirable facility for a rich country in this region, and that it only requires capital and labor to develop it.

Obsequies of Robert L. Campbell.—The funeral services over the mortal remains of Elder Robt. L. Campbell were held in the 12th Ward meeting room yesterday (Sunday), commencing at 2 p. m. The room was crowded with relatives, friends and acquaintances of the deceased, besides those who were unable to get in and stood outside.

Elder Lorenzo Young delivered the opening prayer and President Joseph Young the closing one. Elder W. Woodruff, President D. H. Wells, and Bishops L. W. Hardy and Thomas Taylor addressed the family and other relatives of the deceased, and the congregation, in fitting terms, upon his life, death and virtues. After the services in the meeting room, the audience filed past the coffin and took a last look at the corpse. Twenty-six carriages followed the remains to the cemetery.

Burglary.—Last night, while Mr. Bond, cleaner and repairer of old clothes, Commercial street, was at meeting, his establishment was broken into and robbed of a quantity of jewelry, a watch, some gold and greenbacks, amounting, in all, to about four hundred and fifty dollars. The thieves, Mr. Bond thinks, got in by the back door, took a hatchet, which was lying in the back room; and with this implement pried open the drawer of a bureau, and abstracted the valuables mentioned. They also stole mining and land papers, which can be made no use of by the burglars.

It is an unfortunate occurrence for Mr. Bond, who says that the robbery leaves him with a dollar and a half, which he happened to have in his pocket.

Virgen City.—A. J. Workman writes of Virgen City, Kane Co., Utah, April 6, as follows—

"The health of the people is good at this place, and we have a good prospect of fruit of all kinds at present. We are all, with the exception of two men, working in the new order, or the order of Enoch, as organized by Prest. Brigham Young. I wish to send you a receipt for destroying caterpillars and other insects that prey upon the leaves of trees, taken from an old book, called the Practical Farmer. It is this—bore a hole in the tree with a gimlet, in depth one-third of the diameter of the tree, fill the hole with flour of sulphur, and plug up the hole with a wooden peg. The sulphur is decomposed and carried into circulation with the sap, and is exhaled by the leaves, poisoning all the caterpillars and other insects preying upon them."

A Young Burglar.—Yesterday afternoon the proprietor of store No. 91, First South street, near the City Market, was passing that establishment, when he heard a noise inside. He peered through the window and saw a boy behind the counter, who proved to be a lad named Jos. Barnard, a deaf and dumb boy, who has been in frequent scrapes of a similar kind before. He had placed all the nickels he could find in the drawer in his pocket. He wanted to decamp, but the storekeeper objected and handed him over to the police. He had on his person a bunch of peculiar looking keys, which appeared to have been made expressly for burglarious purposes.

He was before Justice Clinton this morning for trial, but the matter had to be postponed until his parents or guardians could appear, for, being deaf and dumb, he could not be communicated with by the court.

The Benders.—On Saturday evening Sheriff Foutz and Mr. Farnsworth arrived in this city, bringing with them, from Salt Creek, the man supposed to be young John Bender. The young fellow answered the published description in several particulars, one point where it failed being the complexion, not being of that tawny, leathery appearance said to be peculiar to young Bender. Neither does this young fellow have the facial expression of a decidedly wicked man. However, he was recognized by officers and soldiers of Camp as being Charles Miller, at one time bugler for Major Gordon. Miller, it appears, deserted from Major Wheeler's expedition, in Sanpete, last summer, and has been living in the Territory ever since, having married a young woman in Mount Pleasant.

He was not the young man who worked several days, last Fall, on the Clear Creek Canyon Road. We have reliable information to the effect that the Indians say that that young man is still in the mountains south, and that they don't like his appearance, and are afraid of him. It is probable that, with the aid of the Indians as guides, the young fellow will be captured. It is pretty certain that he is the veritable young Bender. The circumstances of the tracks of the old man having been seen close to his bed at the camp in Clear Creek Canyon, will be remembered. Officers Foutz and Farnsworth purpose hunting him up.

The old man cannot be induced to speak at all now, and appears to want to be let alone. The jailor has heretofore yielded to the importunities of people curious to see the prisoner, but wishes it understood that he will not do so any more, believing that would be an act of cruelty to longer submit Bender to the gaze and questionings of crowds of people, more especially as the old man has said that he wishes to be left alone to rest.

Miller, being a deserter, has been turned over to the Camp Douglas authorities.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 9.—At the expiration of the morning hour the Senate resumed consideration of the bill for the incorporation of railroad companies in the Territories, the pending question being on the motion of Wright to recommit, which Wright withdrew, and moved to strike out the section giving the right of way through the public lands to such railroads, and the authority to take from such lands the material for the construction and maintenance of the road, ground for stations, &c.; agreed to. The bill was further amended by striking out the fourteenth section, which authorizes a corporation organized under the act to acquire, by purchase or gift, any lands in the vicinity of its road or through which the same may pass, and to convey the same in such a manner as directed and prescribed. An amendment granting ten acres of the public lands for every ten miles of road, for station buildings, depots, shops, &c., was adopted.

Clayton moved an amendment requiring every road organized under the act to maintain, at some point on the line of the road, an office, where the books shall be kept open at all times for inspection; agreed to.

WASHINGTON, 10.—At the expiration of the morning hour the Senate resumed the consideration against a head wind, twenty-four hours. When I reached the deck of the Tigress, a number of men were nailing together rough pine wood boxes for receiving the bodies of the unfortunate men who had been killed by the accident. On the day of the explosion the weather was dreadfully cold, with a stiff breeze blowing and a heavy swell. A number of men had gone below after watch, and had turned in on the top of the boiler for the sake of the warmth. Nineteen of the crew were reposing this way when the crash occurred, and some of them were literally shattered beyond recognition. The consternation was fearful. The two engineers on duty at the time were both killed.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 13.—On motion of Packer, chairman of the Post Office committee, the House suspended the rules and took up and passed, by a vote of 178 to 41, a bill for the full exchange of newspapers between publishers, and the free transmission of newspapers by mail within the county of their publication.

AMERICAN.

LITTLE ROCK, 9.—A special from Fulton says that Captain Holloway arrived there to-day from the newly discovered gold mines near the north fork of the Onatchita, en route to St. Louis, to purchase machinery to commence active operations. The mines are situated in the mountains near the Choctaw line, and are richer than at first supposed. The Captain passed through the silver district on his way there, and reports that there was the wildest excitement over recent discoveries. After an examination of the ore and mines he pronounces the former very rich and the latter inexhaustible. The Joplin Mining Company will at once commence the erection of several smelters for working antimony, which is found in the most extensive lodes ever discovered in the world. Miners and adventurers are flocking to the scene.

CHICAGO, 9.—The weather for the past three days has been extremely cold throughout the west and as far south as Little Rock. It is reported that the train which left Vanderbilt's Landing, Staten Island, at seven last evening, was stopped when about two miles out, by a band of Italians, who tore up the track; the particulars of the outrage are not yet received, save that the robbers secured the cash box on the train, but were themselves soon after arrested and are now locked up.

ST. JOHN, 11.—Captain Bartlett, of the whaling steamer Panther, gives the following account of his meeting with the steamer Tigress. On Friday the 3rd inst., the Panther was in long. 51 deg. 15 min. west, lat. 50 deg. 22 min. north, on her return to St. Johns. The steamer was apparently moving only under sail, with her flags at half mast. After signaling her, he says, "I went on board myself, when I discovered her to be the steamer Tigress. The captain and chief officers were on deck. I was then informed that on Thursday, April 2nd, at two in the afternoon the vessel was shaken all over by a terrific explosion of the boiler, which created great terror and confusion, as the escaped steam completely enveloped every compartment below; all the steam facilities were destroyed, and they had then been under sail of the territorial railroad bill. Buckingham's amendment, offered yesterday, forbidding any road crossing an Indian reservation, was agreed to. The bill was then reported to the Senate, and the amendments made in committee of the whole were concurred in.

Wadleigh offered an amendment, providing that Congress may amend or repeal the law, and whenever the territory becomes a state the legislature thereof shall have the same power; agreed to.

An amendment providing that a majority of the persons applying for a road charter shall be residents of the territory, and one providing that the capital stock of any road shall not be less than ten thousand dollars per mile, was adopted, and pending further action, the Senate adjourned until Monday.

The Indians at Spotted Tail refuse absolutely to have their agency removed; they say they are tired of seeing the commissioners, and they have invited the present delegation
