MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS.

TRADING VERY UNSATISFACTORY

Few Stocks Were in Demand and Prices Fluctuated Little.

MAY DAY WAS THE FEATURE

Excellent Condition of the Property Effects the Stock—Week's Business Involved 363,539 Shares $213,835.

Another week's business on the mining exchange was brought to a close by the session this morning. During the week 363,539 shares and $213,835.88 were involved in the transactions as compared with 346,305 shares and $198,392.12 the week previous.

During the past week the mining share market has been adversely affected by the eastern monetary situation and yet a very fair business was recorded. Trading has to a large extent been for professional accounts although many shares of the better class issues have been purchased by outside traders who expect a much better market during the next three months.

Today trading was scattered over a number of issues and was heavy only when May Day was called. That stock traded to the extent of 9,000 shares and was strongly held at figures above 32. The condition of the mine is reported to be very encouraging. Uncle Sam was stronger and Daly traded at lower figures.

The session closed on the following market:

ANOTHER PARK CITY COMPANY

Mayor Thompson Heads Organization—Finely Located Group.

THOMPSON MINING COMPANY

Name of New Corporation—Messrs. Thomas, McCornick, Lynch and Murdock the Other Directors.

The Thompon Mining company, incorporated for $500,000 in $1 shares, and owning 50 acres of finely located property in Park City, has just been launched. Mayor Ezra Thompson is president; A. L. Thomas, vice president, and Messrs. W. S. McCornick, John C. Lynch and James D. Murdock the other directors. Josiah Barnett is treasurer, and A. L. Thomas, Jr., is secretary. The company besides being provided with some means has 100,000 shares of the capital stock in its treasury.

The property, which is the basis of the incorporation, was formerly known as the Rogers-Oldham group, consisting of the Whippoorwill, Mocking Bird, Oldham, Plumed Knight and Harrison fraction claims. These claims are surrounded by the Daly-Judge, Quincy and J. I. C. properties.

The new company will immediately commence development work and tomorrow the entire board of directors will visit the property when a plan for the conduct of operations will be decided upon.

BINGHAM NOTES.

Pine Tree to Resume — Neptune Kempton Has Immense Ore Body.

In its review of the week's operations the Bingham Bulletin has the following:

Next month work is to be resumed on the property of the Pine Tree M. & M. company, situated near head of Keystone Gulch and east from the Winnamuck and Tiewaukee mines, and which has been idle for some time. It consists of a group of several claims. One of the principal stockholders, and and its former manager, is Major F. A. Grant, now on important military duty in the Philippines.

Present developments include an incline 600 feet deep, in which further sinking will now be done. At 450 feet a level was established, from which a winze was sunk that went into 25 feet of ore. A lot of 17 tons was lifted by means of a horse whim, and hauled to cars with difficulty over a poor road. It sold for $222 net. It contained about 8 per cent copper—some specimens assaying as high as 30 per cent.

Speaking of the body of lead ore that has been opened up through the Kempton, an item in these columns stated it had been cut across 90 feet without reaching hanging wall. Over 200 feet of drifting on the shoot has also been done, and crosscuts in two other places have cut across the ore zone 50 and 70 feet respectively.

WEEK'S ORE SHIPMENTS.

Big Utah Camps Were All In Line With Usual Output.

The smelters in this valley were supplied with considerably more than 10,000 tons of ore during the past week. To the Highland Boy and Bingham Con. smelters no less than 4,800 tons of Bingham ores were delivered while the two American plants were in receipt of almost all the Park City, Tintic and Tonopah product. To the great new plant of the United States Mining company over 200 tons of Centennial Eureka ore was consigned.

ORE AND BULLION.

Big Increase Over Last Week's Settlements is Reported.

During this week ore and bullion settlements in this city amounted to $459,800, a very large increase over the settlements during the previous week, which totaled $395,800.

In large increase is attributed to the plentiful supply of extremely rich ores that have found their way from Tintic, Tonopah and Park City.

The Highland Boy and Bingham Con. smelters forwarded to the Perth Amboy refineries bullion valued at quite $120,000, and the above figures are exclusive of that amount.

It is reported that the Highland Boy smelter is operating on nearly 550 tons of ores daily while the Bingham Con. is producing rich bullion at the rate of 800,000 pounds monthly.

Five furnaces at the American Smelting and Refining company's new smelter are in operation with the sixth about ready to blow in. At the fine new plant erected by the United States Mining company everything is being rushed to completion with the expectation of starting up within a few weeks.

BUSINESS NOTES.

The week has been the most active one for a long time past in local stock circles, owing to the closing up of the options on Utah Sugar. The transactions have been numerous both in options and in the stock, and brokers report that the closing quotations are $17 bid. Options sold all the way from $1.50 to $1.75. Practically the entire sugar stocks, especially for the Amalgamated company has been issued, and the full amount of cash, $450,000, received by the treasurer. The demand for all sugar stock, especially for the Amalgamated common, is quite keen, a fact due to the records the factories are now engaged in making. Deseret National reached a new top figure. Other stocks are as quoted below; the bond quotations, of course, carry accrued interest. Some instances have been noted during the week where unscrupulous brokers have required innocent purchasers to pay the accrued interest in addition to the market quotations.

DEALINGS WERE VERY LIGHT.

What Changes There Were Were Small and Chiefly Declines.

WEAKNESS VERY GENERAL

A Slight Rally When Shorts Began to Cover—Closing Was Active And Weak.

New York, Oct. 11.—Dealings were in light volume at the opening and changes were small and mostly declines. Large blocks of Union Pacific and Atchison were offered but the losses were restricted to fractions. Some large selling orders were executed in various stocks and especially Reading, Atchison and Missouri Pacific. Declines in prominent stocks ran from 1 to 2 points. The weakness was very general and there was no indication of support until the shorts commenced to cover. On the rally, Louisville sold about a point above yesterday's close, but the recoveries otherwise were trivial. Lackawanna and New Jersey Central advanced 2 points each. There was a dull, hardening movement until the appearance of the disappointing bank statement produced a slump. Prices gave way by large fractions between transactions in some of the principal sufferers, notably Missouri Pacific, which lost 3⅜, St. Paul 3¼ and Atchison 2⅝. Declines reached 2 or over in Reading, Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, St. Louis-Southwestern pfd., Southern Pacific; Canadian Pacific and Sugar. There were a few feverish rallies on professional short covering, but the closing was active and weak.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK IS ENCOURAGING

This Notwithstanding Some Adverse Factors.

FUEL SHORTAGE CONTINUES

And Money is Tight, but They Do No Check the Uninterrupted Activity.

New York, Oct. 10.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade will say: "Favorable symptoms still predominate and the business outlook is encouraging, despite the adverse factors of labor controversies, fuel shortage and tight money. That these drawbacks have not seriously checked industrial progress testifies to the strong position attained during recent months of uninterupted activity and growing confidence.

"Manufacturing plants dependent upon steam for motive power are finding profits curtailed by the high prices for fuel, and unless normal conditions are soon restored it will be necessary to secure better quotations for products.

"The problem of adequate transportation is also disturbing, as there is already congestion in the coke region. When anthracite coal mining is fully resumed and grain shipments attain expected dimensions the railroads will find great difficulty in meeting all requirements despite vigorous efforts to increase facilities. Railroad earnings in September were 9.6 per cent larger than last year and 2.2 per cent in excess of 1900.

"Dun's index number of commodity prices proportioned to consumption was $100,648 on Oct. 1, an advance of 4.1 per cent compared with the position of Sept. 1. It is certain that all records of pig iron production would be far surpassed if coke could be obtained, even at the exceptionally high prices now prevailing.

"Failures for the week numbered 245 in the United States against 231 last year and 21 in Canada, compared with 34 a year ago."

JAPAN'S PIERPONT MORGAN.

Baron Shibuzawa devoted much time, attention and money to extending the railway system so that it would furnish an artery from the capital to every important city in the main island, or Hondo. The development was rapid in both the government and private systems. In 1890 the government lines were 531 miles in length, and private lines 896 miles, a total of 1,447 miles. In 1900 the government lines had grown to 1,019 miles, and private lines to 2,905 miles, a total of 3,915 miles.

In 1890 the income of the government railway lines was 4,213,804 yen, the profits being 2,212,531 yen; while the private lines had an income of 4,360,478 yen, with profits of 2,793,801 yen. In 1900 the government lines had an income of 15,920,285 yen, with profits of 15,662,242 yen. Baron Shibuzawa is now president of four railway systems.

These are only a few of his great projects that have made or are the history of modern Japan. These enterprises extend over the 35 miles of Meiji—the official designation of the reign of the present emperor—and stretch on into the future, when they will serve as foundations of Japan's commercial empire in Formosa, China and Korea. For to his initiative and tireless persistence is due the construction of the Seoul-Chemulpo and the Seoul-Fusan railways in Korea, and the organization of banking and industrial associations in Formosa, Korea and China.

Perhaps no other organizer has ever been engaged in so many and various enterprises. The lay mind is confused and dazzled by such multiplicity of details. A Japanese admirer has counted and tabulated the organizations and companies of which the baron is either the head or the guiding spirit. They number some 150 concerns, and include every kind of business that Japanese industrial and commercial life has evolved, every manifestation of civic and national interest in the development of the country, and every form of charity and philanthropy.—Review of Reviews.

WON WEALTH AT 75.

Wealth which poor John Breslin of Pittsburg struggled for years to obtain because he knew it was rightly his will come to him soon. He is blind and deaf now, and bent with his seventy-five years, but the joy of soon becoming possibly a millionaire and spending his remaining years in comfort has made him forget his afflictions.

The turn of fortune was brought about by a decision of Judge Buffington of the United States circuit court, in the suit of John H. Brislin and Antonio Vinnac against the Carnegie Steel company, now a part of the United States Steel corporation. The plaintiffs sued for infringement of a patent. Their device is a feeding mechanism for rolling mills, and the table moving both laterally and vertically, which they invented, is in use in every structural mill in the country.

Brislin and Vinnac were rollers and had worked side by side in the steel mills for many years. While they were laboring they thought out the idea of a manipulator which could carry metal from roll to roll. They bent all their energies toward perfecting the device and seven years ago had it patented.

* * *

But their right was contested. Disheartened by this development and because of old age they retired from business, and Vinnac, who had no home, made his residence with the Brislin family. The two old men joined the savings of their lifetime and began a fight to establish the right to their claim. Two years ago, when it seemed that failure was bound to come to them, Vinnac died, some say of a broken heart. Because of Brislin's kindness Vinnac signed over to him his interest in the patent.

A year before this Brislin had become blind and then extremely deaf. Until then he had held a position as janitor of the Bakewell Law building, but on acount of his blindness and defective hearing he was compelled to give up work. All his savings had been exhausted in the fight, and he thought that the struggle for his rights would have to cease, when an old friend, John Wesel, of Madison street, came to his aid financially and stood by him until the fight was won.

A messenger carried the news of victory to Brislin at night. He is in a frail physical condition, but he groped his way downstairs, and his frame shook as he heard the joyful tidings.

"The news is too good to be true," he faltered, and tears coursed down his cheeks. "For years I have fought for my rights and I had given up hope. I have lost every penny I had saved for forty years. I started at my trade at 12 cents a day."—New York World.
