FOR FIRE SUFFERERS.

New York Will Give Benefits For Those of Chicago.

New York, Dec. 31.—The news of the Chicago disaster was followed in New York by the announcement of several benefits for the fire sufferers. S. S. Shubert immediately telegraphed his manager in Chicago to devote the receipts of next Wednesday's matinee of "The Pig" to the sufferers, and announced that the proceeds of Wednesday's matinee of "Winsome Winnie," now here, would be devoted to the same cause. The "Red Feather" company will also give a benefit. A number of other managers are considering similar liberal acts.
Al Hayman, Marcus Klaw and Abram Erlanger, the leading members of the theatrical syndicate who own large interests in the New York Amusement theater until after midnight, eagerly awaiting the telegrams from their Chicago representatives. They were horrified and bewildered by the numerous reports and had little to say as to the causes of the fire.
Klaw and Erlanger own "Mr. Bluebeard." Their representative said it cost $55,000 to produce it there. About 240 people were with the production on the road tour.
At every other theater on Broadway the Chicago disaster was the one subject of conversation among managers, employees and audience.
Actors crowded the wings between the acts, listening to news of the disaster.
The present "Mr. Bluebeard" company began its tour at Pittsburgh Sept. 28.

NEW YEAR ON SCHEDULE TIME.

The Western Union will wire the instant of midnight, tonight from the naval observatory at Washington; also, the instant of 1 a. m., and 2 a. m., the latter time being midnight at this meridian. This is done every year at this time, so that all clocks throughout the country may be set at the exact time. The observatory wires out the daily time every 24 hours, but at 10 o'clock in the morning.

IT MAY SNOW TOMORROW.

The high barometric area that has been hanging over this section for so many days is now moving eastward rapidly, and is being followed by a low area which promises snow. So the weather office is predicting warmer weather for tomorrow, with possible snow. Chicago was the only place on the map yesterday having a minus sign before its temperature record, the register being four degrees below zero. The temperature in this city this morning was 15 degrees above zero.

IN THE COAL CAMPS.

The offices of the Utah Fuel company report today a continued increase in the number of miners, and that the tonnage at Clear Creek has reached once more to its normal figure, while that of Sunnyside is fast increasing and will shortly be where it was before the strike. At Castle Gate it will be some time to recover the normal equilibrium.

Amusements.

At the theater tonight, the grotesque comedy, "Happy Holligan," opens an engagement of two nights with a New Year's matinee.
"Ten Nights in a Bar Room," the play which Henry Ward Beecher said had done more good than 100 temperance sermons, opens an engagement which will run the end of the week, with matinees both tomorrow and Saturday at the Grand.
Lulu Glaser closed her Salt Lake engagement before a second brilliant audience last night.

FUNERAL TOMORROW.

The funeral of Martin Harrow, whose death was announced in last night's "News," will be held in the Fifth ward meetinghouse, tomorrow, Friday, at 12 noon. Friends are invited. Interment will be in the city cemetery.

TROOPS ARE RETURNING.

All of National Guard Will be Home From Coal Fields Next Week.

A company of Nephi returns home tomorrow morning and Gen. Cannon, who is in town today to attend a meeting of the World's Fair commission, says that by Jan. 2 or 3, the rest of the troops can be sent home.

Foreclosure Suit.

Addison Cain has filed a foreclosure suit in the district court against the executor of the estate of Joseph A. Walker, deceased, and Frederick and Harriet Heath to recover $7,245 alleged to be due on a promissory note executed on Dec. 11, 1897.

Sues for Divorce.

Abba L. Heagren today filed suit for divorce in the district court against Edward B. Heagren on the grounds of cruelty and non-support. The complaint alleges that they were married in this city on Dec. 14, 1901, and that for more than a year past defendant has treated plaintiff in a cruel and inhuman manner. He has used vile and abusive language towards her. His abuse has become such that plaintiff feels that it is unsafe for her to live with him longer. During the same period she alleges that he has failed to support her. She asks for a divorce; the restoration of her maiden name, Abba L. Fuller; for all of their household furniture; for $25 per month alimony and $50 as attorney's fees.

Suit for Damages.

Heber J. Bullock this forenoon filed suit in the district court against the American Smelting and Refining company to recover $2,000 damages for personal injuries received by plaintiff on July 30, while employed at defendant's smelter. Plaintiff was operating one of the cars which hauls slag from the smelter and on the date named one of the cars containing hot slag was overturned and severely burned the plaintiff.

Roski Tries to Escape.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—An attempt at escape from the county jail by one of the car barn bandits was discovered by Miller Whitman today. The bars in Roski's cell had been sawed in two and bent away. The saw could not be found. Roski was transferred to another cell and the guard doubled.

MRS. STICKNEY GETS BABY ROSE.

Order Giving it to Children's Aid And Home Finding Association Entered Today.

SAD DISCOVERY IS MADE.

Little Tot's Ear Was Frozen During The Two Night's it Was Alone With Murdered Mother's Corpse.

The morning, Judge C. B. Diehl of the criminal division of the city court, issued an order giving little Elmer Rose, the two-year-old son of murdered Frank Rose, into the custody of Mrs. V. A. Stickney, president of the Children's Aid and Home Finding association. The little one will be cared for by Mrs. Stickney until it is shown that the relatives of either Rose or his murdered wife are qualified to care for it.

A few moments before court convened, Mrs. Stickney appeared with the child at the police station. He toddled about the room examined various articles, and talked to the officers. He appeared to take a great liking to Officer "Jack" Furster, and the latter, with tears in his eyes, hurried over to the Theater drug store, where he purchased a ball and two little picture books for little Elmer. The toys pleased the child greatly, and during the proceedings before Judge Diehl he knitted about the room and "played ball" with Officer Furster.

"Oh! see ball," he cried. Then he proudly exhibited the book to the officers and newspaper men. "Oh, my little toy book," he cried as he looked at the pictures and danced about the room.

"Where's my dolly?" he suddenly asked. "George loves dolly and dolly loves George," he declared. This led Judge Diehl to ask if "Elmer" were the child's name.

When court was opened, Judge Diehl said: "If the child has parents, or if there are any other persons who have a right to take charge of him, they should have been notified at least two days before this hearing."

Assistant County Attorney Dana T. Smith explained that the child's mother was dead, and that his father was now in the county jail awaiting trial on the charge of murdering his wife. In order to prove this, he placed Captain Burdige on the witness stand. The captain testified that the child's father had pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree, and was held to await the action of the district court; also that the child's mother was the murdered woman.

Police Reporter E. C. Penrose of the "News" testified that the murderer, Rose, told him that his child's name was Elmer. Upon this showing, Judge Diehl ordered the child given into the custody of Mrs. Stickney for the present.

"You want the child, do you, Mrs. Stickney?" asked the court. "I do," was the reply.

"And you will take him, and care for him?"

"Yes, I will." Then the order was given.

It was learned this morning that the unfortunate little fellow's right ear is quite badly frost bitten; an injury he suffered during the two days or more he was in the cold room with his mother's dead body. Dr. J. S. Witcher examined the ear this morning and stated that while it was frost bitten the child would suffer no ill effects from it. He is receiving the very best of care and appears to be as happy as a child can be.

Chief of Police Lynch said this morning that he was simply swamped with letters inquiring about the child. Many persons appear to be anxious to take charge of the baby, but now that it has been given into the care of the Home Finding association, the chief expects the deluge of letters to cease.

LATE LOCALS.

Cunnington & Company retires today, from the retail grocery business, after an experience of 27 years.

Enoch Farr of Ogden, the local voluntary weather observer, is in town today, conferring with the office in this city.

Miss Alice Foote is progressing favorably in her music studies at Wilson college, Chambersburg, Pa., and very favorable reports of her work have reached her home in this city.

Today's local bank clearings amounted to $608,831.25. Today, last year, was New Year's day, and a holiday. The total of the month's clearings amounted to $17,245,47.94, as against $19,396,168.53 for December of last year.

The annual holiday dance and party of the Seventeenth ward Sunday school will be given in the ward meetinghouse. Adults dance New Year's eve and children's party New Year's day, beginning at 2 p. m. All are invited.

T. R. Griffiths, aged 41 years, who claims to be an artist, was arrested shortly after 8 o'clock this morning by Officer Emil Johnson on the charge of insanity. According to the man's actions, he is apparently suffering from a severe attack of "snakes." A complaint will be filed against him this afternoon.

The United States land office was crowded today and all the clerks were rushed, taking mineral entries from prospectors and others who wanted them recorded before the end of the year and patented so as to avoid assessments.

Dun's Review for the past week has the following to say about commercial conditions in this city: Retail business has improved with the usual holiday rush, though business is not up to expectations. Jobbing trade generally is quiet, but dealers in certain lines are still quite busy with small holiday orders. Collections continue slow and money, while in fairly satisfactory supply, is in good demand and rates are firm.

NEVADA WANTS A SUGAR FACTORY.

So Says Governor John Sparks Who Arrived in Salt Lake Today.

Talks of Richness of Tonopah and Says Nevada Miners Are Too Intelligent to Strike.

Governor John Sparks of Nevada dropped into town unexpectedly this morning to transact some important business concerning his mining interests. He is accompanied by P. J. Harlod, president of the Harold Live Stock company, which was the purchaser of Governor Sparks' cattle interests when he retired, as he expressed it, from "cow-punching."

The governor is somewhat reticent as to his real business, but talks with the freedom of a press agent about his state and its prosperity. Speaking of general conditions in Nevada, the governor said: "It has recently been demonstrated that in not less than four of our counties we have a great acreage of excellent sugar-beet land. Beets from various sections have been tested and stood the test well. All we need to open up the sugar industry in Nevada is about $1,000,000 capital, and I believe, I hope, at least, that before long somebody with that amount of capital will recognize the opportunity."

"In mining we are going to the front magnificently. Tonopah is an earthly Midas, but the wealth down there cannot be freighted by team. What we need is a railroad, and I am thankful to be able to say we are getting it."

"That line between Tonopah and Soda Wells, a distance of 44 miles, is one enough going to be built by Pennsylvania capitalists."

"Strikes? Well, I should say not. Our union men are old-timers and an intelligent lot; not the kind that fly off the handle the moment a labor agitator appears. They realize the detriment of a strike to the progress of the state, and are perfectly contented. I am quite certain there will be no coal strike in Nevada."

"Reno is booming. The Southern Pacific is spending $1,500,000 for shops there and the people are talking street car lines to grid-iron the valley. The old Camstock mine is in better condition, I understand, than it has been in the past ten years."

"Yes," interjected Mr. Harlod, "and the governor's mine, the celebrated Wedekind, four miles from Reno, is better than ever. The governor is a little shy about his own affairs. Pump him."

It was useless.

GRAND RAPIDS BOODLERS.

State Gets Some Damaging Evidence Against Them.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 30.—J. B. Pantling, proprietor of the Morton house, today gave what the prosecution regards as damaging testimony against William F. McKnight and ex-Senate Senator George R. Nichols, when their examination in the police court on the charge of subornation of perjury was resumed. Pantling testified that during the bribery trial of Lant K. Salsbury, former city attorney, during which the alleged offense was committed, he gave to McKnight the key to a private parlor in the Morton house. The prosecution is endeavoring to show that an attempt was made in the parlor to bribe witness Garman, the state's strongest witness.

The evidence regarding the key was directly contrary to that given at an earlier session of the examination. Pantling stating that he swore falsely previously because of friendship for McKnight. When Pantling took the stand today he said:

"There are changes I desire to make in the testimony that I have already given. I said something on the stand for which I am sorry. I said that I did not give Mr. McKnight a room. I desire to change it. I did give him a room. This is a very humiliating position for me."

"Mr. McKnight did not ask me to testify in his favor. I did it only through friendship for 'Bully.'"

"Nothing was paid for the room. I gave it as a matter of accommodation."

Mortimer Rathbone, manager of the Morton house, changed his testimony also, and stated that he gave the key of the private parlor to Pantling who gave it to McKnight. He declared he had not been asked to give misleading testimony.

A Missionary from Liberia.

London, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Allen of the American-Gospel mission, sailed for New York today from Liverpool on the White Star line steamer Celtic, after four years' work among the Nankroon in Liberia. Just prior to sailing from Liberia, she witnessed severe tribal fighting between the allied inhabitants of the mission house was the center of the first conflict, and Nankroon sought refuge there. Mrs. Allen refused to leave, although advised to do so by the Liberian troops sent from Monrovia to support the coast towns. During the fighting Mrs. Allen was not molested, but she witnessed remarkable scenes of barbarism. There was not actual cannibalism.

It has been learned that Miss Rovelle has been shadowed by unknown parties ever since it became known that she had become an heiress. This strengthens the belief of the family here that she has been kidnapped. Miss Rovelle recently came into possession of the fortune of Mrs. Minerva Binford of Denver, Colo.
