"Our readers will recall our repeated assertions of the decline of Mormon prosciptism in Europe. The facts show that whenever the different gov-ernments have adopted a stringent prohibitory policy, the Mormons have been unable to prosecute their schemes, or so-called missions, suc-cessfully. On the contrary, where they have been left free, they have gained a large following. We sincerely believe that if all nations would follow believe that if all nations would follow the example of Switzerland and Ger-many they would soon extirpate the evil. At present their most prosperous field is in the Scandinavian countries, especially Denmark. Our efforts for the salvation of Utah would be greatly lessened if the annual importation of 2,000 Mormons could be cut off; and this could be largely brought about by sending missionaries to these countries to counteract the influences of Mormon emissaries.

This is an admission that in order to compete with the indefatigable "Mor-mon" missionaries and a live religion and wany other ominous phrases. Some of our papers and indeed public men advocate the introduction of these such as they proclaim, the sectarian great adjuncts of American civilization preachers who make theology a trade Our elections and our politics gener have to be aided by the repressive power of tyrannical governments in their favor.
