OF JOHN R. WALSH

Prosecuting Attorney Dobyns Criticized His Actions in Unmeasured Terms.

TAKING TESTIMONY BEGINS.

Defense's Aftorney Says Will Show That Banker Never Made Any Unjustified Loans.

Chicago, Nov. 11.-The opining state ments of the attorners in the trial of John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, indicted for alleged misuse of the funds of that in stitution, were concluded today and the taking of testimony was commenced.

Asst. Dist. Arry, Dobyns finished his opening statement by the time that court adjourned at moon. In the aftermoon Atty, Edward T. Hitscher outlined the case which the defense will present. He assected that it will be shown during the trial that the Chicago National bank never discounted an unsecured noie; that neither the bank nor Mr. Walsh ever hought a bond that was worthless and that the payments made by Mr. Walsh or by the mark were perfectly proper and in the decourse of business.

Mr. Ritscher declared that the decourse of business.

Mr. Ritscher declared that the decourse of business.

Mr. Ritscher declared that the decourse will show that Mr. Walsh made no unjustified loans, and declared that the question to be decided by the just will narrow down to one of soed faith and housest intent, instead of a drime it will be shown, he said, that instead of Mr. Walsh owing maney to the bank he was neturally its creditor.

Asst. Dist. Atty Dobyns continued his arraignment of John R. Wolsh when the latter's trial was resumed foday, He criticized the artions of the former president of the Chicago National bank in unmeasured terms, and was frequently interrupted by the attorneys for the defense with objections to bis statements.

Judge Anderson in the main sided in his rulings with Mr. Dobyns, insisting that the defense reserve their objections until the assistant district attorney concluded his address with a statement, "I don't see how I can object without interrupting," said Arty, "tynes, who is acting for Mr. Walsh.

"Reserve your objections until Mr. Dodyns has finished his statement of the holdings of the Chicago banks of the bonds of the Southern Indiana railroad. He said:

"The assistant district attorney concluded his address with a statement of the holdings of the Chicago banks of the bonds of the Southern Indiana railroad. He said:

"The transactions of Mr. Walsh banks held $3,900,000. From the banks Mr. Welsh had taken $3,548,000 of these bonds, not one of which could be soid to the public. They were absolutely unmarketable and worthless." epoling statement by the time that court adjourned at moon. In the afternoon Atty. Edward T. Ritscher outlined

Mr. Dodyns declared that the finan-cial operations of Mr. Walsh were kept a secret from the directors of the bank. He added that several of them will take the stand for the trial and testi-ty to that effect.

The financial troubles of the Chicago

The financial troubles of the Calcago Chronicle, a newspaper which was controlled by Mr. Walsh, were disrussed by the speaker. He declared that the Chronicle during its existence ran behind $1,611,104. In one year, he declared, the receipts were $452,765, while the expenditures were $712,716. Large loans, he said, were made to the Chronicle by the hand, and it had once with tcle by the bank, and it had once withaned to anyone. The bank examiner directed that Mr.

The bank examiner directed that Mr. Walsh decrease the amount of the loan. Mr. Walsh, he declared, promised to do this, but never did.

At the conclusion of Mr. Ritscher's statement T. J. Jackson, fornerly casher of the Chicago National bank, was called to the witness aland.

The charter of the Chicago National bank was identified by Mr. Jackson and was offered by the prosecution as evidence of the bank's authority to commence business. Through Mr. Jackson and L. A. Walton, vice president of the Equitable Trust company, who was the pext witness called, the government began identification of books of the three banks which will be used in evidence. This process will occupy the opening hours of tomorrow's session.

HOWARD GOULD'S WIFE.

He Makes Some Very Serious Charges Against Her.

Against Her,

New York, Nov. 14—An affidavit setting forth on information and belief that, prior to her marriage to him, Katherine Clemmons' relations with William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) were criminal and meretricious, was filed in the supreme court today by Howard Gould. The affidavit declares that Miss Clemmons told Mr. Gould that her relations with Cody were purely of a business nature, but that he has since learned that this was not true. Through Katherine Mer of London, England, Gould says he expects to show that his wife confessed to Miss Mer the true nature of her relations with Cody.

The case came up before Justice O'Gorman today on the application of Clarence Shearn, counsel for Mrs. Gould to have vacated an order which Mr. Gould recently got from Justice Fitzgerrid for the examination of Miss Mer as a witness in Mrs. Gould's suit for a secretifier.

Cinchinati, Nov. 14.—The explosion of a 500-gallon copper kettle at the J. Welter company's pickle factory on Spring Grove avenue near Alabama street this morning resulted in the death of two employes. They were Fred Halter and John Lackman, and both were horribly scalded.

The explosion occurred a few minutes after the 250 employes had commenced work for the day. With a roar like the discharge of a large cannon, the huge kettle on the third floor of the factory let go. The men and women and young boys and girls at work on the second and third floors rushed for the suntrivial and escaped,

BRYAN READY TO TAKE NOMINATION

Will Accept One for President but Will Not Ask or Fight For It.

HE DEFINES HIS POSITION.

Is Due the Public and Those Who Prefer Another Candidate To Him.

Lincoln, Neb. Nov. 14.-William J. Bryan will accept the Democratic nominution for provident in 1908, but he will petther ask nor make a light for it. He says that for a year or more he has . been preside to instruct the question, "Will you accept numbration?" and he believes the public is entitled to an anawer and to whose the position he orrus

The question that ought to weigh most, he says, is whether his pointination will strongthen the Democratic party more than the nomination of sone one clee. Not only will be not seed or ask for the nomination, but he will not assume to decide the question of ability and if the prize falls to another he will not there be disappointed nor disgruntled. At the same time, he devices that he has writed this long to a desire to see whom the Republicans are likely to nominate or to ascertain the chances of victory.

Mr. Bryan says. The question that ought to weigh Mr. Bryan sayn.

BRYAN'S STATEMENT.

"Now that the election of 1907 is past and plans are being made for next year's campaign, Mr. Rryan feels that a statement is due to the public. Those who prefer another candidate are enwho prefer another candillate are en-titled to know his position, and those who favor his nomination have a right to demand an answer to the question so often put. Will you accept a non-ination." His refusal to answer the question has led to the circulation of many false. many false reports, and unfriendly newspapers have taken advantage of his silence to misrepresent his atti-

'Mr. Bryan will not ask for or seck "Mr. Bryan will not ask for or seek a nomination and he will not assume to decide the question of his availability. He has been so amply recompensed by his party for what he has done and for what he has endeavored to do that he cannot claim a nomination as a reward; neither should his ambition be considered, for he has had honors enough from his party to satisfy any reasonable ambition. The only question that ought to weigh with the party is whether the party can be strongthis whether the party can be strongth-ened and aided more by his nomination than by the nomination of some one else. If he can serve the party by be-ing its candidate, he will accept the commission and make the best fight he

HIS AVAILABILITY.

"If, however, the choice falls on an other, he will not be disappointed or disgruntied. His availability is a question to be decided not by him, not by a few leaders, not even by the leading newspapers that call themselves Democratic, but by the voters of the party, and to them he extends." and to them he entrusts the decision of the question; they are the supreme court in all matters concerning candidates, as they are in all matters con-cerning the platform.

"He assumes that they will not select him unless they desire to make an ag-gressive fight for the presentation of Democratic principle to present condi-tions, and he also takes at for granted that the organization of the party will be in harmony with the platform and will be composed of men whose political records will invite confidence and give assurance that a victory, if won, will not be a barren victory.

THE REPUBLICANS.

"The Reupblicans must nominate either a reformer, a stand-patter or one whose position on public questions is unknown, and the course of the Demunknown, and the course of the Democratic party should be the same, no matter which element controls the Republican convention. The Democratic party must make its fight for what it believes. While it may take advantage of Republican mistakes, it must depend on its merits for success and not on the error of its opponents.

"The action of the Republican convention may have its influence in the determination of the relative availability of Democratic candidates but it ity of Democratic candidates, but it termining the question whether the one chosen by the Democrats should accept the nomination. If the rank and file of the Democratic party desire Mr. Bryan to make the race, he will make it, no matter who may be the Republican opposite.

No one can estimate the chances of the party in the next campaign with sufficient accuracy to make his candidacy dependent upon the outlook. While Democratis have reason to be encouraged by the fact that Democratic principles have grown in popularity and that Democratic policies are new precised by many who denounced. now praised by many who denounce them a few years ago, and while for them a few years ago, and while further encouragement is to be derived from the fact that the Democratic party is more united than it has been for many years, and the Republican party more divided, still the action of the Democratic party cannot be male dependent on the prospect of success. The prospects now seen excellent, but a Democratic national convention will be held, a platform adopted and candidates nominated, whether the prospects are bright or gloomy, and the party must make the best fight it can, whether it enters the company with fear or with confidence. Democrats be-perts are bright or goodly. And the party must make the best fight it can, whether it enters the comparing with fear or with confidence. Democrats healieve that Democratic principles are necessary; they should, therefore, endurise those principles and present those policies and then select as their caudidates those who in their judgment will give the party the greatest assurance of benefit in case of victory. "If the members of the party believe Mr. Bryan's nomination will help the party, its principles and its policies, he will accept the nomination, whether the indicattions point to defeat or victory. A defeat can bring no disgrace where the cause is a just one, but cowardice would be disgraceful, respecially in one who is an decely indebted to his party as Mr. Bryan is. NEXT CAMPAGEN.

"The next campaign will be an appeal to the public conscience. The investigations have shown not only the corrupt use of large campaign fundated the only source from which they can be drawn, namely, the corporations that seek to convert the government into a business asset. The Democratic party slands for the doctrine of squal rights to all and special grivileges to none, and therefore cannot promise our voters to favor seeking corporations. If it made such promises to the corporations if would be guilty of duplicity, for it would have to betray the voters, as the Expublican party has fone, in order to reward these corporations as the Republican party has rewarded them. The Democratic campaign must The text campaign will be an ap-

CONTRIBUTIONS.

"None should favor Mr. Bryan's commutation unless the party is willing to open its books and show where its contributions come from and for what the money is expended. The Republican party ought to be challenged to conduct its campaign in this open and honest way, and if the Republican leaders refuse to accept the challenge the Democrats can well afford to leave the issue with the public. An appead to conscience is politically expedient as well as morally right, for the conscience is the most potent force with which man deals. The national conscience has already been aroused, and a large majority of the voters have been educated to the necessity of real reform, a reform that will make this government again a government of the people, by the people and for the people. It only remains for the Democratic party to convince the voters that it can be entrusted with the work of reform, and nothing will do more to convince the public than a refusal to negotiate with predatory wealth and an honest appeal by honest methods to the honest sentiment of the country." to the honest sentiment of the coun
