The Post publishes an interview with Luttrell in which some interesting, though somewhat contradictory passages occur. In response to the question, what he thought the effect of the Chinese bill will be? Said, if it be approved, the influence of the Chinese will cease.

Question.—Is that all you asked for?

Answer.—No, what we want is to be rid of the Chinese now here.

Q.—Can the Chinese be landed on Mexican soil and cross the border under the bill?

A.—No, sir. That would be simply an evasion of the law.

Q.—What will be the effect on the democratic party in California.

A.—The organization will be strong.

Q.—How do the workingmen stand?

A.—Favorably to the democrats generally. They have nothing to expect from the record made by the republican party.

Q.—Will the workingmen and democrats unite?

A.—The workingmen will probably nominate men the democrats can support. In that event we will have no ticket.

In response to further questions, Luttrell informed the Post reporter that the democrats and workingmen will control the next legislature and elect a senator to succeed Newton Booth, and that he (Luttrell) had grave doubts whether Mr. Hayes would sign the bill.

The deficiency bill, appropriating two and a half million dollars for items covering 32 printed pages, was passed by the House yesterday under suspension of the rules, without being read except by its title, a thing wholly unprecedented in the history of congressional legislation. It contains nothing for the Pacific Coast, except $4,000 for deficiencies in the legislative expenses of the territories; $6,000 for the expenses of the courts in Utah; $10,000 for the Bannock Indians, Idaho; $35,000 for the Montana Indians, and some small balances due for sea postages on the Australian and China mail steamers.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, 17.

The Times says: The collection of government revenue has given the banks of England such control of the money market that it is not probable that money will be cheaper than at present until after the end of the financial year, April 4th.

Later telegrams from Madiera gives the news from Pietermaritzburg. It is stated that at nine o'clock on the morning of the 27th of January, Lord Chelmsford was then at Maritzburg in conference with Governor Sir Bartle Fere. All was quiet at the front, and the feeling was much calmer. The Zulus have been repulsed from the fort on the Lower Tugela. The report that Lord Chelmsford had retired upon Helpmakaar is unfounded.

Captain Stafford and Lieut. Davies, of the Natal contingent, who escaped from the disaster at Col. Glyn's camp, speak highly of the conduct of all engaged, and the courage and firmness of the native contingent, thus disposing of the report of the mutiny and massacre of officers by the native soldiers.

The Times says: It is probable that a brigade of all arms will be dispatched from India to reinforce Lord Chelmsford. The 57th Foot will leave Colombo, Ceylon, tomorrow, and may be expected at Durban, Natal, on March 19. In the meantime Lord Chelmsford has already been reinforced by one company of the Eighth Regiment from St. Helena, and by 200 men of the second battalion of the Fourth, from Cape Town. This will bring up his infantry force to nearly the same strength that it was prior to the disaster of the 22nd ult.

LIVERPOOL, 17.—The trades' council and laborers delegates, after consultation yesterday, advised the men to accept the master's offer of arbitration.

The strike continues this morning, but the numbers of men at work have increased. Able bodied men from the workhouse are freely employed.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, 17.—The boat race for £400 and the championship of Great Britain, between Higgins and Elliot, on the Tyne, to-day, resulted in a victory for Elliot, who beat Higgins by about three lengths.

LONDON, 18.—The steamship Torrents, which has arrived at Hull, from New York, lost 81 head of cattle and 163 head of sheep on her passage.

The strike of iron and steel founders at Sheffield, has terminated, the men accepting a reduction in their wages.

In the House of Commons, Sir George Campbell, member for Kirkcaldy district, will move, on Tuesday next, that the summary prohibition of the importation of cattle from the United States is calculated to destroy an important trade, and to deprive England of the advantages of cheap meat.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 18.—Measures are being taken to occupy the territory evacuated by the Russians. Orders have been given for seven battalions of Turkish troops to advance from the Tchaldja lines in the direction of Adrianople. A portion of two regiments of the Gen D'Armerie, which are to be ready by the first of March, will likewise be sent into that province. The Gen D'Armerie will be under English and French officers.

The Russian army train was to begin moving from Adrianople towards Bourgas, to-day, February 18.

ST. PETERSBURG, 18.—A strike has occurred in two large cotton mills here for increased pay, diminution of hours of labor, and the dismissal of English foremen. It is believed the movement will spread.

ENGLAND'S DIFFICULTY—CAN WE AVOID IT.

Since the praiseworthy efforts of the Deseret Tanning and Manufacturing Association to supply the home demand for good and durable boots and shoes, several eastern jobbers and manufacturers have been making strenuous exertions to impede the progress of this branch of home industry.

No doubt our friends East do not altogether admire the prospect there is for the large and growing demands of this community being supplied from Utah workshops; they have been used for years past to receive good orders from our merchants and co-operative institutions, and at the prospect of any falling off, their agents are possibly informed to look into this thing, easy orders, endeavoring to cope with them in quality, style and price, is considered perhaps a little presumptuous and in order to place a few more obstacles in the way of home enterprise than there are already, agents from New York, Omaha and Chicago are canvassing Salt Lake City and the principal towns of the Territory, offering goods at lower figures, and on much easier terms than heretofore.

It is true that our eastern friends can boast of machinery and cheap labor, some firms controlling a large number of Penitentiary operatives for a mere nominal sum. In reply to the foregoing we can say that the machinery can be purchased and the prospect for cheap labor is pretty fair provided the Supreme Court decision take good effect here. But we cannot avail ourselves of convict labor at present from the fact that we do not have sufficient criminals in the whom they have obtained such and see if some stop cannot be put to these "Mormons" manufacturing their own leather and making up their own foot wear. They cannot afford to allow the trade of this Territory to slide gradually out of their hands without doing their best to prevent it.

The idea of these Mormons, from Territory, and a full supply is by no means desirable.

Permit us here to mention, that our Salt Lake firm having placed in the market a style of gents' boot that exactly suited the wants of our community (who should know better how to suit them?) a certain eastern house manufactured an article as near like it as possible, and have offered it for sale as the Salt Lake Boot, and further developments are being awaited of a similar nature in copying our women's calf shoes.

These copies are offered at lower figures than the genuine, but upon examination the cause is apparent at once, to any judge of material and workmanship.

Employees should strive to do their level best while the employers are striving to maintain them in their positions, and engage still more labor, and the sensible of our community, who are not a few, will undoubtedly give their support to a business and enterprise that if it does not employ their own relations, it maintains their brethren and sisters who are engaged with them in the same common cause.

Thus we regard support of home enterprise as a safe and sure way to guard ourselves against the present suffering and distress experienced in Old England. PILGRIM. PROVO CITY, Jan., 1879.

Correspondence.

OGDEN CITY,
February 12, 1879.

Editors Deseret News:

Five days from home, your correspondent still finds himself an inmate of the "future capital of Utah." The present week has been one of unusual interest to the Junction city, an election and a murder transpiring on the same day; the former here, the latter at Plain City, both of which events your readers are already acquainted with. The election on Monday passed off very quietly, the returns hugging the registry list very close, and to the honor of the "Mormons" of this city be it said that notwithstanding the differences of opinion at the caucus and the efforts of their enemies to swell the discord of the hour, they listened to the voice of counsel, and, laying aside all private feelings, went to the polls and voted the People's Ticket en masse.

The young man Dudley who killed Henry Wadman, on Monday night, is an inmate of the city jail, pending a hearing, for which there is no immediate prospect. In company with the reporter of the Junction, I interviewed him yesterday. Judge of my horror on entering the cell wherein he was confined, to recognize his face as that of an old schoolmate at the Deseret University several years ago. In person tall and strongly built, of a dark and sallow complexion, though tolerably good looking, young Dudley impresses the observer as being, when sufficiently provoked, a dangerous man to oppose.

He uses few words, is very earnest in manner, and tells his story in a plain, straightforward way. That he is not naturally a quarrelsome nor a bad character, most everybody admits, and that he acted in self-defense, as he asserts, is believed by many. From what I can learn, young Wadman had done much to bring upon his head the terrible retribution that overtook him.

The lecture season is lively in the northern counties. Prof. Owens, phrenologist and mind-reader, has been contributing to its interest and astonishing the natives with his exhibition of mesmeric skill, clever delineations of character and able disquisitions on the infantile, and with some, questionable science of phrenology.

Your correspondent has not had the pleasure of witnessing him in public, but from an extended fire-side conversation is free to admit that the Professor is a gentleman of affability and intelligence. That he has ready wit, whether stereotyped or spontaneous the following will testify. While examining the head of a young boy, noted for his exceedingly mild and affable disposition, the lecturer remarked that the subject was with difficulty aroused, but if driven to extremities, was a dangerous character. He would, it hard pressed, never hesitate to cut and shoot. At this juncture the house exploding at what they deemed an egregious blunder of the Professor's, he dryly added, "he would cut around the corner and shoot for home."

Another, if in a battle and ordered to "strike for his country and his home," would undoubtedly strike for his home in the country.

Mind reading, which is a branch of his profession, Professor Owens claims is based upon the philosophy of impressions, the active mind swaying the passive and unconsciously imparting to its most secret reflections. For instance, the lecturer calling up a subject, tells him to think of any object in the room. He does so, and the scientist, by allowing his own mind to become passive to the other, is immediately impressed with the identity of, and enabled to declare the person's thought.

Those who take this without salt, may think themselves entitled to a niche in the temple of credulity, but the doubting Thomases who are disposed to season it have cause to rejoice that their lot has been cast in a region where that commodity is so plentiful. We reserve our own judgment for another time. EN ROUTE.

Editors Deseret News:

We have had a very open winter, and everything looks promising for an early spring. We have built a good bridge across the Sevier River at this place. Our people are feeling well in the principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, our meetings are well attended, and our worthy Bishop Bro. Jos. S. Black and his counsel are energetic in their endeavors to unite the hearts of the people together. We have a Female Relief Society organized, with Sister Eliza Whicker as President, and Sisters Cinthia and Victoria Black as Counselors. The ladies of this place held a mass meeting, on the 13th of January, to enter protest against the anti-polygamy crusade, and unanimously sustained the proceedings of the general mass meeting held in the Theatre, Salt Lake City. We have also a Y.M.I. Association, with Bro. S. W. Western as President, and L. R. Cropper and Daniel Hunter, Counselors, G. Mills, Secretary, Robert Canham, Treasurer; also a Y. L. I. Association. We have an excellent Sunday School, with about one hundred scholars, and two day schools, well attended. The health of the people is good, and we are feeling well in the principles of the Gospel, there is a great improvement in our young folks, who have a desire to learn of the principles of truth. There is plenty of room for honest workers of the soil, and we invite all such to come and see for themselves.

Your Brother in the Gospel Covenant. JAMES BENNETT.

Editors Deseret News:

Since my last communication there has been much sickness in this place, as well as in the surrounding villages, caused by severe colds; some few deaths have occurred, but at present health begins to generally prevail.

A few days ago, in company with President E. Snow, Judge Macfarlane, and trustees Cox, Whitehead, and Judd, I had the pleasure of again visiting Miss Cook's school, which now numbers some two hundred and fifty pupils; who seem to be making rapid advancement in their studies.

The order and discipline manifested in this school is excellent, and gives much satisfaction to parents, and to all who are interested in the education of our youth; and speaks loudly in praise of the gifted teacher. That success may attend her faithful labors is the desire of all.

The Sunday schools in this Stake are in a fair condition; the members showing a wonderful increase among our people of intelligent, smiling young children, who will yet become a power that will be felt, and who will exercise their gifts for the welfare of this nation by sustaining liberty, when those who prate so loudly about it bring themselves and their countrymen into disgrace by their disregard of constitutional provisions enacted by the early fathers to protect our religious liberties.

The mutual improvement associations are doing well, many young men and maidens showing more than average ability in their speaking and writing, as well as in their moral walk and conversation. Their monthly joint meeting in St. George is largely attended, sometimes the room is not large enough to contain all who come.

In company with Assistant Superintendent A. R. Whitebread, I have visited most of the Sabbath schools and Y. M. M. Associations in this Stake, and in most places they are doing well. The interest in regard to religion, morals and general education is increasing rapidly in this southern country, and none seem more interested in the education of our youth than Apostle Erastus Snow. How this gives the lie to those who prate so much about our leading men striving to keep the people in ignorance!
