

SUMMER SHIRT-WAIST.

Yokes of many shapes are conspicuous on the blouses prepared for the coming season. This waist of white linen has a pointed, tucked yoke, outlined at the lower edge by three rows of point de Venise lace insertion. The body of the blouse in the front is trimmed with vertical insertions of one of the square mesh novelty laces. The full sleeves have three wide tucks between the elbow and wrist. They are finished with cuffs of tucking and point de Venise, which also compose the deep stock.

OGDEN.

The concert given Thursday evening at the Ogden tabernacle by Miss Agatha Berkhoel, Prof. Willard Weihe, on the violin, Prof. Spencer Clawson, Jr., pianist, and the Ogden tabernacle choir, was one of the best musical events of the season. The audience was especially delighted with the numbers rendered by Miss Berkhoel, who has a beautiful soprano voice, of much power. Especially is Miss Berkhoel's voice greatly appreciated in her high register where it is the fullest and richest. The young lady's charming personality adds greatly to her popularity. She will be welcomed in Ogden in the future. Prof. Weihe has always been a favorite in Ogden and Mr. Clawson made an excellent impression Thursday night. He possesses a particularly fine touch and puts true feeling into his rendition. The tabernacle choir, under Prof. Ballantyne did some very good work in their choruses.

Miss Minnie Brown, the popular deputy city recorder, entertained Wednesday evening at her home on Washington avenue. There were present a number of her young friends who enjoyed her hospitality. An old fashioned candy pulling provided much enjoyment for the guests, and music, games, etc., made up the evening's pleasures. Delicious refreshments were served.

SOCIAL GAT.

One of the largest events of the week was the reception given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Talbot and Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Young at the First M. E. church on Thursday night. The parlors were effectively decorated in white and green, ribbon streamers being used with palms and potted plants. There was a delightful program of addresses and music, followed by a most enjoyable social hour, during which refreshments were served. Assisting the guests of honor in receiving were Judge and Mrs. George F. Goodwin, Mrs. Dennis C. Eichner, Miss May Moorehead, Miss Mary Mayne, Alex. Eberhardt, J. C. McClain and Mr. Green.

On Wednesday, Miss Laura Bird entertained at a delightful luncheon, her guests numbering about 15. They were seated at a long oval table, whose centerpiece was a prettily shaded candelabra, while two smaller ones stood at each end. An oval bank of plumosa dotted with white carnations surrounded all. The place cards were Japanese, in heart shape. The guests were Miss Beatrice Macdonald, Miss Eva Thomas, Miss May Billings, Miss Leda Rawlins, Miss Elma Young, Miss Anna Adams, Miss Marge Ellerbeck, Miss Lora Schorge, Miss Daisy Raybould, Miss Mamie Sharp and Miss Bessie Mayne. Miss Bird was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. Joseph Richards, Miss Sinclair and Miss Fannie Bird.

Miss Lucy Lattimer entertained the members of her sewing club on Wednesday at a pleasant Kensington, her guests being Miss Maud Patrick, Miss Verna Young, Mrs. Fay Whitney, Mrs. James Tyler Young, Mrs. John S. Sears, Mrs. Rufus Cobb, Miss Anderson, Miss Grace Cannon and Miss Saville.

Mrs. Byron Cummings was hostess at an unique and enjoyable function on Wednesday, a number of her friends being entertained at the university. The guests were first shown over the different buildings, and afterward enjoyed a luncheon served by the members of the College Women's club. Mrs. Cummings' guests were Mrs. F. D. Blackford, Mrs. John Cain, Mrs. Sol Siegel, Mrs. Gould B. Blackely, Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Mrs. John Montgomery and Mrs. Nathan White.

Mrs. M. B. Sowles was hostess at a delightful afternoon affair on Tuesday given in honor of Mrs. Boreman of Ogden. The rooms were beautifully decorated in American Beauties and carnations, and among the pleasant features were readings by Mrs. John Reed, and vocal selections by Mrs. Alfred Peters. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Peters, Miss Terrell and Miss Sowles.

Mrs. H. C. Edwards entertained the Third Street Card club at her home on Wednesday afternoon.
