to submitting themselves to the pranks EW YORK, April 3 .- This is Eas- of an unfriendly "breeze."

ter Sunday-and the day has been ideal--save for a disagreeable wind that caused many young ladies to express some fear as to the safety of their new bonnets. A number of the Utah colony formed themselves into small groups and visited some of the larger churches, which were all crowded, as Easter is perhaps, made more of in New York than any other city in the country: it affords on excellent opportunity for display of recent creations in the way of festive garments that thoroughbred New York. ers always take pleasure in showing. Easter is therefore greeted with much ceremony, the parade on Fifth avenue being unusually interesting to residents as well as strangers in this city. To day's raw wind, however, hindered the perfection of the fashion show, many of the dress parade brigade being averse

This morning's Telegraph contains three handsome half-tone reproductions of Leona De Armond (Leona Pratt) as she appeared in the title part of "The Little Princess" in Dillingham's production of that name.

Mrs. Nettie Sloan had the honor of singing at one of the monthly con-certs given by the orchestra of the National Conservatory recently. She gave, in a very charming manner, a selection from Mozart's "Marriage de Figaro" and received several compliments, among them being one from Mr. Schultz, the conductor.

Last night at the new hall in Brook-lyn, situated at the corner of Mesole and Manhattan avenues, was given an entertainment that was more than amusing. It was only one of the little gatherings that the Mutual Improve-ment association hold occasionally just to keep up a good feeling of fellow-ship, and if last night's event was any criterion it is safe to say the object for which the committee planned it, was accomplished. A short program was rendered, after which refreshments and dancing were indulged in until mid-night. Those taking part were: Emma
