WANTS UTAH MEN.

Colonel Torrey Writes to Colonel Cannon for Them.

Lieutenant Colonel John Q. Caunon received a letter today from Col. Jay L. Torrey, father of the Rough Rider regiment idea, in the late war with Spain and commander of the men with whom the Troop I boys of Utah served. In his letter the colonel states that he wants fifteen Utah men who are accustomed to farm, irrigation and team work. He says he will give them $3 per month of twenty-six days and board each. Their work will be on his board each. Their work will be on his famous Embar ranch above the Shoshone reservation.

Colonel Torrey also writes that he has been in Washington with a view to securing travel pay for the two hundred and eight Rough Riders of his results when the results of regiment who were on sick furlough when the regiment was mustered out. A bill with this object in view has already passed the Senate and Colonel Torrey is of the opinion that it will soon pass the House also and become a law. KILLING OF OUTLAW KING.

town of Green River on Tuesday last is none other than a fellow named King, who is known to the officers as "Flat Nose George," and who has been wanted for participation in the Union Pacific Express robbery some months ago, and upon whose head there has been a reward of $2,000 dead or alive. Sheriff Preece came up from Thompson's yesterday, after he arrived there with the body of the dead outlaw to secure a gentleman here whom he took back with him last night and who is expected to identity the man, some ten days ago Sheriff Preece received word by messenger from Sheriff Tyler of Grand county that he had a unch of Robbers' Roosters surroundulintah county, and asked that he come to his assistance. Procee went to the vicinity of Fullerton's ranch on Hill creek, where he met Tyler and his deputies, and they proceeded to Mc-l'herson's ranch on Green River; they found tracks which were followed all on his shoulder and a bridle in his hand. He was ordered to throw up his hands by Tyler and his posse of three deputies; instead of doing so King broke and run, seven shots being fired at him. His trail was followed and the at him. His trait was followed and the next day it was found he had constructed a raft and got his horses across the river. Later Sheriff Prece and deputy saw the outlaw across the Green River, when the sheriff ordered him to halt and throw up his hands; response the outlaw fired at the certif, and the latter and his deputy returned the fire. The outlaw ran up the side of the mountain, while the officers emptied their Krag-Jorgensen's at him as he ran. The fellow ascended the hill some distance, and evidently changing his mind started down again and then went back again, making for a huge boulder on the side of the hill and near the top. Tylers' posse heard the firing and came down on the side of the river, where the outlaw was supposed to be in hiding behind the rock, but in reality he was dead. The two posse's were upon opposite sides of the at him, the built from his Krag-Jor-gensen taking effect in the middle of the back, going through the cartridge belt the outlaw wore. The man did not move and Tyler, confident by had hit ols gun was still cocked and across his eft knee. The body was secured, aced on a mule, and after a circulous route of some seventy-five miles, taken into Thompson's. The superintendent of the Union Pacific Express company, Harris, at Cheyenee was notified and he has sent a man to identify the out-law upon whose head there is a reward of $3,000. Sheriff Preece left here last light with a gentleman who is ex-ected to identify the dead outlaw as Flat Nose George" or King. The offi-ers are confident of the identity of the lead man, as he agrees in every partic ar with the description given and now niar with the description given and now in their possession.

The killing occurred about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, The man whom Sheriff Tyler at first thought he had is Tom Dilley, charged with assault with intent to kill and with cattle stealing in Grand county. The dead outlaw had nothing in the shape of papers or letters on his person, but Sheriff Precesbelleves he threw some in the river, as he is confident of seeing something happined."
Fairchild is charged in another in-commanded him to throw up his hands. The killing occurred in the same locality that Butch Cassidy was killed some two years ago.

Price, Utah, April 22.—The picture of Currie, or King, as published in The Tribune this morning, was at once readily recognized by many persons here as a man who was in the country hereabouts some two years ago, representing himself as a cattle-buyer to some, but was known to others in real-ity as a rustler and a man who would bear watching. About that time he and a gang of would-be bad men went from the eastern part of the State to Castle Dale, and there held up a saloon-keeper. George Brandon by name. "Butch" Cassiday was given the credit for the job for a long time. There are many people here who knew him as a petty thief, and when they saw his picture in the Tribune, were surprised that he should ever have attempted as big a piece of work as helping to hold up a rallroad train.

It now develops that after the Union Pacific robbery, according to those here who pretend to know, and who prefer wyoming officers directly after the robbery.

Sheriff Preece is of the opinon that after being chased through the country. Currie came to the vicinity of the Webster City Cattle company's ranges in eastern Utah, and there boined the gang of rustlers who have been creating all kinds of depredations there. He is positive that Will Roberts, Jim Rose, Tom Dilley and one or two other rustlers are in that immediate section, and if there are any more depredations, the officers will go after the gang. Of course, the killing of Currie will have the effect of scaring the others off for a while, and it may be this is the last hile, and it may be this is the last of them.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public who pretend to know, and who prefer that their names be not used. Currie or King went into Montana, and afters ward returned to the section of country where he was killed on Tuesday last. His saddle, or rather, the one he was using at the time of his death, was a very fine one, practically new, and bears the stamp of a Miles City maker. This is taken to indicate that he was one of the men followed there by the Wyoming officers directly after the robbery.
