Former "American" Voter Demands Vice Be Suppressed

Editor Deseret News:
Dear Sir:—In your issue of the 2nd inst. I read an article entitled, "Judge Breedon on the Stockade." As a citizen of Salt Lake City I would like to ask the people if they approve of the remarks of our worthy citizen. If they do they should act at once and demand that this terrible den of infamy and vice be suppressed. The matter should be taken to the courts, and if they perform the judicial functions of their office, which they will not doubt do upon proper application, the people will have no cause for complaint.

It is a terrible spectacle we behold, that of a lot of unfortunate women confined within brick walls, as the actions of degenerate men, so that these men or others of the same kind may live in luxury while the income of their shame. What must be thought of the father who dresses his children in excess of finery on the income derived from shares in this legalized investment company, the Stockade company.

From the facts shown it is evident that some officer has failed to do his duty while the expropriation has been "Belle London," and he has thus been proven a false, untrustworthy and degenerate officer. In my opinion, this Citizen's investment company is more dangerous to this community than any criminal who has been launched into eternity by means of a rope, or who now languishes behind prison bars. If the people comprehend the effect of this hell-hole of vice, and the action of the stockholders of this concern, they will turn their attention from ravishers and murderers to them in future. They can live at ease in a fine home, gorging themselves with food and drink, at the expense of those whose lives they have ruined. Why is this institution allowed to exist? Such monstrous iniquity cannot triumph long, in spite of the efforts of a certain attorney for the defense, who apparently is making a specialty of securing his clients in the red light district. The efforts of such men will prove unavailing. This institution must die an ignominious death and cease to be a blot on our beautiful city.

225 south Fifth East street.
(Mr. Burns, while handing in the above communication, which has been somewhat modified by the editor, declared that he worked with enthusiasm for the victory of the "American" party at the last election but since then he has seen a great light.
He is now going to show that bunch under so deep next election," he declared, "that they will never show their despicable heads again.")

LAKE AT HIGH LEVEL.

Rise of Six-Tenths of a Foot Recorded in Last Two Weeks.

Great Salt Lake is on the boom.
Within the last two weeks the level has risen 6-10 of a foot, or from a level of 4.9 feet above the zero mark for May 15, the lake has risen to 5.5 feet above the line. The record a year ago was 3.9 feet above, so that the lake is now 1.6 feet higher than it was on June 1, 1908. The lake is at present at the same level that it was in June, 1894, when it was on the decline. The rise in the last three years has been 2½ feet.

The tributary streams have been greatly swollen within the last two weeks while the evaporation has been at a minimum, on account of the coolness of the weather. But with the advent of warm weather evaporation will have to be taken into account. The nearest floods are yet to come, so that it is fair to assume the great lake will rise to 6 feet.

CHAMBERS NAMES WARDENS.

Deputies Appointed for Garfield, Caché and Sanpete Counties.

Fred W. Chambers, state fish and game commissioner, appointed yesterday the following wardens: D. W. Evans of Panguitch, for Garfield county;
J. C. Christensen of Mt. Pleasant, for Sanpete county;
S. O. Carlson of Logan, for Caché county.

I. M. Fisher, a deputy in the county treasurer's office, who was tendered the appointment of warden for the second district, which includes Salt Lake, Tooele, Davis, Weber and Utah counties, announced yesterday that he would not take the position. Another appointment will be made Friday.

Mr. Chambers, Brigham Maden and his chief deputy, and E. A. Jacklin, superintendent of the hatchery at Murray, went to Provo this morning to inspect the collecting pond there. Madsen, while in Sevier county recently obtained from the Central Utah Trout company the use of its hatchery which has a capacity of 2,000,000 for this season free of charge. The hatchery will be stocked in the near future and this will add greatly to the output this year.

SYBELLA WHITE CLAYTON

Miss Clayton and the Steinway

Miss Clayton is of the brilliant type of pianists; she has a certain elegance of style and she has a very efficient technical equipment.
With her clean pearly finger work she made the passages stand out very clearly; she produces an excellent tone, and in point of rhythm dynamics and accents she revealed good musicianship.—Musical Courier, New York.

The artist showed herself possessed of a light flowing and charmingly worked out technique, demonstrating that she lacks nothing in the line of the musical gifts.—Berliner Börsen Courier, Berlin, Germany.

Miss Clayton Says:

"I find that perfect interpretation of music composition is only possible with a Steinway Piano. As far as possible, I never use any other instrument for practice or recital work. There's a superabundance about Steinway tones that immediately marks it as a superior instrument in the execution of the lightest or the heaviest passages."

What Miss Clayton says of the Steinway, is also the opinion of all the world's great artists, each one recognizes it as the criterion of piano excellence by which all others are measured.

The public will have a splendid opportunity to judge the Steinway's qualities at Miss Clayton's recital in the Salt Lake Theater tomorrow night.
