The Herald has a letter stating that Col. Hughes, Republican candidate for governor of Virginia, is ineligible, having conveyed a challenge to fight a duel, to Elbert Fowler, Bristol, Tenn., in 1870. The constitution of Virginia provides that no person who knowingly conveys a challenge shall be allowed to vote or hold any office of honor, profit or trust.

It is reported here that a tow of thirty fine canal boats, on the Hudson river, loaded with grain, broke loose early this morning, and twenty-five or thirty were sunk opposite Stony Point, with men, women and children on board.

MEMPHIS, 20.—There was a heavy frost this morning, which had a favorable effect on the fever, but is fearful on the thousands not clothed for winter and made destitute by the succession of calamities the past year. The majority of societies and relief boards are unable to supply applications for assistance. A proposition has been received to take some orphans, but a great many more have yet to be provided for.

WASHINGTON, 20.—The Supreme Court of the U. S., to-day, affirmed the decision of the lower court, in the appeal of the New York Central Railroad from the decision of the circuit court of the southern district of New York, awarding damages to a drover named Lockwood, who received injuries while riding on a drover's pass, with the payment of interest at the usual rates in such cases in New York, sustaining the rulings below, that the contract made by the defendant and the pass issued to him were no impediment in the way of recovering if he was not guilty of neglect in the use of ordinary care and prudence.

The assent of his government having been obtained, Sir Edward Thornton has consented to serve as umpire for the U. S. and Mexican claims commission, and he has signed the requisite declaration in office.

A storm of wind and rain has prevailed here the past twenty-four hours. The only disaster thus far reported in the neighborhood is the wreck on the Low canal boats, on the Hudson, but the loss of life and property is said to be less than at first reported. The telegraph wires are considerably damaged.

The Gazette d'Italia asserts that the financial crisis in America has caused great excitement at the Vatican. It has never been kept a secret that a great part of the money received from Peter's Pence, and part of the private property of the prelates, has been deposited in American banks by Cardinal Antonelli.

NEW HAVEN, 20.—An incendiary fire, to-day, destroyed a building in Westville, occupied by a number of small industries; loss $40,000, insured for $18,000.

The Berlin Deutsche Nachrichten, of the 3rd gives the following official information of the present state of relations between Italy and Germany: A formal basis for an agreement had already been fixed before the visit of the King of Italy to Berlin took place; but an offensive and defensive alliance can only be concluded on a well defined basis, and two military conferences have taken place between Field Marshal Count Von Moltke and Gen. Bertoldi. In the presence of other officers of high rank. This will show pretty nearly the nature of the preliminary negotiations. No definite resolutions have been taken by the two allied governments with reference to the steps eventually to be taken by them.

CHICAGO, 21.—A Washington dispatch says that a bill has been prepared by Minnesota gentlemen for presentation early the coming session, providing for the United States guaranteeing the interest on the bonds of the Northern Pacific R. R. It is claimed by them that they have secured the support of nearly the entire Minnesota and Wisconsin delegations in Congress. A draft of this bill was prepared before the failure of Jay Cooke & Co., and as long ago as July last parties were engaged in the matter, and they have spent the greater part of the summer in perfecting their plans for pushing it through Congress.

The Department of Justice has to-day sent definite instructions to several judicial districts whose expenditures are regarded as unnecessarily great, to reduce them. In several cities the junior assistant attorneys are to be discharged. Those in Boston and Cincinnati have already been designated as those to be dropped.

A monument to Philip Embury, the founder of Methodism in this country, was unveiled yesterday at Cambridge, N. Y., in the presence of a large concourse of people. Bishop Kanes and Simpson and others made addresses.

POTTSVILLE, Penn., 21.—The rain caused much damage here. Minersville bridge on the People's railway was washed away just after the train passed. The furnaces at St. Clair are considerably damaged. On the Philadelphia and Reading railroad several land slides have occurred. At Girardville, two children were drowned by the submerging of a vehicle in which they were driving home with their parents.

Fishhook Puddle and rail mills have suspended, six hundred hands brown out of employment.

SAN FRANCISCO, 21.—James Lick, a wealthy citizen of this place, proposes to the Academy of Sciences to endow an astronomical observatory, to be established at some point on the Sierra Nevada mountains, ten thousand feet above the level of the sea. The plan is taking a definite, tangible shape.

NEW YORK, 21.—The National Life Insurance Company, N. Y., has been placed in the hands of a receiver, at the suit of the stockholders, it appearing from an examination by the State superintendent, shows a deficiency in the Company's reserve fund of $160,000, their assets being stated at $44,000, their liabilities at $173,000.

The freshet along the Oswego and Midland railroad, through Sussex county, is the most severe ever known. Three thousand acres of land are overflowed, in some places covering the tops of the fences. The loss by the accident last night was between twenty-five and thirty thousand. A raft is being constructed to transfer passengers and baggage over the Peconock river, where the accident occurred.

It is stated that not over one hundred thousand will be realized for the benefit of the policy holders of the National Life Insurance Company.

The friends of Col. Hughes deny that he is disqualified for the governorship of Virginia by reason of delivering challenges in the case cited. He acted as mediator, instead of bearing challenge. PEEKSKILL, N. Y., 22.—A strange woman died here suddenly the other day, and was buried hastily. The body has been exhumed, and a medical examination showed that death was caused by malpractice. A man who accompanied the woman is understood to have intended to leave by steamer to-day for Germany, and the New York authorities have been informed. The woman's name was Hern, and she was from Dresden.

Nine canal boats were lost in the storm the other night, involving a loss of $200,000.

It will furnish change to the amount of $62,500. Silver is now paid out to a limited extent in this city. Dr. Linderman, director of the Bureau of the Mint, says silver will be in general circulation as currency on November 1st. MEMPHIS, 22.—City Register Richardson, the oldest citizen, and R. J. Freelen, Secretary of the Board of Health, were among the deaths from fever to-day. There was a steady rain this afternoon, and hopes for the early abatement of the disease have failed. The sudden changes in temperature and warm rains causes more fatal cases than continuous warm weather. One day the report of few new cases leads to hopes to be crushed by the succeeding days' development, owing to sudden changes in the weather and the increased number of victims. There is no safety here yet.

The following circular appears in to-morrow morning's papers:

"Office Howard Association,

"Memphis, October 22.

"To all sympathizing with suffering humanity everywhere. The yellow fever is not abating, and God only knows when it will. New cases appear daily. Over one thousand are now sick. Our funds will not pay expenses for six days. From the sick and dying the cry of distress and suffering comes, great and loud. For their sake send money and relief to procure nurses, stimulants and nourishments. We require more than ever. Send donations to A. D. Longstaff, President Howard Association."

The trial of Captain Clark, of the ship Sunrise, is pending before the United States circuit court. The testimony for the prosecution shows acts of brutality almost incredible. One witness swore that he was tied upon a gallows two days, his toes touching the deck, and was only released long enough to eat a little bread and drink a little water. It is generally believed among the crew that the three men who committed suicide did so because they were driven to desperation by the cruelty of the captain and his mates. One of the crew, Peter Johnson, was beaten and abused until he lost his reason, and he is now almost idiotic.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., 23.—Moses Williams, a young fellow sentenced to the penitentiary a few days since for larceny, claims to be able to solve the mystery surrounding the death of ex-secretary of State Sharon Tyndale, who was murdered in this city in April 1871, and whose murderers have, so far, eluded detection. Williams says there were four men implicated, and he offers to point them out, provided, in case of their conviction, that he receives pardon for his present offence. He claims that, in denouncing them, he also revenges himself upon a gang who helped his last conviction because he knew too much. Williams, although young, is a noted thief, and has heretofore been the chief of a gang infesting this city.
