THE CELEBRATED

Are indicated and prescribed by more leading Physicians than any other tonic or stimulant now in use. They are A SURE PREVENTIVE for Fever and Ague, Intermittents, Biliousness, and all disorders arising from miasmatic causes. They are highly recommended as an anti-dyspeptic, and in cases of indigestion are invaluable as an Appetizer and Recuperant, and in cases of General Debility they have never in a single instance failed in producing the most happy results. They are particularly BENEFICIAL TO FEMALES, strengthening the body, invigorating the mind and giving tone and elasticity to the whole system. The HOME BITTERS are compounded with the greatest care, and no Tonic Stimulant has ever been offered to the public SO PLEASANT TO THE TASTE, and at the same time combining so many remedial agents, indorsed by the medical fraternity as the best known to the Pharmacopoeia. It costs little to give them a fair trial, and Every Family should have a Bottle.

We ask every one to read the following Certificates from many of the most eminent physicians in the country:

ST. LOUIS, July, 1870.—JAMES A. JACKSON & CO.: Gentlemen—As you have communicated to the medical profession the recipe of the "Home Bitters," it cannot but be considered as a secret or patent medicine, no patent having been taken for it. We have examined the formula for making the "Home Bitters," and unhesitatingly say the combination is one of rare excellence, all the articles used in its composition are the best of the class to which they belong, being highly Tonic, Stimulant, Stomachic, Carminative and slightly Laxative. The mode of preparing this article is in accordance with the rules of pharmacy. Having used them, seen its effect in our private practice, we take pleasure in recommending them to all persons desirous of taking Bitters, as being the best Tonic and Stimulant now offered to the public.

L. CH. BOISLINIERE, M.D. ALFRED BEACOCK, M.D. FRANK McDOWELL, M.D. J. C. WHITEHILL, M.D. Dr. C. V. F. LUDWIG, W. A. WILCOX, M.D. U. S. MARINE HOSPITAL, ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 8, 1870.—JAS. A. JACKSON & CO.: I have examined the formula for making the "Home Stomach Bitters," and used them in the Hospital for the last four months. I consider them the most valuable tonic and stimulant now in use. L. MELOHER, ST. LOUIS, July 6, 1870.—JAS. A. JACKSON & CO.: Having examined the formula from which your celebrated "Stomach Bitters" are prepared, and having witnessed the method of combining the different ingredients, we can safely recommend them as the best tonic with which we are acquainted. From the great care with which they are compounded, and from the choice materials which enter into them, we have no doubt that they will prove, as they deserve to be, the most popular tonic and stimulant in use. Respectfully yours, T. J. VASTINE, M.D. T. G. COMSTOCK, M.D.

We cheerfully concur with every word contained in the above testimonial.

JOHN CONZELMAN, M.D. JOHN HARTMAN, M.D. CHAS. VASTINE, M.D. JOHN T. TEMPLE, M.D. G. S. WALKER, M.D. E. C. PRAY, M.D. CINCINNATI, Oct. 19th, 1870.—Messrs. W. B. KENNEDY & Co., Agents "Home Bitters": Gentlemen—Agreeable to your request, I have examined the formula of the "Home Stomach Bitters," and find the remedies it contains such as are in general use by the Medical profession. They are very scientifically and pleasantly combined, and as stimulating tonics will be found especially adapted as corroborative to the treatment of low or debilitated stages of the system, whether arising from impaired digestion, or from malarious diseases. Dr. L. L. VASTIER, R. S. WAYNE, Chemist, W. T. TALIAFERRO, M.D. J. Y. QUINN, M.D. J. H. BUCKLE, M.D. W. R. WOODWARD, M.D. CHICAGO, Sept. 30, 1870.—J. L. SMITH, Esq.: We have examined the formula of the "Celebrated Stomach Bitters," and find it to be composed of articles that are considered the best tonics used by the Medical profession, and one of the best bitters we know of in use. Very respectfully, H. S. HAHN, M.D. B. MCVICAR, M.D. J. B. WALKER, M.D. G. A. MARINER, NORMAN S. BARNES, M.D.

A DREAD MYSTERY.

A Young Lady Disappears from her Home in Sullivan County and is sent Back a Corpse—Is it Another Alice Bowlby Case?

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Feb. 25, 1872.

One dark, cold night, in the middle of December last, as one of Gurnet's coaches, which then transferred passengers and baggage on the Midland Railroad from Wurtsborough, Sullivan county, to Ellenville, Ulster county, was toiling up the Shawangunk Mountain, a carriage containing a man and woman and driven furiously overtook the coach. The driver of the latter was requested to stop, and the lady was transferred hurriedly from the carriage to the coach. The man then bid her good by and drove back as rapidly as he had come. The driver of the coach did not recognize either of the parties, nor did the singular occurrence excite any suspicion on his part. The morning after the above Maurice Royce, a respectable but poor man, living on the Monticello road, about six miles from Wurtsborough, came to the latter place in search of his daughter, a young lady of eighteen years, known the country round for her beauty and grace. She had disappeared, her father said, and her parents neither knew where nor why she had gone. Inquiry was sent in every direction, and a description of the young lady given parties at points where she was likely to appear, but nothing was ever heard from her until a few days since. On Thursday last the son of a neighbor of the Royce's, named Harding, had business in Middletown, Orange county. While strolling about the Erie Railway depot at that place, reading the addresses on the boxes and packages about the express office, he was astonished to see a coffin box, and on it the following address:—

MISS ANNA ROYCE,

Centerville, Sullivan county, N. Y.

Young Harting at once made inquiry at the express office as to where the box had come from, and was informed by the agent that, together with a trunk, bearing the same address, it had been sent from New York.

The box was taken to Wurtsborough, and sent to Mr. Royce. When taken into the house, and before it was placed upon the floor, Mr. Royce exclaimed, "My God! it's Anna!" It was opened, and there, cold in death, the face still beautiful, but bearing unmistakable traces of suffering, lay the form of the missing one. The scene that ensued in the little family is said to have been agonizing to all who beheld it. The mother was almost crazed, and the father, bending over the beautiful wreck, moaned, between his sobs, "My poor Anna! My poor little girl!"

The news of the affair soon spread about the neighborhood and produced the greatest excitement. By the advice of friends the remains of the young lady were buried on Friday, they being placed in the grave as they came in the coffin. They were in a neat casket and decently dressed. On Saturday, however, by order of the Coroner, the body was exhumed, and an investigation is now being made into the mysterious affair.

A hundred different theories are advanced by the gossips of the vicinity as to the secret of Miss Royce's sudden disappearance, and the causes that led to her death. The prevailing idea, although scouted by many, is that it is a second Alice Bowlby case. The circumstances would seem to give some foundation for this opinion. Every effort will be made to ascertain who the parties were that stopped the coach on the night in December, the very night that Miss Royce disappeared. It is believed that developments will be made at the investigation that will reveal the entire mystery.—New York Herald.

NOT A SINGLE FRIEND.—Bishop Foley in a recent lecture at New York, said the Catholic religion had not a single friend among the daily newspapers.

THE SENTIMENT.—Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton hits folly with a barbed dart when she says, "The existing public sentiment on any subject is money." It may be generally, but not altogether here.

OUT OF GEAR.—The New York Tribune says the marriage yoke is out of gear, both in England and America, and needs to be strengthened or broken altogether. How's that for monogamy?

PROTECTION AND PERSECUTION.—A New York paper hits the nail squarely thus—

"The Gentiles oppose a State of Utah, because the Mormons would control it at present, and they want the protection of the general government while they are persecuting the Mormons."
