

MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS

NEW STOCKS ARE LISTED ON 'CHANGE

Boston Consolidated Was Ordered Placed on Blackboard by Listing Committee.

TONOPAH ASSIGNED A PLACE.

Stir in Little Chief—Yesterday's Prices Were Not Maintained Today—Quotations and Sales.

For all the stocks sold during the regular and open board sessions of the mining exchange this week only $26,857.53 was involved. Among the events of interest to the local public was the introduction of stocks which had never been listed. There were two of these—Tonopah and Boston Consolidated. The latter was assigned to a position on the blackboard today by order of the listing committee. For sometime past certain members of the exchange have been endeavoring to secure the listing of several of the leading Tonopah stocks. They have argued that the Salt Lake brokers have lost a great deal of patronage through the failure to get the Tonopah stocks listed; by not being as energetic as they might have been, the business has been allowed to go to San Francisco.

Tonopah—Tonopah stock is held largely in this city and considerable stock in the original Tonopah is also owned here. Another good move was the placing of the Boston Consolidated on the board. Very little of this stock is in circulation, however, and insiders have been picking it up as fast as presented.

A little stir was created in Little Chief yesterday and the stock sold above three cents a share on the strength of a reported strike. The stock was lower today.

The closing quotations and sales today were as follows:

SIGNAL PEAK TUNNEL.

It has been completed to length of 250 feet.—The B. W. & H.

J. H. Nelson and W. C. Dodge of the Signal Peak property were down from the workings Saturday, says the Richfield Reaper. They report the tunnel now in 260 feet, and that a good volume of water has been encountered. The directors are meeting with splendid success in disposing of stock of this company, and enough money has been secured to continue the development work for months to come. It is expected that another 500 feet will have to be run before the first vein is encountered, but the means are now in sight to accomplish this work. The directors are well satisfied with the outlook and will push the work energetically until something is brought to view.

J. H. Wells was down from Joseph Monday. He reports that he is progressing with his work on the B. W. & H. property and has nearly a carload of ore ready for shipment. The ore is now taking out goes about 365 to the ton with trade assays, and he is convinced it will go much better at the smelter.

The vein continues to hold its own in width and values. Mr. Wells had some samples of exceedingly rich ore which had just been struck in the bottom of the shaft.

TONNAGES FROM CAMP OF BINGHAM

Old Reliable District is furnishing 2,600 tons of ore daily to Valley Smelters.

RECORD FOR THE COPPER BELT.

Road smashed all previous ones yesterday—Camp rapidly becoming a rival of Butte.

No mining camp in the west, with possibly the exception of Montana's great copper camp—Butte, can present such scenes of activity as Bingham does now.

The tonnages coming towards the smelters from the various mines of the camp easily averages 2,000 tons daily, and this is being steadily increased, by the end of the year it is predicted the regular output will come close to 4,000 tons per day, and the Copper Belt railroad's traffic, consequently, is steadily growing.

"Yesterday," said General Manager Bly today, "our road broke all previous records, and 28 cars loaded with ore were brought down to lower Bingham from the various mines. This came from the Boston Con., Yampa, Ohio, Utah Copper and the Bingham Consolidated's Commercial mine. The cars carried an average of 45 tons each or approximately 1,230 tons."

"The operating department of the road has everything running smoothly."

In addition to the tonnage coming over the Copper Belt, the Utah Consolidated company's tramway is transporting a little over 500 tons every 24 hours, over the United States thamway fully 400 tons of ore is coming daily; the Dalton and Lark mine, and other miscellaneous properties are contributing enough to make up the balance of the 2,600 tons.

The Dalton and Lark, Sampson and Furtuna mines are producing about 1,600 tons weekly.

Should the run on the ore come up to expectations they have a sale for their property at a good figure. The car will go out in a few days.—Price Advocate.

The ore bins at the new lead smelter of the United States Mining company will be ready for the reception of ore early in July, as the information released by Constructing Engineer G. K. Fischer.
