Miss Olive dances a Sailor's Hornpipe at Mr. Graham's Benefit.

SABBATH MEETINGS.—Pres. Joseph Young addressed the congregation on the right of manhood to select their own associates and sustain themselves in righteousness. He endorsed the teachings given at and the action of the Conference just closed; and expressed his intention of abiding by them in the spirit, and to the letter. He treated on the subject of youth, urging parents to see to the training of their children, and to see that they are of the good they do and say, and to add to them in kindness when they speak or do anything wrong.

After Jacob Gadsden treated on the stability of the Kingdom of God, and the wisdom and the correctness of the position now taken by the saints and their leaders in temporal matters. He never had a doubt of the prosperity of the Kingdom's work, and was satisfied that if the people would faithfully act according to the measures adopted, their prosperity and increase would materially increase.

In the afternoon Elders Erastus Snow and Charles C. Rich addressed the congregation on the principles of the gospel. Their discourses were reported. Elder G. B. Wallace followed in a few brief remarks.

ZION'S CAMP PARTY.—We are indebted to Elder Joseph F. Smith, for the following communication, concerning the Zion's Camp Party. At the Special Hall, on Saturday evening, Oct. 9th, a generous entertainment was given by Elder E. Hunter, and his counselors, L. W. Harty and J. C. Little, to the members of Zion's Camp, their heirs and representatives, the Patriarchs, and some others. At 4 p.m. President B. Young called the company to order, and prayer was offered up by Pres. Geo. A. Smith, after which the company sat down to "one of the best dinners that was ever served in that house," using the words of the best authority on the subject—no tea, coffee, nor pork was offered to the guests.

After dinner there was excellent music, and singing, interspersed with interesting remarks and narrations by Presidents O. Hyde, Joseph Young, Sam. Brigham Young, and George A. Smith, and singing by Elders Geo. Goddard, S. Young, J. Gates and E. Snow.

There were 29 members of Zion's Camp present, among whom was Elder John Dugan, who had not before met with the members of the camp on an occasion of this kind.

Mr. Thomas Colburn, aged 67 years, danced a hornpipe, much more nimbly than many a younger man would have done; and L. F. Coons exhibited an instant and perfect knowledge of his declining years.

At 11 p.m. the camp was dismissed with prayer by Pres. Geo. A. Smith. Thanks were expressed to Bishop Hunter and his counselors, to President B. Young, on behalf of the company, for the excellent entertainment which had been given, which met with a hearty response from the hearts of all present.

Miss J. M. a beautiful recitation, at Mr. Graham's Benefit.

ZOOLOGICAL SURVEY.—The Government geological survey, under charge of Clarence King, Esq., of whose labors we gave some account in our daily of July 15th, has arrived in this city, having finished their labors in the field for this season. Mr. King arrived in the city some days ago, but the main portion of the surveying party, with the escort and attendants, did not arrive till yesterday morning and to-day. There is a geological party, a topographical party, a zoologist, a botanist, a photographer and an artist, in the company. The survey was commenced last year, on the California line, and has been progressing east since. It is now brought to Great Salt Lake and will be taken up at that point next season and continued eastward.

The Drama Polka, by Miss Louise and Miss Rose, at Mr. Graham's Benefit.

[COMMUNICATION.]

To the Public of Salt Lake City and vicinity.—It has been announced that I take a farewell benefit on Thursday evening, Oct. 15th. As many enquiries are being made relative to the cause, permit me to say that, wearied with long and continued labors upon the stage, which have impaired both physical and mental health, it becomes necessary to seek rest in a kindred respect to the Public and personal friends, very respectfully, SARA ALEXANDER, Salt Lake City, Oct. 12, 1898.

FROM TOKER.—We had a visit this morning from Br. John Steel, P. M. of Tokerville, who reports well of that settlement and the people there. Everything is progressing finely and the people are trying to do the best they can. They have taken in 1,000 acres of the bench land contiguous, about 500 acres of which they design sowing in Fall wheat this season. They have also taken in a farm of 100 acres on the Sandy, three miles north-west of Toker, and they will also plant the most of it in Fall wheat. They are now laying out lots on the west side of the creek, extending the town. The grasshoppers visited them three times, devouring the foliage of the apple trees and destroying the lucerne; still the damage was not as serious as was expected, and since their departure in a south-westerly direction, the trees have leaved out again and are in full foliage, the same as in this city. They deposited some eggs on the Lucerne bench, some three miles south-east of Tokerville, but not to any extent. Prospects are good for the coming season.

"A Roland for an Oliver," at Mr. Graham's Benefit.

THEATRICAL.—Mr. Graham presents so unusually attractive an entertainment for his benefit to-morrow night, that apart from his known popularity, it ought to fill the house from orchestra to ceiling. The pieces are new and the variety great. "A Roland for the Oliver," a fine Barrietta, abounding with pathos and humor, leads the bill. It will be followed by "Dram Polka," danced by Miss Louise and Miss Rose; "Little Jim," a recitation by Mr. Graham; a Sailor's Hornpipe by Miss Olive; and the Comedy of "A Roland for an Oliver," in which Mr. Graham will sustain the character of Alfred Highflyer.
