

HE WILL NOT VISIT SALT LAKE CITY

Soc. Cortelyou Says President
Will Make No Side Trips.

THE START FOR WASHINGTON

Will be Saturday if Mrs. McKinley's Health Permits—Journey to be a Leisurely One.

San Francisco, May 24.—Soc. Cortelyou this morning made the following statement concerning the plans of the President:

"The departure for Washington on Saturday morning will depend upon a conference of the physicians relative to Mrs. McKinley's condition. This conference will be held at noon today. If they decide that Mrs. McKinley is fit to travel, the trip will be made, but in rather a leisurely fashion, in order to lessen the strain upon Mrs. McKinley. Two trained nurses who have been in attendance upon Mrs. McKinley will accompany her to Washington."

DECLINES LAST INVITATION.

Effort of Senator Kearns to Get President McKinley to Stop is Futile.

The last effort to induce President McKinley to visit Salt Lake was made yesterday afternoon by Senator Kearns, who forwarded a cordial invitation to the President to make a short stay in Salt Lake, inasmuch as he was going to come so near. Last evening the President received the following reply from Secretary Cortelyou: "Expect to go by way of Ogden tomorrow. We will not be able to make any stops, except for the necessary railroad arrangements. The President requests me to thank you for your kind message."

OLSEN IS DISAPPOINTED.

Expected to Hear His Parents' Voices, but Records Were Broken.

Olaf B. Olsen, an employee of the Bismark saloon, met with a disappointment yesterday afternoon. Olsen's parents, who live in Norway, had written him, saying that they had sent him two phonograph cylinders containing messages from them. Olsen has not seen his parents for twenty years, and the anticipation of hearing their voices again was exciting and he looked eagerly for the records. They came yesterday, but on examination it was found that they were broken and could not be used.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.

Miss Alice Folsom Has a Wild Ride—Stopped by Dr. Plummer.

A good exhibition of nerve and common sense was made yesterday afternoon by Miss Alice Folsom. The opportunity came to her in the way of a runaway in which she figured most conspicuously. Miss Folsom had obtained a team and a rubber tired buggy from a State street livery stable and was driven south, when on reaching Fifth South the animals became very much frightened at something. They veered to the left and dashed along Fifth South at a terrible pace. Miss Folsom used all her strength in keeping her seat, but the horses were so wild that she was unable to do so. She was thrown out of the buggy, and landed in the middle of the street. When the horses reached the corner of Fifth and Main, they turned north, and a light train blocked the way on Fifth South. Miss Folsom remained on the ground, and kept the animals in the middle of the road. They continued their running, but she was showing visible signs of weakening. They were wasting all of their energy and running to no purpose. The young lady had turned the tables on them, and beat them at their own game. When the street reached Dr. Plummer's drug store, Dr. Plummer jumped into the street and seized them by the bits and brought them to a halt.

Miss Folsom was then assisted out of the buggy and into the drug store. The exciting ride had been a hard test to her nerves, but she was soon composed. She was taken to her home in a hack.

THE HOTEL ANGELUS.

That is What the Holmes Hostelry Will be Called at Los Angeles.

Mr. Gus S. Holmes of the Knutsford, who will leave tomorrow for Los Angeles, where his new hotel is nearing its eighth story form. It will be a magnificent structure and it is said will have the finest furnishings of any hotel west of the Mississippi. Speaking of it and the new name chosen for it, the Los Angeles Times, which came to hand today, says:

"The new hostelry at the corner of Spring and Fourth streets is to be called 'Hotel Angelus,' instead of 'The Queen of Southern California Hotel.' Mr. Holmes, the owner telegraphed that a majority of his Southern California correspondents seem to prefer the new name, which is shorter, better and has a local appropriateness. The name first selected was too unwieldy, but the new one will glide easily from the tongue—whether we pronounce the 'g' hard or soft."

VARIOUS COURT CASES.

Susan Humphrey yesterday petitioned the probate court to appoint H. J. Mary Meek, whose death was occasioned last Wednesday by an explosion of gas. The heirs to the property, which is valued at $1,000, are the petitioner and Mrs. Michael, and James Robinson and Mrs. Samuel Carvell of Cleveland, O. The hearing will be on June 7th.

A decree was yesterday afternoon granted by Judge Hall quieting title in Andrew Gebhardt to the Gebhardt property at Commercial and Second South streets. The property was returned to Henry Phipps of Pittsburg, because of an unimportant complaint to bring suit against Martin Harris and twenty-one others. All have defaulted and the court has, therefore,

FREE OF EXPENSE
TO YOU. Also a free sample of Warner's Safe Cure, the great specific for all Kidney, Liver and Urinary diseases. By sending your address to day to Warner's Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y.

declared Gebhardt's title clear, so that the transfer to Phipps may now be made.

Judgment by default was entered yesterday afternoon for plaintiff for $3,817, due on promissory notes in the case of Z. C. M. L. vs. Erastus C. Willardson, D. M. C. Willardson, Ole Olson, A. P. Olson, C. W. Peterson and Canute Peterson.

FOUGHT FIVE OFFICERS.

Young D. O. Calder Made It Lively for That Many Peace Preservers.

It required the combined strength of four stalwart policemen and Detective Sheets besides, to land a fighting drunk in the patrol wagon about 8 o'clock last evening. The individual who put up such a vigorous fight is only 18 years of age and he gave his name as Sam Clark.

Young Calder and a friend were under the influence of liquor and were staggering up East Temple street when Officer Barlow saw them and informed them that they were under arrest. Young Calder couldn't see it that way, however, and immediately closed with the bluecoat. Calder tried to strike the officer and the two fell to the pavement. In the mean time the other fellow had made good his escape. Barlow finally had his hands full, and eye witnesses say that Calder almost threw the policeman through the window of Smith's drug store.

In a few minutes Officers Hilton and Simpson arrived on the scene and took a hand in the fracas. They managed to drag the enraged youth into the street to the police box and the wagon was sent for. Then Calder became more unruly than ever and with a string of oaths declared that he would not ride in the wagon and that there were not enough policemen in the town to put him into it. He suddenly made a break for liberty, and with three officers hanging on him dragged them to the edge of the sidewalk. In a few minutes the patrol arrived and then the real fight began.

Two of the officers seized him by the wrists and the other got hold of his legs, but it was only for a moment. His feet shot out like broken piston rods on a locomotive. He managed to get his hands free and seized hold of the brass rods on the wagon. Hilton pounded his knuckles with his club, but he paid no attention to the blows and doggedly refused to go. After about five minutes' struggle they dragged his head up over the brass railing and Barlow sat on it. But the youth got free again and the crowd roared with delight. The officers could easily have knocked him out, but they were not disposed to be more rough than absolutely necessary. The more they dragged and pulled the stronger the youth became and the louder the crowd yelled.

Finally Detective Sheets and Officer Jim Williams in citizens' clothing made their way through the throng and in less time than it takes to tell it the young man, whose true name is David O. Calder, was doing a sleigh ride on his nose into the lumber yard.

At the police station he became more quiet, and gave his name as Sam Clark. He was locked up on the charge of drunk and resisting an officer. About midnight his parents called at the station and Calder was allowed to go home with them.

ENSIGN GIVEN RECEPTION.

Tabernacle Choir Give Testimonial of Regard to Their Assistant Director.

A very flattering reception was tendered Horace S. Ensign last evening by the Tabernacle choir at the conclusion of its regular rehearsal. Mr. Ensign is the assistant leader of the choir, and is very popular with the singers, who decided to give him a testimonial of their esteem before he departed for Japan next month with Apostle Hober J. Grant and others. The reception consisted principally of music, but the chief feature was the presentation of a purse liberally filled with cash, from the choir to Mr. Ensign. The choir sang "The Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust," and the Hallelujah chorus. Miss Judith Anderson sang "Spirits So Fair," and in response to a warm encore sang the "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore." Prof. Stephens sang a solo of his own composition, and Mr. Ensign rendered, "A Soldier's Dream," and another very pleasing selection. When the purse was presented to him he responded in a feeling manner. He referred to his connection with the choir and the high regard he had for every member. As to his mission in Japan, he expressed the conviction that it would be a source of profit and of pleasure to him.

WITH THE JUSTICES.

Yesterday afternoon Eugene Louvier, a 12-year-old lad, was taken before Justice Dan Smith to answer to the charge of incorrigibility. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Mause of Murray. The court held him to answer to the charge in the district court.

THE TROUBLES AT THE WEST POINT MILITARY ACADEMY.

With the sentencing of several cadets, selected from among the 83 arrested for training a cannon on the house of Superintendent Mills, it is expected that the troubles at West Point will be either ended or reach a climax. The cadets are very bitter against Colonel Mills and other officers of the academy. It is said that the students have formed a large secret organization whose members have sworn to "get even" with the officials.

FIERCE CONTEST

IS LOOKED FOR.

Rival Teams Will Meet at the League Tomorrow.

The eyes of the baseball enthusiasts of Salt Lake and Ogden are focused on tomorrow's game between the Salt Lakes and Lobsters. Both aggregations have been making extra efforts in preparing for tomorrow's battle and it is sure to be hotly contested. The defeat of Gimlin's crowd by the Railways last Saturday and the Parkites on Sunday, has caused them to realize that they have not a monopoly on baseball.

SALT LAKES VS LOBSTERS.

Both Aggregations Have Practiced Hard for the Game—Lobby Will Pitch for the Visitors.

The eyes of the baseball enthusiasts of Salt Lake and Ogden are focused on tomorrow's game between the Salt Lakes and Lobsters. Both aggregations have been making extra efforts in preparing for tomorrow's battle and it is sure to be hotly contested. The defeat of Gimlin's crowd by the Railways last Saturday and the Parkites on Sunday, has caused them to realize that they have not a monopoly on baseball. Capt. Dud Risley's boys have been working like beavers this week and have improved wonderfully. They feel confident of winning and their admirers are backing them with coin in abundance. Following will be the line-up of the visiting team:

Hansford, pitcher; Hausen, catcher; Casey, second base; Clark, first base; Gimlin, center field; McGregor, left field; Bluth, third base; Plake, short stop; Moser, right field. Borchers, substitute.

The line-up of the Salt Lakes will be thus:

Risley P. Barr 2 B. Morrow L. F. McCausland 1 B. Webster S. S. Hale R. F. Williams 3 B. McQuaid Center. N. Margets C. Hawley, sub.

This will be the first game in which Risley is slated to pitch this season. "Uncle Dud" fooled the Lobsters plenty last season and he expects to do so tomorrow.

BASEBALL AT LAGOON.

Teams from the Macabees and Eagles Are to Play.

One of the best amateur ball games of the season is scheduled to take place at Lagoon on Decoration day between teams composed of members of the K. O. T. M. No. 2, and the Fraternal order of Eagles. The management of each team has posted a forfeit of $5 to play the game, and it promises to be a good one. The Macabees team is but lately organized, but from all accounts they are a swift bunch of players.

BROKERS AND CURBERS.

Arrangements for Their Annual Game—Will Play June 6th.

The Brokers and Curbers have about completed arrangements for their annual game to be played June 6th at the league park, and it is expected to be something awful. Here is the line up as it stands at the present time:

Curbers. Brokers.

Nightingale (Capt.) c. Guthrie Land. . . . . Sheets

Sears . . . . . 2b. . . . . Joseph (Capt.)

Weller . . . . . 3b. . . . . E. C. Coffin

Campbell . . . . . 1b. . . . . E. W. Griffiths

Woolley . . . . . s.s. . . . . Ham Coffin

Hudson . . . . . c. . . . . Jones

Al Shorten . . . . . c. . . . . A. Campbell

Van Mulck . . . . . sub . . . . . Farnsworth

Burt Cripps . . . . . sub . . . . . Greene

Beville in Boston.

An exchange has the following to say about big Ben Beville, who jumped his contract with the Railways, and which team by the way has had good luck since it happened.

"Clarence Beville, a twirler, who was with Butte Mont., last season, has joined the Boston American League team. Stallings got Beville for Detroit, but didn't have any room for him and turned him over to Colles. He is showing up splendidly in practice and Boston critics expect him to 'make good' when sent to the firing line."

L. D. S. vs Regals.

On the University diamond this afternoon the L. D. S. team and Regals are deciding which is the better ball team.

Rifle Club Shoot.

Members of the Salt Lake Rifle club met yesterday afternoon for a practice shoot. Following are the scores made:

PUZZLED THE SCIENTIST.

Among the guests at a Washington dinner once were present Mr. Everts and an eminent scientist. Late in the evening Everts suddenly attracted the general attention by saying to the scientist: "Professor, I should like to ask you a question—why is it that the liquid at the bottom of a bottle is more intoxicating than the liquor at the top?"

The scientist, all unconscious of the fun lurking in the question, replied: "Well, I never had my attention called to that fact. Are you sure that it is a fact?"

"Yes," replied Everts, with a perfectly grave face. While the rest of the company broke into a roar of laughter, "I know men who have frequently found by actual experience that it is so," Chicago News.

THE PROPER COURSE.

An appeal for an award for damages against the Chicago City Railway company has been made on the ground that the judge slumbered during the hearing of the case. Justice Adams voiced the ruling of the appellate court as follows: "The trial occupied eight or nine days and may have been conducted in such a manner as to exhaust almost any one compelled to listen to it, as was the presiding judge. If the judge was asleep, as certified, counsel must have known it, and knowing it they should have suspended the examination of the witness then testifying until the judge awoke."—"Inter-Ocean," Chicago.

DIAGNOSIS BY TELEPHONE.

A young mother was alarmed in the dead of night by certain croup symptoms in her one and only infant. She thereupon promptly rang up the doctor. The doctor, who knew young mothers with one infant, attempted in vain to minimize the gravity of the symptoms; maternal instinct insisted upon his nearer presence, and he was grumbling an assent when a happy idea struck him. "Hold up the baby to the telephone," he shouted, "and make it cough." The infant was obliged to cough to do so. "No croup there," said the doctor. "I'll be round first thing tomorrow."—"The Onlooker."

Mother's Friend

Every woman in the country ought to know about

These who do ever about it wonder how they ever got along without it. It has robbed childbirth of its terrors for many a young wife. It has preserved her girlish figure and saved her much suffering. It is an external liniment and carries with it therefore, absolutely no danger of upsetting the system as drugs taken internally are apt to do. It is to be rubbed into the abdomen to soften and strengthen the muscles which are to bear the strain. This means much less pain. It also prevents morning sickness and all of the other discomforts of pregnancy.

A druggist of Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it."

A prominent lady of Lamberton, Ark., writes: "With my last six children I was in labor from 24 to 30 hours. After using Mother's Friend, my seventh was born in 4 hours."
