

FARMERS STILL FILING PETITIONS.

Latest Move is to Ask State Board
Of Health to Investigate Smoke Belt.

WILL DEMAND A REDUCED TAX.

Property Owners Declare They Are Forced to Continue the Case Despite Efforts of the Smelters.

The action of the residents of Salt Lake valley is filing a petition signed by 800 men to the board of county commissioners Monday, was followed yesterday afternoon by a second petition aimed against the smelter smoke, and signed by nearly twice as many people as signed the first petition. It was presented to the state board of health, and requests an investigation on its part, under the statutes requiring it to investigate reported unsanitary and unhealthful conditions.

The full petition is as follows:
To the State Board of Health:

The undersigned, your petitioners, respectfully represent:

We are residents, property holders and taxpayers of Salt Lake county and State of Utah.
The smelters located near the center of the county operated by the American Smelting and Refining company, the Utah Consolidated Mining company, the Bingham Consolidated Mining and Smelting company, and the Bingham Copper and Gold Mining company, as at present conducted, are injurious to health, offensive to the senses, and not only interfere with the comfortable enjoyment, but are destructive of both life and property.

They are nuisances injurious to the public health and, in a high degree, detrimental to the welfare of the people. The gases and fumes sent forth by these smelters in immense and increasing volumes, diffuse through the atmosphere, and finally condensed and deposited upon the soil and vegetation, are freighted with such poisonous ingredients as arsenic, antimony, sulphur, dioxide, carbon dioxide and other deleterious elements.

The cumulative effect of inhaling the air thus polluted, according to the opinion of competent physicians, is productive of sickness, disease and death. Many domestic animals have died from this cause. These smelters are fast causing the desolation of our gardens and fields and rendering our homes unsafe and unfit for habitation.

Our situation has become intolerable and it is imperative necessary that these nuisances be abated.
As your honorable body is charged by the law with the duty of making "sanitary investigations and inquiries respecting the causes of disease," including those of domestic animals, the sanitary condition and effects of localities, employments and circumstances in the public health," we respectfully request that you take such action in regard to these smelters with a view to their abatement as nuisances, and that the public health and safety may be protected.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

O. P. Miller of the citizens' committee was seen today in regard to the attitude and future intentions of the organized farmers and property holders in the smoke belt.

In answer to the question: "What will your committee do now in view of the fact that it is apparent that the smelters are working on the problem and intend to affect its solution, if possible," he said: "As far as the committee is concerned, there is only one thing to do, and that is to take the matter to the courts and let them decide what is to be done, and see if the smelters shall continue to ruin our homes without redress. Salt Lake county has been enveloped in a dense cloud of smoke for the past six weeks, and the volume of fumes that has been thrown out by these plants is simply appalling. If this condition continues to exist our trees will look like dried mullet stalks and the valley will be bare of vegetation. Real estate and the city's prosperity is bound to suffer, as well as that of our country farms."

"It is a grave and serious question, as anyone can learn by spending a few days on the farms in the vicinity of the plants. Men of limited means whose horses drop down in the pastures, cannot carry their protest to the courts, and so must suffer their losses." "It is a problem in which the State board of health should interest itself, for the health of the people in this smoke belt is in jeopardy, and the state law should be brought to bear on these conditions that are dangerous to life and health."

WANT TAXES REDUCED.

"Another thing we must do, as a committee is to ask for a heavy reduction in assessments for taxes on land where the crops were ruined this year by the smoke. This year many farms brought a yield of almost nothing, and to force out of these land holders the payment of the usual tax would force them to vacate their homes in many cases, besides being eminently unjust to them."

"Yes, sir, we have got to continue this matter. We are going to continue it, and we propose to ask that the court order the smelters to close until such time as they can open with the problem solved and their poisoned fumes so controlled that they do not lay waste the homes of the inhabitants throughout the country. There are only three possibilities ahead. One is to control the smoke, the other is to close the smelters, and the last is to abandon the homes of the miles of acreage lying within the affected district, and turn the country over to the smelters intact."

"Which alternative it will be, we propose to let the courts decide, and we are going ahead, realizing that if we cannot accomplish one of the first two, we must accept the third."

HOW DISEASE SPREADS.

Reuben Kirkham, Suffering from Smallpox, Takes In the City.

Another smallpox patient surprised the employees of the city health department this morning by walking into the office and inquiring whether or not he was afflicted with the disease. The man's name is Reuben Kirkham, and he resides at 2538 south Seventh East street. He has been employed at the Rio Grande shops and was at work yesterday and wanted to work today, but his brother-in-law induced him to lay off and come into the city to find out whether or not he really had the disease.

Kirkham came to the city early this morning on a Calder's Park car and tried to find County Physician Mayo,

Peculiar To Itself

Hood's Sarsaparilla

No other medicine acts like it; no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

"I was troubled with scrofula and came near losing my eyesight. For four months I could not see to do anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could see to walk, and when I had taken eight bottles I could see as well as ever." STEVE A. HARRIS, Withers, N. C.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

but was unable to locate him. After wandering around the streets for about an hour he decided to go to the health office to have some one there diagnose his case.

He arrived at the health office shortly before 10 o'clock and Sanitary Inspector Korth waited upon him and after looking at his face and examining him for about an hour he decided to go to the health office to have some one there diagnose his case. The county physician's office was then notified and the case passed up to that official.

An effort is being made to find out which car Kirkham came in on, so that it could be fumigated. The man certainly had every opportunity of exposing any number of people on the car, and also in his wanderings around the streets looking for Dr. Mayo, and it is not improbable that the health department will hear of several other cases of the disease resulting from Kirkham's actions.

JOHN NICHOLSON ILL.

Could Not Appear to Give Testimony In Smoot Case.

John Nicholson is ill in Washington, and could not appear to give his testimony when called for by the senate committee. While this fact has given rise to a local impression in certain quarters that he remained away at the advice of his attorney, the fact is that for some time previous to his departure for Washington Mr. Nicholson was in poor health, and a break down was feared by his friends here, when he left at the summons of the committee. No word has been received today as to Mr. Nicholson's condition and it is feared that his illness may be of a serious nature.

SUIT WENT ASTRAY.

Story of Good Work Done by P. O. Inspector Sharp.

An interesting story is told in local postoffice circles of how a package went astray in this state, was afterwards traced up and recovered; and illustrates incidentally how easy mistakes are made, even among the best regulated families.

A package containing a suit of corduroy clothes, a bunch of dyspepsia tablets and a roll of ribbon, was recently mailed in the ordinary way from a Chicago house to John Lynn of Lynne, Weber county, Utah. Through carelessness in routing, the package landed finally at Lyman, Wayne county, Utah. There was no such person "known to the oldest resident" in Lyman; and the postmistress was "up a stump" to know what to do. As it happened, there was a local citizen named Ames who said that he had ordered just such a suit of clothes, and the package was no doubt intended for him. The heedless postmistress let Ames have the suit, dyspepsia tablets and all, and he immediately put the clothes on.

In the ordinary course of things, there was an inquiry from the Chicago consignor, as to the possible or impossible whereabouts of that package. That indefatigable sleuth of the post-office department, Inspector F. C. Sharp, traced the trail of the lost package to Lyman, and found that Mr. Ames was the "proud possessor" of the same. The postmistress was notified to recover the value of the goods from Ames, but was informed that he was a poor man from whom such a collection was likely to be made about the time the cost came home. The postmistress was then informed that it was up to her to settle for damages. However, the Chicago firm said that if the suit of clothes could be recovered, they would not quibble about the dyspepsia tablets, or the ribbon. So Ames was made to give up the suit, which was not much worse as he had "kept them for best," and the postmistress escaped having to pay the bill.

NEW TRIAL FOR O. S. L.

Condemnation of Right-of-Way Case to Come Up Again.

Judge Stewart today granted the motion of plaintiff for a new trial in the case of the Oregon Short Line railroad company against John Halling, Effie Halling, E. C. Farrell, Joseph Turner and Henry Turner, and set aside the judgment rendered in the case on Sept. 23, 1904. The action was brought to condemn a right of way over property belonging to defendants. The jury assessed the damages sustained by defendants because of such condemnation at $1,400. Plaintiff moved for a new trial on the ground that the evidence was insufficient and the verdict was against the law. The motion was granted and a new trial will be had of the case.

CONSOLIDATION OF 36 DISTRICTS.

The consolidation of the 36 school districts of the county outside the city into only two districts will again be considered by the board of county commissioners at the meeting late this afternoon. For many months past the consolidation has been agitated and considered not only by County Supt. of Schools Ashton and the commissioners, but also by the residents of the county districts in mass meetings.

When the matter was first considered by Supt. Ashton and the commissioners it was the intention to consolidate into eight districts. This plan met with some opposition from the trustees who stated that if there was going to be a consolidation they would rather have only two districts. The commissioners and the superintendent then commenced to consider the two-district plan and have communicated with and secured expressions from nearly all of the trustees on that plan.

Under the proposed plan the county will be divided into a northern and southern district, the dividing line passing east and west near Murray. The northern district will take in the Highland Boy smelter and the American Smelting and Refining company's plant and the southern district will take in the smelters at Bingham Junction and other valuable property at Bingham canyon.

One district will be known as the Granite school district and will be composed of Districts 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

It is claimed by the consolidation the tax for school purposes can be more equitably distributed, and that it will also be more favorable for the establishment of high schools. It is proposed to make the consolidation and then petition the coming Legislature to change the law so as create county districts of the first class which shall be on the same basis as school districts in cities of the second class. There will be only six trustees if the plan is adopted, three for each district.

It is believed that the commissioners will adopt the proposed plan as it is known that two of them are in favor of it, namely, Chairman Anderson and Commissioner Wilson. Commissioner Standish is opposed to it for the simple reason that he thinks the Legislature should act on the matter first. He contends that there is no telling what law the Legislature may pass in regard to the matter and the commissioners might have to rescind their action entirely if the matter is put through now.

Duty on Philippine Products.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Senator Foraker gave notice in the senate that he would not press his amendment reducing the duty on Philippine products coming into the United States. This was done because of complaint that the amendment took unfair advantage of senators who supposed only the government bill was to be voted upon when an agreement was made to take a vote on the 16th instant.

Admission fee of duty of all articles which are the product and growth of the Philippine islands except tobacco and sugar, is provided for in an amendment proposed by Senator Foraker to the act providing for the administration of the affairs of the civil government of the Philippine islands now before the senate. The proposed amendment fixes the duty on sugar and tobacco at only 25 per cent of the Dingley rates. It is provided also that all duties shall be paid into the treasury of the Philippine government to be expended for the benefit of the islands. The present duty is 75 per cent of the Dingley rates.

There is some speculation in local military circles as to whether the military duck hunt of yesterday, was a detail under general or special orders from department headquarters, and whether "this trial is necessary for the public service." The detail registers scored 30 alone, and the quartermaster "kindly furnished" orderlies to hold the game, while the marksmen sloshed around in the swamps in rubber boots reaching to their ears.

The uncertain condition of east South Temple street is causing great inconvenience and some danger to heavy teams that have to deliver goods on the north side of the street. A heavy wagon from the People's Forwarding company had to deliver a consignment at the northeast corner of A and South Temple streets the other day, and to reach the locality it was necessary to drive up First Street hill, and then descend the very heavy and rocky grade of A street southwards. The result was the overturning of the outfit, horses and all, and the breaking of the wagon. It is said the company will sue the city for damages.

DAILY GRAIN LETTER.

Messrs. Logan-Bryan of Chicago telegraph wheat local correspondents, Messrs. A. Pollock & Co. over their private wire, on the grain and provision situation, as follows:

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Wheat—The rally in the market today and strong closing was only natural to expect from an over sold market. What had been under pressure for four days and while the decline is not serious it was large enough to shake out many weak accounts and invite short selling. The general situation in the market remains unchanged and it is fair to assume that the rally in the wheat will be for sale at a higher level. Trade is narrow and mostly professional and easily gets over bought or over sold. Sentiment of trade generally is still very bearish.

Corn—Liquidation in the December option was the cause of the market option today. The rally at the close came from short covering. The general impression in the trade is that in addition to the contract stuff received the dryers would be in a position to make free deliveries before the option expires. The May option held very firm
