

DESERET EVENING NEWS.
Friday, September 15, 1893.
LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.
CORRESPONDENTS writing for publication are requested to write on one side of the paper only. No notice can be taken of anonymous communications. Correspondents' names must in every instance accompany their communications, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of reliability.
THEATRICAL.—Last night the Scotch play of "Jeanie Deans" was presented, preceded by the farce "Smiths and Browns." The fearful state of the weather as the people were assembling for the performance, deterred many from going, but the audience was larger than could have been expected. The play was very good, we understand, though we did not see it. The management have wisely concluded to repeat the play on Saturday night on the occasion of her last appearance and the last night of her engagement. The cast is a most admirable one. The very laughable farce of "Mr. and Mrs. Peter White" completes the programme.
SUSPECT ITEMS.—Bro. George Farnsworth, writing from Mount Pleasant, Sanpete, says: "President O. Hyde visited us yesterday and preached a very excellent discourse to us. Such preaching has a tendency to strengthen the faith of the Saints. You who live at headquarters, I fancy, cannot appreciate the teachings of our leaders as much as we do who live in the country where we so seldom see them and hear them set forth the pure principles of the gospel. Our Bishop, W. S. Seelye, has been confined to his house for a few days, in consequence of a heart ailment caused by lifting some heavy stones of cedar wood. I hope he will soon be able to attend to his business again. I think from appearances that most of our people intend to spend a few days with quite a number of teams for the railway."
PRESIDENT YOUNG and party left Provo at 10:30 this morning and reached Springville at 12:30, where meeting was held, which was addressed by Presidents D. H. Wells and Joseph Young and Elder W. Woodruff. At 12:45 the party started for Spanish Fork where they will reach tonight and will proceed to Payson tomorrow.
MONK RAIN.—There was a summer shower mostly before noon, of brief duration—nice "chubbs" of rounded liquid, in the shape of drops as large as marbles. It was mixed with some hail from the size of small shot to large walnuts.
MAN DROWNED.—Judge J. C. Wright, of Brigham City writes an account of the melancholy drowning of Frederick Poleson. He started on Friday week on horseback, from Provo, River City, to hunt stock in Willis H. Booth's herd, West of Malad river. In attempting to cross the river himself and horse were both drowned, as was ascertained by the tracks of the horse made by going down the river bank and no signs of his going out on the other side. A diligent search was made for the body without any results, but on the 14th the horse and body were seen together, floating down the river a few miles below the junction of the Malad and Bear river. The person who saw the body was on foot and alone and not being a good swimmer did not dare venture into the river. It is said by those who knew Bro. Poleson, that he was a good man and lived and died a faithful Latter-day Saint.
INFORMATION WANTED.—Bro. John Kelly, of Fillmore, wishes to learn the whereabouts of, and to communicate with, AUGUSTUS GREEN, a native of Finland, who formerly was a member of Cedar Valley Ward.
FROM FILLMORE.—A correspondent from Fillmore says: "The harvest of small grain is usually over in this county. Corn and sorghum are well, and our orchards promise us a fair supply of luscious fruits. We trust the hoppers may not disturb us."
IN COUNCIL BLUFFS.—John Kelly, the violinist, is giving concerts in Council Bluffs to good audience.
"Woman's Rights" paper, was going to lecture in that city on Thursday evening, 17th, on woman and her relation to politics, morality and sociality. This is not the Mrs. Fisher who reads poems and recites.
THUNDER STORM.—Last night we had a thunder storm that was worth the name. Towards evening the sky was overcast, "with black nimbus" to the west; and shortly after sundown the lightning commenced playing in the south and west. Later on the thunder rolled and reverberated across the valley, south of the city, the whole heavens were again and again illumined with the most vivid sheet lightning, relapsing into tartarean gloom, and the rain poured down in torrents. There was a fresh breeze blowing a portion of the time. The thunder, lightning and rain held possession at intervals until about two o'clock in the morning, when the stars came out from under their inky drapery and the elemental war had passed over.
IN BOX ELDER.—Bishop Nicholls was in town last night, and informed us that the grasshoppers were quite numerous in Box Elder County, having come there some days ago. They were depositing eggs. Put in Fall grain.
GONE EAST AGAIN.—After having hardly had time to take a rest at home, General H. B. Clawson has again gone east on business. The General is "alive" all the time. We wish him a pleasant trip and safe return.
CORRECTION.—In the item "Historical" published on Monday in the News, in the characters which appeared on the first performance of "Pizarro" in Nauvoo, the name of George J. Adams occurs, but it is printed G. G. Adams. The same correction refers to that gentleman's wife, Mrs. G. J. Adams.
DIED.—In this city, on the 15th inst., after a protracted illness, Sarah Van Horn, (formerly of Toronto, Canada,) wife of Ralph Partington, aged 57 years. She was a true wife and faithful saint, and closed her mortal career in hope of a glorious resurrection.—(Con.)
FLIGHTS OF FANCY.—Daily our exchanges bring us the most startling stories. To take note of them would be almost impossible, but the exuberant fancy and romantic flights indulged in by the voracious chroniclers are something wonderful. The following truly rara avis in terra is the latest to hand. Who wouldn't like to have such a pet bird caged?
On Sunday of last week a novelty in the bird line was killed, near Mound City, Ill., by a man named Jim Harney of that city. It is larger than the ostrich, and weighs 104 pounds. The body of this wonderful bird is covered with snow-white down, and its head is of a fiery red, the wings, of deep black, measure fifteen feet from tip to tip, and the bill, of a yellow color, twenty-four inches; its legs are slender and sinewy, pea green in color, and measure forty-eight feet in length; one of the feet resemble that of a duck, and the other that of a turkey. Mr. Harney shot it at a distance of one hundred yards, from the topmost branch of a dead tree, where it was perched, carrying in its full-sized sheep that it had carried from the ground. This strange species of bird, which is said to have existed extensively during the days of the mastodon, is almost entirely extinct, the last one having been seen in the State of New York during the year 1812. Its flight across the town and river was witnessed by hundreds of citizens.
Who would doubt the existence of this bird, after learning where it can be seen?
"WHAT A FALL WAS THERE!"—It was dark last night, at times, rather, we might say very dark—occasionally, so at least thought a friend in going home with his wife from the theatre. Having reached the junction of the 6th and 7th wards, he stumbled over something and fell—his right leg fell—the lady, however, not sharing in the misadventure, and a pointed and hard substance met his face between the nasal organ and upper lip, in other words, at the point of his nose. Something arose under him and he found he had fallen prostrate over a juvenile of the horned species, commonly called a calf, which he had made an indentation in his facial covering. A flash of lightning revealed the situation, the lady imagined a large—and a large man—was over another of the young "critters," but retained her equilibrium. On arriving home a waterman cleared off his sanguinary incrustation. "Mornin'! don't travel on very dark nights, where calves are lying around loose, without a lantern—if you can get one."
