SHERIFF Dalton from Ogden this afternoon arrested Miss Richards who was driving on Main street in a buggy, which collided with a wagon driven by Mr. Hill. Hill was not overturned and wrenched out a wheel, but Miss Richards' conveyance was left a wreck. Both ladies were thrown out and bruised somewhat, but Sheriff Dalton says that Miss Richards' injury will probably not be serious.

ROBERT BENNETT appeared before Commissioner Greenman this morning for hearing on the charge of defrauding the proprietors of the Walker House, Magna City, out of a board bill of $25. He was committed and a fine of $50 and costs, amounting in all to $79, was imposed. The "dead-beat" went to jail in default of payment.

A PORTION of Hewlett Rock, salt, which was burglarized last Saturday night, has been recovered by Williams Bros. section foreman on the Utah Central Railway company, in the log out at Point of Mountain. Twenty-five pounds, for twenty-five dollars and some valuable papers were still there. The police are following up the clues.

"OUT OF DARKNESS."

Edwin M. Boyle's New Play to be Produced by the Home Club.

An event of decided interest is now agitating amusement and society circles. This is the maiden production of a play entitled "Out of Darkness," which was written by Mr. E. M. Boyle, son of Judge Boyle of this city. The work engaged Mr. Boyle's leisure moments while he was in Salt Lake's company last season, and knowing of the abilities of the Salt Lake Home Dramatic Club, and realizing that a production by them would give the work the best possible "send off" with eastern managers, Mr. Boyle came home and made arrangements with the local company for the first production of his play in his native town. Accompanying Mr. Boyle is Mr. Lorin Henderson, who took a prominent place with Salt Lake, and who is an excellent manager of long experience. He will have charge of the stage production, and the various arrangements are in the hands of Mr. Whitney, manager of the Home Dramatic club. Both Mr. Boyle and Mr. Henderson will appear in the cast, the remaining principal characters will be in such well-known hands as Mr. Wells, Mr. Spencer, Mr. Young, Elbin Clawson (her first appearance after a long rest), Birdie Cummings, Ivy Clawson. Only two performances will be given, the night of August 7th and the afternoon of August 8th. We respect for Mr. Boyle a generous patronage and a most kindly interest for his maiden effort.

A DETECTIVE'S CHASE.

Ex-Boss of Police Court Bonds Again in the Toils.

AN EARLY MORNING SKIRMISH.

Two Girls Sent to the Penitentiary Now Believed to be Innocent.

Readers of the NEWS will remember that on Thursday in last week two young girls named Hanna and Anderson were tried by Commissioner Norberg's Court on a charge of stealing a gold watch from Charles Toledo, a saloon keeper of Kearns, while acting as one of the parties "treated" at Pete Hooper's saloon on Commercial street. The evidence against the accused was certainly of a suspicious nature, and the commissioner came to the conclusion that the case ought to be further investigated by the grand jury, and accordingly he held them in $500 bonds each. Failing to give the required security the defendants were lodged in the penitentiary, where they have since remained. At the preliminary investigation the girls, while admitting that they went up to Mr. Toledo during his moments of repose, gave him one or two pulls with their parasols and otherwise conducted themselves in a decorous manner, and made certain insinuations against the character of the prosecuting witness, whom they alleged to have been going in and out of the apartment in which the proprietor had his bed. Nothing in particular here was said to this at the time, but after the removal of the girls to the penitentiary, information was received by Detective Francis which went to show that there might be some truth in their statement after all. Mr. Francis and his colleagues set to work on the case and in the course of their action a name young fellow, named Ed. Burns, between thirty and thirty-five years of age, disappeared behind the bars in Marshal Parsons' office as the school time.

Burns, in the role of a petty larceny thief, is one of the latest of "distinguished" arrivals in Judge Justice Lawyer's court who were released from durance vile some few weeks ago on the "ground hog" case. Since he was released from the penitentiary he has been employed by Mr. Hooper as a "capper" and bouncer, but was discharged from both offices on Saturday last. After that he devoted his entire time to hanging around the bars in the vicinity of one of his own ilk.

Learning that the stolen watch was seen in Burns' possession a few days after the theft was committed, Detective Francis promptly ascertained that it had been deposited by him at Fitzgerald's saloon, as "security" for a small loan, and that he was subsequently "redeemed," and then sold by Burns to Gerald Irvine, a young man living on Second West street. Irvine paid Burns for it the amount he had paid on account of the transaction. When Burns offered the watch to Mr. Irvine for sale the latter told it was his own, and that he wanted to raise the money to go to Denver.

Just before the watch last night left its active Frankie—who has up to that hour been busily searching for the alleged thief—got the bird the Burns had boarded a train and out, going south. He then hired a buggy and drove out some seven miles. About a o'clock this morning, on nearing the Morgan ranche, the officer espied Burns on the road ahead of him, and gave his rig the fastest chance of escaping.

"Is your name Burns?" said the detective.

"Yes," replied the fellow, with an air of assumption.

"Then," said Frankie, "I guess I'll have to take you back to Salt Lake."

Without further ceremony Burns was landed in Judge Bolton's buggy, and again and captive started for this city.

"How soon did you get for that watch you sold?" questioned the detective.

But Mr. Burns was cautious and replied, "Well I'll say nothing about that."

"You may just as well tell me all about it," suggested his interrogator; "it will be just as good to attempt to conceal anything, for I know it all."

"Never mind," was the dodging reply; "there's time enough to talk about it. You'll see all about it before this sullen silence, declining to know anything more to say until he was handed over to a deputy marshal for safe keeping.

Commissioner Norrell set the hearing of the charge for two o'clock this afternoon, and the two girls, Hanson and Anderson, will be released from their cells. It is very probable that when the case against Burns has been heard they will be set at liberty.

Burns is a heedless customer, and when seen by our reporter this morning he was enjoying a sleep on the bench in Marshal Parsons' office, his features furnished "wearing-room" for casuals.

POLICE NEWS.

A Footloose Young Piano Distributer who Was About to Start for Southland—Other Cases.

Frank Stewart, the bold and bodyline burglar who was arrested a few mornings ago for blowing open Cunningham & Company's safe, was taken before Justice Goo late yesterday afternoon and arraigned for burglary. He had his audacity, in the face of the most conclusive evidence, to plead not guilty. He was adjudged guilty, however, and was held in $5,000 bonds to await the action of the grand jury, in default of which he was remanded to jail.

H. H. Cook, the logue reporter who recently stole a watch and revolver from the Herald editorial rooms, pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny. In default of $500 bonds he was sent back to jail to await the grand jury's action.

A Chinese piano distributer named Fong Gee was fined $25 by Justice Goo.

A trace of drunken youths who gave their names as George Johnson and George Carmichael, entered a confectionery store at 370 west Third South street, kept by W. H. Alexander, yesterday afternoon, and after handling the proprietor presented without any more whatever to mailorder outside the window. Not satisfied with this exhibition of their drunken want malice and cast stones into the battering, striking and badly injuring a young lady.

The latter was reported to the police and last night the offenders were arrested and lodged in the city jail by Detective Driggs. Today they were brought before Police Judge Maginnis and fined $100 each, in default of which they were sent back to jail.

The late are extremely sorry and repentant for their shameful conduct.

Carmichael (which is an assumed name) resided formerly at Scotland, near train No. 2 of the U. P. this morning. He is a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and was soon to have been married. A friend was rushing around to secure a money bail with which to pay his fine.

George La Blanche, the French negro thief, plead guilty in the police court this morning to stealing a watch from Mr. Kelly, another hotel thief. He deposited $25 to secure his attendance in court on Friday at 10 a.m., when sentence will be passed.

Destructive Washout in Logan.

The Logan Nation of yesterday says: Shortly after the Electric Light Company's dynamo had been stopped at 1 o'clock a.m., a huge washout occurred just west of the Union mills. The water began from some cause to set the power with great force against the sides of the Ruins. Shortly the entire water laving gave way, and went with a crash down the hill, and a huge hole, twenty feet deep and twelve across, was washed in the side of the hill. Immense quantities of gravel were deposited in the creek below. A large force of men is at work gathering up the debris, and hauling off the gravel. The water is turned off from the mills, a dam having been hastily constructed, and the mill wheel is silent.

The dynamo power is also destroyed, and the lights will not be on again until the damage is repaired, which will possibly be a week or more.

The point involved is a partnership accounting, and the matter seemed likely to occupy some time.

"SHEEP EXCHANGE."

An Unsuspecting Mutton and Wool Grower Victimized by Bunco Sharpers.

As honest and unsuspecting sheepman from the southern part of Salt Lake County was made the victim of a sharp confidence game yesterday afternoon in this city. While standing on upper Main street he was accosted by a well-dressed, gentlemanly-appearing and extremely loquacious individual, who struck him with a startling "How do you do sir?" and "pardon me for approaching you, but I believe you are a sheep man and have some wethers for sale. Am I right?"

"You are," replied the thoughtless and unsuspecting granger, somewhat astonished.

"I thought so," chuckled the bunco man, "if you will accompany me across street to the Newhouse building I will introduce you to some parties who will buy you out and give you the highest market price for your mutton."

"Sheep Exchange," ejaculated the man from the country, scratching his head. "I don't believe I ever heard of that place."

"Oh, the Sheep Exchange is a newly incorporated institution, one recently organized, as the name implies, for the express benefit of shepherds," was the glib reply rounded the mutton producer.

"Very well—guess I'll go and strike a bargain and see what benefit can be derived from the Sheep Exchange."

He went, he saw and was completely.

On the road to this newly heard of exchange he was highly entertained by the talkative gentleman. When near the corner of second south and West Temple street they came to a dark and shady stairway and induced into a room where a number of men were seated in playing cards. Two empty seats were vacant and the sheepman, in search of adventure, was invited to participate. Two games were played, the sheepman winning $20 by the deal. He stayed out the limit. Now what should he do? He thought he would go home and get on Main street demanded his $20. The eloquent victim offered to make everything all right, but to stand pat was the word of the question, and he was allowed to depart up town in search of a friend to borrow the money with which to pay back the $20, and would have done so had he not been prevented, for it had never yet occurred to him that he had been hamstrung. His friend waited in vain for the return of the victim with a view to arresting the entire gang. But no, the victim would not. He said he would rather lose $1,000 than for his family to learn of his folly.

A Cure for Cramps in the Stomach.

Albert Keith, editor of the Leonard, Texas, Graphic, says: "For the cure of cramps in the stomach, diarrhœa, dysentery, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the best and most speedy I ever used." Many others who have tried it entertain the same opinion. 284

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hall, of Sparta, Ill., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally developed into consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my savior, determined if I died I would die trusting in Him, and if such I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. Kings' New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles, and it cured me and thank God I am now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at A. G. Smith & Co's Drug store. Regular size, 50c. and $1.00. 4
