

M'HENRY SCOTT PARDONED TODAY

Colored Man Convicted of Mayhem Secures His Freedom.

OTHER CASES ALSO HEARD.

One Pardon Denied, Another Gets Over Harry Leslie Granted a New Trial.

McHenry Scott, the colored man convicted last July of cutting out the eye of a drunken neighbor, John C. Clark, was granted a new trial by Justice W. H. Morris, in the State prison, after executive clemency at the hands of the board of pardons today.

The case of Dr. William McCay went over until the next regular meeting of the board.

Parson was denied. In the case of John C. Morris, convicted of forgery.

Harry Leslie, the young fellow who entered the residence of Judge Walter J. Bryan, and was accused of attempted rape, was granted a re-hearing.

KNICK-WOOLRIDGE SENTENCED.

An Indian got eighteen months in the State prison for impeding justice.

John Woolridge, the Indian who pleaded guilty to the charge of misconduct with a girl named Calder Miller, was this morning sentenced by Judge Morris to eighteen months in the State prison.

When asked if he had anything to say before judgment was pronounced, the defendant said: "I have no right to stand the law; that he had been about since his arrest with me one to twelve hours, and I have been in jail ever since." The Indian was given a suspended sentence.

PETITION FOR REHEARING.

A petition for a re-hearing in the case of the State vs. John E. H. Hich et al was filed with the clerk of the Supreme court today.

FOR THE LOSS OF A SON.

Judge Cherry and a jury today took up the case on appeal of Louis P. Berg vs. the Salt Lake Mail Transit Company. This action was brought by Berg to recover $1,000 damages of a row, alleged to have been struck by one of defendant company's cars at Murray, on April 10. Berg's suit in lower court judgment was reversed in favor of Berg, when an appeal was taken.

FEMALE FAMILY ROW.

Two West Side ladies indulge in a Brawling Contest—Police Items.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon there was a direful aggregation of bucklanders on the corner of Main and Justice streets, the court. Interest was aroused by a family fracas that had the theater of operations in the backyard at the rear of 1st street, Sixth West, when Mrs. Werle, the wife of a Rio Grande Western mailman, according to the evidence, pulled the hair, slapped the face, and kicked the body of Mrs. Krikken, the wife of the long-watched mailman down at the R. G. W. yards.

Miss Strang and Chris Dold handled the case for the city, while Attorney Nathaniel V. Jones held up the case for the defense.

Miss Krikken said that both her face and feelings were considerably hurt owing to the occurrence, she continually crying and weeping, and that she was compelled to report the matter to her husband.

Mrs. Werle, on the other side, testified that she was only aftering that it was "the other" lady who did all the hair-pulling and slapping. Furthermore, she said, she had never hit her mail, with the usual outcome of a man's badly-damaged hairdo. Both attorneys argued the case at the office of Justice Timmons.

Justice Timmons, an intelligent young judge, who had been here in this country for less than a month, was moved by the fact that these respectable ladies had so far forgotten themselves as to indulge in a brawling quarrel. After giving the two sides their time, he imposed a fine on Mrs. Werle of $10.

M. Murchison, the well-known charwoman, has been here from the city for the past few months. She headed on Friday afternoon with a big bag packed, enough and conveniently discharged himself.

A. Johnson and E. Hobart, the bellmen, were also here on Friday evening on the shores of Bunting Bay. Some bad news Friday evening, however, caused Johnson to leave the hotel immediately, while Hobart delayed. Mrs. Anna Johnson, the mother of the girl who disappeared, was awaiting him. The court thought he had purchased enough and conveniently discharged himself.

A. Johnson and E. Hobart, the bellmen, were also here on Friday evening on the shores of Bunting Bay. Some bad news Friday evening, however, caused Johnson to leave the hotel immediately, while Hobart delayed. Mrs. Anna Johnson, the mother of the girl who disappeared, was awaiting him. The court thought he had purchased enough and conveniently discharged himself.

E. Hobart, an intelligent young man, who had been here in this country for less than a month, was moved by the fact that these respectable ladies had so far forgotten themselves as to indulge in a brawling quarrel. After giving the two sides their time, he imposed a fine on Mrs. Werle of $10.

Justice Timmons, an intelligent young judge, who had been here in this country for less than a month, was moved by the fact that these respectable ladies had so far forgotten themselves as to indulge in a brawling quarrel. After giving the two sides their time, he imposed a fine on Mrs. Werle of $10.

Miss Peterson, another reliable of the station, residing on the corner of Main and Justice streets, was here on Friday evening for the benefit of Judge John Kingdon, Waite Officer and Joseph Weston. An excellent personal service was rendered in which some of the leading ladies of the city took part. Refreshments will also be served.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

H. L. Head of Customs, with liabilities amounting to $12,000, and no assets, and Zoraster Holloman and Peter J. Warner of Ogden, have been admitted into the bankruptcy court. Mr. John Head, Jr., has been finally discharged from all debts.

CLEASING HOUSE REPORT.

April 17, 1899.
Today's clearings ..... $49,017.77
same day last year ..... $39,512

GIRL AND BULLION REPORTS.

Following are today's girl and bullion reports, as reported by the institutions below indicated:

T. H. JONES & CO. ..... $7,000

ONE ..... 22,000

WELLS, FARGO & CO. ..... 122,000

MCGOWINN & CO. ..... 122,000

Bancker bullion ..... 1,000

that was gathered in by the deputy sheriff down at Murray on orders of the sheriff, caused much misery and annoying a host of children and two small night robbers, as he wanted an attorney, the sheriff sent for one, and Mr. Hall was here at 10:30.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Beginning and Pictures Bazaar closed their engagement at the theater Saturday. While the afternoon and evening houses were not so large as that of the first night they were more than fair, and the net results of the entertainments were not so great all around.

At the theater this evening the big attraction was the Battle of Marathon, as the name of the play, the title of the drama, and the names of those actors during the life of the theater have been lost.

Roland, Head comes to the theater to see the play, Wright, the latter of the week.

At the Grand this evening the noted Cleo Channing, the Winter Queen, is attracting a great deal of attention in sporting circles.

DIED AT BINGHAM.

A telephone message to the "News" announces the death at Bingham of Mrs. William Thompson, wife of Bishop Thompson. She had been ill a month, having been 82 years old.

The body will be taken to south Cathederal, where arrangements will be made.

The deceased had many friends. She leaves a husband and five children.

LICENSED TO HARRY.

Edmund H. Smith, 26, of Norton, Kansas, and Austin E. Burrows, 26, of this city, were today granted a license to marry.

WEBER FARMERS WIN.

In the Case of Williams Et Al vs Adamson & Cookin.

The case in which a number of the farmers of Weber county sued William Adamson, the receiver of the Ogden City Waterworks, was decided by Judge Robertson yesterday. The farmers were granted a injunction against the receiver to restrain him from continuing his efforts to collect the water rates.

During the session, the board received the application of Edmund H. Coffey for 20,000 shares of the company of stock. It was voted to grant him 20,000 shares to be offered the present subscribers pro rata with their holdings, which would entitle him to 4.45 more than half a share of the new, the proportion being 50 per cent each the time to be taken at once. This amount with the available cash in the treasury, will be sufficient to pay off the property of the Lehi factory at least 1,000 tons of boats per day, according to the terms of the lease.

The board, however, has been advised that the water government is in possession of the property of the Ogden City Waterworks, and that the receiver has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.

Mr. Coffey said in a "News" interview that his subscription of 20,000 shares represents his confidence in the future of the sugar industry in Weber, and the worth of the railroad property of the Ogden City Waterworks.

Members of the board soon after the meeting expressed themselves as confident that the new sugar plant will be successful, and that the market price of sugar will be $12.00 per ton at the point where the buyer did still have to pay for the water rates on the day of purchase.

The receiver, however, has no right to collect the water rates from the Ogden City Waterworks.