

Crabb spent the first of the week with Salt Lake friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Evans are visiting in Greeley, Colo., with friends and relatives.

Mr. Albert L. Yates and Miss Zolpha Gray, prominent Lehi young people, will be married soon.

EUREKA.

On Friday evening of last week the marriage of Miss Susie Merrill to Preston Sullivan took place in this city. The ceremony was performed at the home of Frank Barrett, and his mother, Mrs. Hicks, by Judge D. A. Lingson, and only a few of the intimate friends of the contracting couple were present to witness the ceremony. James Gately acted as best man and Miss Josephine Bailey attended the bride. After the ceremony an elaborate wedding supper was served in honor of the newly married couple, by the hostess, Mrs. Hicks. "Prest" Sullivan has made his home in Eureka for many years, and for several terms he was city marshal of this city, retiring from that office last month. His friends are numbered by the hundreds throughout the entire district, as he was very popular in all that side, and all wish him success and happiness. The bride has been a resident of the camp for a short while, and during her brief residence, she has made many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan are at present residing at the former home on Leadville Row.

The current events and current literature section of the Ladies' Literary club met yesterday afternoon at the clubhouse and Miss Ethel Paul reviewed the "Fruit of the Tree," by Edith Wharton, and Mrs. S. F. Fenton gave a review of the eccentricities of George Bernard Shaw.

The Woman's Republican club met Monday, Feb. 3, with Mrs. J. W. Edmonds, 627 Second East and enjoyed a delightful program.

The Wamtech Literary circle met on Tuesday afternoon in Gunton Memorial chapel, with Mrs. Lillian Duncan and Mrs. M. Fulmer. Mrs. W. I. Brown was chairman for the afternoon.

The State Council of Women met this week at the Exponent office and a letter was read from Senator Sutherland enclosing a clipping from the Congressional Record of Washington noting that the senator had presented to President Roosevelt the petition of the Utah State Council for the elimination from the Constitution that clause prohibiting free suffrage in relation to sex.

When President Roosevelt received the committee representing the National American Woman Suffrage association at the White House, he felt at his personal belief in woman suffrage, and promised to give the matter further consideration. He advised as the "next step" for suffragists the securing of another full suffrage state. To this suggestion, Miss Gordon replied, chest, and heavy in proportion to their legs. The cock bird is best suited for roasting and the hen for boiling. Chickens are selected as turkeys are.

Ducks and geese are young when the bills and feet are yellow, and the skin fine and free from hairs; a coarse, hairy skin and red legs and bills denote old birds.

When eggs are very high the omelet is a forbidden luxury in many households. An omelet made in this manner, however, will meet all the demands of economy, and will, at the same time, be as light and fluffy as though prepared in the ordinary and more costly way. Put a cupful of finely crumbled bread in a bowl, and pour over it a cupful of sweet milk. When the bread has become thoroughly moistened, stir it with a spoon until it is entirely smooth and free from lumps. Add the yolks of two eggs, beating them into the bread and milk one at a time; then, fold in the stiffly-whipped whites, and pour into a well-buttered baking-dish. Bake in a moderate oven until well set. A pleasing variation is to sprinkle the top of the omelet with grated cheese and paprika before removing it from the oven. If a sweet omelet is desired, a generous sprinkling of maple sugar will prove pleasing.

The observance of a few simple rules will enable any one to acquire a good complexion.

First about temperance—and that does not mean only going without stimulants, but denying yourself indigestible foods. Strong coffee, hot bread and butter and fried things are most destructive to the skin. Then red meat, like beef, is very bad, especially when a complexion is oily.

ANOTHER ROYAL BETROTHAL.

Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria and Princess Eleonora of Reuss, pictured herewith, are to be married in the near future. The prince is a widower forty-six years of age, with four children, and the princess is a year his senior. The Reuss family is one of the oldest in Europe and although impoverished has always maintained a rigid exclusiveness.

One pretty blonde got all the oily look out of hers in a year, just by giving up red meat. Eat a great many green vegetables and stewed fruits without sugar, for sugar ferments and leads to indigestion.

Coincident with the transfer of household industries outside the home, our methods of living are undergoing a slow but steady revolution. The housewife of today is not so busy a personage as was her grandmother. The food and clothing that the housewife of a few years ago herself made, are now largely produced in the factories. Every article of wearing apparel may be made in a few minutes in a large factory. Bakeries turn out bread at 50,000 loaves to the baking. Soups that our mothers spent a day in making, now arrive all ready to add hot water and serve. Our bacon is sliced and our cereals steam-cooked before they reach the kitchen. Puddings and desserts are minute-made, and pickles bottled and beautiful.

Velvet braided gowns fully 18 inches deep is used on dressy gowns, both high and low necked. It is draped about the waist in surplice or a cross-over style, overhanging the sleeves in kimono effect, and is carried down to a point just above the waistline in the back. Here it opens out and spreads downward in double panel effect. It is used also as a border at the foot of the gown.

With all the "odd" shapings, there are some that are becoming to all. Pannet, which is like a short-sleeved kimono, is very much worn, and a bell-shaped hat of this in bronze-green is extremely pretty. A deep is apparently held in place by a voluminous ruffle of bronze and green tinted tulle. A tulle scarf is spread over the crown in a vapory cloud.

red is corresponding but slightly lighter shade of green is immensely popular. A hit of large size covered with highly played satin, which is removed from the frame, and formed into a large flower-like choux at one side, a ring of canvas covered with shirred silk holding it in place. Bronze Florentine velvet is used as a border for the slightly turned up brim, which is faced with shirred taffeta. A fancy feather ornament showing tints of blue and green, and with a glint of bronze-and-gold, relieves it.

Frames smoothly covered with satin or velvet and trimmed with quantities of tips and plumes are extremely popular for dressy wear. In all black they are particularly charming if becoming; or, if necessary, a bit of color in the form of a large pink, yellow or red bow may be fastened to the brim. The face is faced with delicately tinted tulle or chiffon. A beautiful hat of pale gray satin is almost covered with eight ostrich tips of the same lovely shade of gray. The brim is lifted to about a three-quarter height of the crown, making a very artistic line.

The influence of the Japanese over-sleeves is still apparent this season. It shows itself in the broad mandarin sleeves, which are down to the wrist, almost to the elbow on gown, and forming the sleeves in dress coats and wraps. The distinctly oriental lines are gradually changing into classical ones, further emphasized by tassels, pendants and fringes.

AFTERNOON PROMENADE SUIT.

Dressy tailored costume of Copenhagen blue broadcloth. The skirt is a good model with pleated back and front panel and deep stitched hem. Coat is shaped so as to give the effect of a short jacket and tunic skirt. The body is like a tight-fitting eon jacket, with square tab fronts, the tabs hanging loose over the coat-back. A tight-fitting buttoned vest is of gray cloth with flat gray pearl buttons. The revers are faced with velvet and braid trimmed, and the collar is inset with white cloth braided with soutache and Hercules. Sleeves are long and buttoned up the back of the arm to the elbow. Hat of gray silk with blue ribbon and gray gourd plumes.

but early in the spring they will move to Midway, this state, where Mr. Sullivan will manage the Hot Pot resort for S. J. Schaeffer.

Prof. L. K. Stewart, assisted by his pupils and members of the L. D. S. church, will give a free recital at the L.D.S. church this (Saturday) evening, to which all are invited. A very select and interesting musical program is promised.

A masquerade ball will be given at the Elk's pavilion on the 14th of this month—Valentine's day.

Another social was given at the L. D. S. church last evening by the Relief Society of the Church. Quite a large crowd was out to attend it, and a pleasing program, aside from the lunch went for the entertainment of those present.

CLUB CHAT.

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers held an interesting meeting at the B. Y. Memorial hall on Wednesday afternoon, taking up the history of the ancient pioneers of the American continent as described in the Book of Mormon. Topics were given by Miss Iva C. Smith and Mrs. Flora Horna. Next week Joseph F. Smith, Jr. will give another lecture on "Baptism for the Dead." The meeting will be held in room 21 of the B. Y. Memorial hall.

"Mr. President, we won our fifth suffrage state in Oregon last year, but victory was stolen from us by the great corporations and the organized liquor interests." The committee comprised Miss Kate M. Gordon of New Orleans, corresponding secretary of the National Woman Suffrage association; Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Warren, Ohio, treasurer of the association; Mrs. Katharine Reed Balentine, the daughter of the late Thomas B. Reed; and Mrs. Henry Dixon Burns, wife of the distinguished Louisiana surgeon.

At its last annual meeting held in Columbus, the Ohio Federation of Labor adopted a resolution calling upon the state legislature to adopt a resolution, at the coming session, "requesting the Congress of the United States to submit to the various state legislatures for ratification an amendment to the United States Constitution prohibiting disfranchisement on account of sex." The secretary was instructed to send copies of this resolution to the governor of the state, to the clerk of the house and the clerk of the senate. Among other state federations of labor which have officially declared for woman suffrage, are Connecticut, Colorado, California, Iowa, Indiana, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Michigan, Maine, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, Oklahoma and West Virginia.

The Ohio Woman Suffrage association has presented to the Reuben McMillan Free Library in Youngstown, the History of Woman Suffrage, which is comprised in four large volumes. Vols. 1, 2 and 3 were written by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthony and Matilda Joselyn Gage; vol. 4 by Miss Anthony and Ida Husted Harper.

Recently there were held throughout England and Wales the first elections at which women were eligible as mayors, aldermen and town and county councilors. Women are said to be already serving on about 3,000 public boards in England and Wales, mostly boards of guardians of the poor. The new bill has opened to women 417 more public bodies, namely 326 town councils, 63 county councils and 28 London borough councils, besides all the boards of aldermen.

Mrs. Ida Husted Harper has completed the writing of the third volume of the "Life and Work of Susan B. Anthony." It is expected that the book will be ready for circulation in February. Miss Anthony's birth month.

In Woman's World.

It is very important to health that the poultry should be fresh when bought, says The Delineator for January. This condition can be judged by the sweet smell and also by the absence of moisture on the outside skin. The primeness of the flesh can generally be judged by the firmness which shows its elasticity when it is pressed. The end of the breast-bone should bend easily. If the bone will not bend, the bird is too old for roasting. The flesh of young poultry is of a pinkish color and transparent texture. Turkeys are young when the legs are smooth and black, the spurs short, the skin finely grained, and when the toe joints break easily on being turned backward. They are fresh when the feet are pliable and in good condition; when the feet are plump and wide across the
