Orchards Denuded. Mapleton, Utah Co., Aug. 4.-Maple-on is suffering from drouth and grasshoppers. Mr. Joseph Tuckett's 16 acre fruit farm is invaded by a terrible horde. The lucern fields surrounding his place have been cut recently, over which the destructive pests were scat-tered, and they have all been driven in to the orchard of Mr. Tuckett. These are no ordinary grasshoppers, but well fed, big fellows, more like frogs than hoppers; the average size is one and three fourths inches in length and three eighths of an inch across the body, some are larger. Mixed with the big natives are some of the iron clad. There may be probably some five varieties in

Mr. Tuckett has brought and turned loose about one hundred chickens and turkeys in the orchard where chickens never roamed before. They make no perceptible change in the number of unwelcome guests—as about two dozen of these big hoppers are more than a meal for his biggest turkey. It is pit-iful to see the destruction of this thrifty orchard. Peach pits still ad-hering to the stems, the flesh all eaten. Apple trees denuded of their leaves. Raspberry and currants all stripped of their leaves. The poplar trees lining the drive way are now being attacked. A mixture of bran, shorts, molasses and arsenic placed on shingles under the trees has no charm for these big fel-lows at present, but what effect it will have when all the luxurant vegetation is completely destroyed, must be pa-tiently waited for, in the mean time Mr. Tuckett has written to Uncle Sam ask-ing that Prof. L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology, forward him a bottle of disease germs to help des-troy the terrible insects. Mr. Tuckett is not the only sufferer here but other orchards are being ravaged by these destroyers.

Water is scarce and the beet crop of Mapleton will no doubt be light in tonnage but rich in saccharine, Hay is now ranging in price from eight to ten dollars per ton.

Last Thursday's wind storm was an effective thinner to the pear crop.

Special Correspondence. Annabella, Sevier Co., Aug. 3 .-- Mr ohn Gardner thinks he was struck by lightning, and his statement is not doubted, at least by any who were within half a mile of him. While Mr. Gardner was walking from the corrall to the house he received an awful stroke on the top of the head and was knocked forward to the ground, where he laid unconscious for a few minutes. On recovering he thought his hair was on fire, and scrambled to put it out, and declared he could smell it burning. Mr. Gardner says he did not hear any thunder or at least but a very little. He has suffered with a slight head ache since the shock. Reapers are now busy and harvest well under headway. Some grain has ripened too soon on account of the extremely hot weather and scarcity of The Otter creek reservoir has been

According to the smart jewelers, the favorite engagement ring of the day is a pear-shaped stone, preferably a diamond, the setting almost invisible, the circlet very thin. If a colored stone is chosen instead of a diamond, the ac-commodating jeweler will surround it with the tiniest of diamonds, making a brilliant line of white fire, but the indi vidual stones so small as to have the effect rather than the appearance of gems, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. A row of five diamonds, encircled with many rubies, is also a favorite engagement ring. Rubies mean 'felicity in love' and diamondsleast to own them-signify good luck, it goes without saying

My baby came in July, 1859, and I had congestive chills, and lay at death's door for ten long weeks. I was in a dreadful condition and had six of the best doctors of the city. After everything had been done and I had been given up to die I asked my husband to get me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. He had no faith in it, but he got it, and when I had taken it two weeks I was able to walk to the dining room to my meals, and by the time I had taken three bottles I was able to cook for my family of four. CITY COUNCIL BUSINESS. The following business was transacted by the City Council, last evening.

President Hill of the board of county commissioners appeared before the ouncil and explained that the county officers needed more room in the court house, in order to obtain it, he, in behalf of the commissioners, renewed the offer by the county of $2,000 for the city's one-sixth interest in the house, and if the city council would not accept this offer, then Mr. Hill gave notice that the county would require the room now occupied by the city marshal as that room was needed to give the treasurer increased office room. The county offered to provide an office in the basement for the city marshal the offer to buy was not accepted. Councilman Johnson moved to refer the question to the committee on police and city prisons, with the idea of not accepting the offer to buy.

Councilor Beebe moved, as a substitute, to accept the offer to buy.

The question was quite generally discussed. The substitute was carried by the following vote:

Ayes—Nelson, Beebe, Powelson, Taylor and Wilkins. No—Carter, Scott, Gray and Johnson. Absent McEwan. The matter of making the necessary arrangement to transfer the city's interest in the building was referred to the committee on judiciary. The city will have thirty days in which to va-cate the building, with the exception of the marshal, who will be required to vacate earlier.

DANGEROUS RAILWAY TRAFFIC. Bishop S. P. Eggertson appeared and called attention to the fact that the railway trains run through the city at a speed of from thirty to forty miles an hour, contrary to the ordinance, which provides that the rate of speed shall not exceed eight miles an hour. The rapid rate of speed was responsible for the killing of many cattle, and the Bishop had found that the railroad companies would only pay about one-fourth of the value of animals killed by them, and he was of the opinion that under this state of facts the companies should be compelled to comply with the ordinance. The matter was referred to the city marshal.

MORTUARY REPORT.

The city sexton reported twenty-eight deaths in the city, and ten corps brought from outside points during the quarter ending July 31st. The city justice reported twenty arrests during the month of July, and $63 collected in fines. The committee on waterworks recom mended that water from the springs above the Provo plant in Provo canyon be appropriated for the city water sys-tem, there being sufficient water of a very superior quality for the purpose.

Recommendation adopted, and the com-mittee instructed to proceed to appropriate the springs. The committee on streets and alleys reported adversely on the petition of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company to be permitted to move their poles to the north side of Center street for the reason that the poles would be too near the sewer and water pipes

Report adopted, The following committee was appointed to secure quarters for the city officers: Taylor, Beebe, Wilkins and McEwan, a report to be given at the next meeting. A resolution was adopted instructing the committee on finance with the

PRESTON, IDAHO.

ENCOURAGING CROP PROSPECTS Epidemic of Smallpox at Whitney-Painful Accidents.

Special Correspondence.

Preston, Oneida Co., Ida., Aug. 4 .-The long dry and hot spell has been broken by a few refreshing showers the past week. Farvesting is now in full blast. The grain on the dry farms is better than was expected. Many of the dry farms will yield from 10 to 15 bushels per acre. The sugar beet crop is not as good as was expected on account of the extreme dry weather, but if the showers continue to come the beets will come out yet. Preston has been without irrigation for the past week on account of the scarcity of water in the Cub river canal and the breaking out of the new canal just completed this season from Mink creek. But the water will be in the new canal within a day or two.

PAINFUL ACCIDENTS.

Ernest Lippits, a young man from Providence, Utah, while working on the farm of Thomas Greaves in Preston, met with a painful accident a few days ago by being kicked with a horse in the jaw, breaking the bone. The boy was taken to his home and when last heard from was getting along very well. The 3-year-old daughter of John Christenson, who is on a mission in Denmark, stepped in a hole in the floor of the porch the other day and broke its foot just below the ankle. It is get-ting along as well as can be expected.

MONTPELIER, IDAHO. Slaughter of the Squirrels-Bear Lake Gives $7,500 in Bounties.

The county commissioners were in session last week and allowed some $7,-500 in bountles for squirrels. sands of these pests have been slain during this season. The bounty for a part of the time was two cents and the rest of the season one cent. Allowing that one-half the amount was paid at the rate of two cents, and the other half at one cent each, it is easy to see that more than 500,000 squirrels were killed in Bear lake this year and accounted for. On top of this are the tens of thousands that were poisoned and died in their burrows, and the tens of thousands that died of the disease caused by squirrelin, in both of wrich instances no possible record could be made. Then there are those caught by cats, dogs, hawks etc. One's head gets dizzy in estimating the number slain, and there are still a great many left for nezt year's crop. The tribe can stand the slaughter as 17 has year after year and kept from becom ing extinct. But they do, and in addi-tion, they keep the farmer guessing how to save his crops from their ray ages. It is evident, though, that the farmer is getting the better of the argument, for squirrels are not as nu-merous this year as last, and a couple more seasons like the present pretty nearly wipe Mr. Squirrel off the earth, so far as Bear take is concerned. He has stood up manfully against the great odds of strychnine, squirrelin, traps, shot guns, and the numerous other contrivances that man has evolved for the squirrels' destruction, but the "squirrel pest" will no longer be a terror in Bear Lake.-Montpeller, Ida-PARKER, IDAHO. Organization of St. Anthony Ward-ago. The countess has written an indignant letter of protest to the synod against the decree excommunicating him frm the Orthodox church and forbidding his burial in consecrated ground.

TOLSTOI IN HIS OLD AGE. Anathema Does Not Seem to Worry Him Very Much.

The great Russian writer, now 72 years of age and in poor health, bears the "boycott" of the church with calmness and tranquility of mind. He is now at work on a new novelthe story of the transformation of a beautiful butterfly of the world into useful member of society, awakened to the realization of the dignity, privilege and majesty of real living. The book which promises to be a strong one seems to illustrate Tolstoi's two seemingly paradoxic ideals-that every onshould do everything possible for himself and that every one should help his fellow-man with his work, or even do att for him unquestionably if need be.

All of Tolstoi's manuscripts, when finished, are rewritten by the countess or his daughters. This fresh copy is soon scored with corrections, sentences are cut out and new ones substituted, interlineations seem to form as much matter as the original draft, the corrections ang over the margins and are phrases they amend. Ink of a different color adds to the seeming chaos. Finally a third copy is made, which is then "tried" on a few faithful friends. Then, when it returns from the printer, stoi begins to revise his proof as if it were original copy. After he wrote "The Powers of Darkness" he read it to his tenants, and the poor peasants laughed uproariously-but unfortunately at the most pathetic passages .-Ledger Monthly.
