

GREAT SMELTER MAGNATE HERE.

Daniel Guggenheim and Party Reached City Over the Rio Grande at Noon.

TELLS ABOUT COLORADO TRIP

Had Nothing to Give Out Regarding Negotiations for the Boston Consolidated.

Busy Hearing Reports of John Hays Hammond and Other Engineers
This Afternoon.

Attached to the regular Rio Grande No. 5, which arrived in the city shortly after noon today was the private car Riva, containing Daniel Guggenheim, president of the American Smelting & Refining company, and party, which consisted of S. R. Guggenheim, Isaac Untermyer and W. E. Bennett, the latter private secretary to General Traffic Manager Silas W. Eccles, who preceded the distinguished visitors from Colorado by several days.

The party was met at the depot by Charles W. Whitley, manager of the local plants of the American Smelting & Refining and kindred companies; conveyances were in waiting to take the party to the Knutsford, where they are comfortably located.

HAD A PLEASANT TRIP.

"We have had a very pleasant trip across the country," said Mr. Guggenheim to representatives of the press shortly after his arrival, who awaited him at the hotel. "The journey through Colorado was particularly interesting, and the American Smelting & Refining company is getting ready to spend several millions of dollars in the betterment of the plants at Denver, Pueblo, Durango and Leadville. New methods of treatment are to be installed at these plants, which will so cheapen the cost of treatment that ores practically of no value now will yield a profit. Besides this we propose to build a zinc smelter in Colorado; the location of the plant has not been fully determined, but it will be either at Pueblo or Leadville.
These improvements were decided on at a meeting of the executive committee in Denver."

"There has been a great deal said in eastern as well as western papers, Mr.
Guggenheim, about the absorption of many of the principal mines of the country by the interests represented by yourself and the formation of a great holding company for them."

"I know there has been," replied the great smelter magnate, "but I can say to you that there has been a whole lot of hot air about these reports. While it is true we have been and are now negotiating for some mines, I don't know that there will be such a combination as people have been led to believe."

WILL KNOW NEXT WEEK.

"How about the negotiations pending for the taking over of the Boston Consolidated and other Bingham properties?" was asked.

"Well, I can tell you more about Boston Consolidated next week. In fact I do now know very much about these Utah enterprises just now; I have come out here to find out things and until I hear the reports of my engineers, there is really nothing that I can say about our undertakings here any more than to state that we propose to do for the mine owners of Utah what we are doing for those of Colorado in the way of providing facilities for the treatment of ores on a basis that will enable the opening of mines that contain vast bodies of low grade ores."

A GREAT SMELTING CENTER.

"The construction of the Garfield smelter, I am informed is going ahead rapidly and will be in commission, at least, a portion of it, in a short time.
Yes, the development of the mines in this and adjoining states is going forward at such a rapid pace that there is no reason why Salt Lake should not become as important as any other place in the country as a smelting center."

OWNS BALAKLALLA STOCK.

Relative to the statement made in one of the Denver papers several days ago to the effect that the American Smelting & Refining company had purchased a control of the Balaklalla copper mine in Shasta county, California, Mr. Guggenheim, while not willing to admit that a control had passed, stated that it was a fact that the American Smelting & Refining company had purchased a very large block of the stock. Yet the tone of his conversation indicated that if the control is not already in the hands of the latter corporation, it is mighty close to it. The same was said of Nevada Consolidated. Engineers have recently visited this property and are now assembled in this city with their reports ready for submission to Mr. Guggenheim.

DECLINE IN SILVER.

"How do you account for the recent decline in the price of silver?" was asked of Mr. Guggenheim.

"Well, it is simply this, China and Mexico are selling and India is not buying. Mr. Guggenheim also criticized the action of Secy. of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw in using the government's stock of silver bullion for making subsidiary coins. He declared that the secretary should have gone into the open market and purchased silver. Had this been done, silver would have advanced to 75 or 80 cents per ounce, instead of declining as it has today."

"Mexico, you remember, sold 400,000 worth of silver not so very long ago, and I am confident that if the United States had bought the silver when it needed it the Mexican government would not have sold that amount. The result of the whole matter has been that foreign states have come to the conclusion that it is not a good thing to buy silver."

HERE ALL NEXT WEEK.

The Guggenheim party will be here all of next week, and that it will be a busy one goes without saying. Samuel Neuhouse is scheduled to reach the city next Monday and the belief prevails in mining circles that the negotiations that have been pending for some time for a union of this mine with the Utah Copper, on some equitable basis, will be consummated. Mining engineers, the brightest talent in that line that the country produces, are centered here at this time and for another week, at least, Salt Lake will be the center of attraction of the mining world.

This afternoon the president of the smelting company was in consultation with Chief Engineer John Hays Hammond and other members of his staff, who were called in to submit their reports.

When the Guggenheim party arrived at the hotel, Thomas F. Cole was in the house to greet some friends preparatory to his departure for California this afternoon.

THE LATE MRS. LAMBOURNE.

Impressive Services Over the Remains Of Well Known Artist's Wife.

At the residence of Alfred Lam-bourn, the veteran artist and writer of Utah, funeral services were held Thursday afternoon over the remains of his beloved wife, Wilhelmina Marie Lambourn. The service was an exceptionally beautiful and pathetic one, in which there was much to recall the favorite occupations of Mrs. Lam-bourn during the long time she has been both a wife and a friend to her artist husband. To please her, the "Holly and Ivy" album was written, and the book was read in part at the service, from the copy presented to Mrs. Lambourn when it first came from the press.

Mrs. Lambourn was of Norwegian descent, and in opening the service Arthur Shepherd rendered Grieg's "To Spring," a Norwegian composition of which she was always very fond. This was followed by the singing of "Rock of Ages," her favorite hymn, by Mrs.
Sigrid Peterson.

A duet by Kate Bridwell Anderson and Miss Peterson, "Jesus Savior Pilot Me," was sung with rare feeling, after which Rev. E. I. Goshen spoke briefly.

Mr. Goshen explained that he spoke as the representative of no creed, and no denomination, but simply as an exponent of universal love of a hereafter, in which capacity Mr. Lam-bourn had invited him to be present.

In closing the service, H. W. Naisbitt's hymn, "Rest on the Hillsides," was rendered. Friends of Mrs. Lam-bourn were present in large numbers, filling the house and the lawn in its front. Floral tributes bedecked the casket and the room in which it rested, producing a beautiful and impressive effect. Many of those present followed the remains to the grave.

MRS. LOUX DEAD.

Prominent Woman of Pocatello Died At Holy Cross Hospital.

Mrs. C. E. M. Loux, a prominent society woman of Pocatello, and wife of Dr. Loux, died at 10 o'clock this morning at the Holy Cross hospital. The remains will be shipped to Pocatello, arriving tomorrow, and will be interred there.

Mrs. Loux was for several terms Guardian Neighbor in the Circle of Women of Woodcraft and was highly esteemed for many noble qualities. She leaves a husband and two sons of 13 and 15 years respectively. It is expected that many, if not all the lodges at Pocatello will conduct for the funeral, for which preparations are being made.

PIONEER PAPERMAKER DEAD

Sudden and Unexpected Demise of Thomas Howard at Age of 91.

Death came suddenly and painlessly to an old-time resident of Salt Lake at 8:30 o'clock this morning. At the hour mentioned, Thomas Howard awoke from an apparently restful sleep, and to those about him announced that he guessed he would get up for a little while. He then turned over in bed, and shortly thereafter it was ascertained that he was dead. The deceased, though past his nearly first year, had been in the best of health, and there was not the least symptom manifested that his life would not be prolonged for some time. In fact, only last Sunday, the anniversary of his eighty-first birthday, his family and a number of friends met at his home to celebrate the event, and he expressed himself as feeling splendid in body and in mind. No one present on that occasion dreamed that the mortal end of the honored guest was so near.

Thomas Howard was born March 4, 1815, in Water, where his parents were temporarily residing. The greater part of his early life was passed in England.
As a convert to the "Mormon" faith, he came to America very early in the "fifties," coming directly to Utah. He was the first person, so far as known, to make paper by hand, west of the Mississippi river, and he was engaged in the business of papermaking and farming until his advancing age required him to retire from active labor. His home was at No. 28 1/2 east Fifth South street, and there death came to him this morning.

The surviving members of Mr. Howard's immediate family are his wife, Maggie Morgan Howard; and the following children: Dr. Orson Howard, formerly a professor at the University of Utah; Mrs. Mary Lutz, of Rich county, Utah; Mrs. Elizabeth Pollock, of Mrs. Jemima Carney, of Salt Lake City; and Mrs. Andrew Furt, the last four being residents of this city. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

DR. VINCENT COMING.

Welcome to the Noted Educator and Lecturer of Salt Lake.

The series of popular lectures to be delivered at Barratt hall, March 15 and 17, by Dr. George E. Vincent of the University of Chicago, attending Salt Lake ers an opportunity of listening to a thinker and orator who ranks among the best living public speakers.

Dr. Vincent has, during the past two years, won the enviable distinction of presenting live topics in which the public has an intense interest in an unusually attractive manner. He is a philosopher who makes clear compositions, an orator who successfully appeals to the noblest sentiments, a humorist, whose wit and brilliancy is not surpassed.

Whereas, the Old Phrases and a New Faith," will be the subject of the evening lecture, March 15; "Children vs.
Grown-Ups," a plea for more intelligent insight into the lives and motives of the young, will be dealt with in the afternoon of March 17, and "The Large Selfishness," a study in social psychology, will be the lecturer's theme in the evening of that day.

Wherever Dr. Vincent has spoken, and he has for several years lectured in the largest cities of the country, his work has received the unstinted praise of the audience and the press.

Of a recent address in Fremont Temple, Dr. Vincent said: "Dr. George E. Vincent made the undoubted hit of the morning." The teachers of the city are taking universal interest in the Vincent addresses and it is certain that he will be greeted by large audiences.

valuable claims near Croydon, Utah.

NEWSPAPER MEN CITED IN COURT.

Manager and Editor of Ogden Paper Charged With Contempt.

GLASMANN AND FRANCIS.

Alleged That Articles Were Intended To Prejudice the Court and Interfere With Rights of Prosecution.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, March 10.—In Judge Howell's court this morning, Attorney J. M.
Kimball filed an affidavit against William Glasmann, manager of the Ogden Standard, and Frank Francis, editor of the paper, charging them with contempt of court.

Judge Howell issued a citation against the defendants and ordered them to appear before him on April 5, to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court, for writing and publishing articles in the Standard and the Examiner on the Skeen-Craig case.

The affidavit alleges that articles were published on Feb. 25 and 26 for the purpose of interfering with the rights of the accused and interested parties, and with the intent to prejudice the court and the jury.

The articles in question were the ones in which the accused counsels were denounced. The affidavit against Glaz-mann and Francis declares that the articles did create prejudice in the minds of interested persons and did affect the jury. The defendants are therefore charged with contempt of court, and they should not be punished.

FIFTH WARD FUN.

Amusement Committee Gives Large And Successful Character Ball.

There has probably not been a more successful ward gathering of a social character recently than the one given in the Fifth ward amusement hall last evening, on the occasion of a character ball under the auspices of the amusement committee. About 100 persons were present, and the costumes were picturesque and attractive in high degree.

Those to whom the affair had been entrusted were John A. Burt, C. A.
Carlucci, Alexander Cowan, Harry Hill, F. J. May and the Misses Julia Lattie, Della Seddon and Emmeline Jespersen. Some of the lady characters were: Annie Jespersen, Pechonhous, Mrs. John Nuttall, Spring; Luella Harrow, Della Cowan and Nellie Poulton; Japanese; Zina Young, jockey girl; Blanche Nuttall, cowboy girl; Lucetta Forman, Spanish dancing girl; Soderborg sisters, Swedish peasant girls.

Prizes for the best sustained characters were awarded to Miss Luella Harrow, as a Japanese girl, and Leonard G. Shumway, Mexican cowboy.
Booby prizes were also given out.

THE "BOOSTERS" EXCURSION.

Plans for Trip to Sandy Next Monday —Special Train Chartered.

The plans for the excursion of Salt Lake to Sandy next Monday evening have been slightly changed, on account of the fact that the demand for places on the booster bandwagon have been so general that a special Salt Lake Route train has been chartered. This will overcome the necessity of leaving before the regular day's work is finished, and also the necessity of returning by wagon to Murray to secure cars back to Salt Lake.

Held's band has been secured to accompany the party, and at Sandy an other band has been put into requisition.
The booster's day is clearly a success, discovered itself on the Nephi trip, will also go with the party, and a barrel of gun powder has been ordered to make old Sandy rock with the noise of its waking up to a commercial life.

The Salt Lake contingent will be royally received and will be kept busy all evening getting acquainted with the south end of the county.

SALT LAKE POLE GETS SAD LETTER

Tells of the Reign of Terror Prevailing in Warsaw Under Russian Yoke.

BROTHER PLEADS FOR HELP.

N. Schneiberg of This City Receives Communication From Relative Who Wants to Flee.

Warsaw, Feb. 12.

The terror of going to sleep night after night, never knowing whether the morning will find life or death for the sleeper, is portrayed in a letter of Warsaw conditions, received yesterday in Salt Lake by a former resident of Poland, from his brother who is now in the midst of the revolting Polish capital. The letter pleads with the Salt Lake brother to send means for the rest of the family to leave Warsaw, and tells of the arrest and imprisonment of a cousin for being employed on a Warsaw paper, which was suppressed.

The text of the letter, as translated from the Polish in which it was written, is as follows:

Dear Brother:
"We received your letter and the fifty rubles, in which you said you had not received any word from me. I sent you two letters, but with conditions as they are at present in Russia, I am not surprised that you did not receive them. You can imagine how glad we were when we got your letter because we are cut off from the world and all its news. In Warsaw conditions are something awful. If a person lives over the day, it is something to be thankful for, because he never knows whether the next day he will be dead or alive."

The soldiers are on every corner of the streets, and they rob every citizen who tries to pass up and down the thoroughfare, and this is not all. The postoffice is closed because the clerks are out on a strike. The people prepare themselves for the spring time against the soldiers, and you know they have been out of work since the last holiday, so you can imagine the distress. I only hope we may meet you again, because we don't know if we shall ever see each other again in this world. If you could only try to bring us out of this tyranny, we would be grateful, for we never knew otherwise when your letters will find us dead."

Now dear brother, I let you know that our cousin, Jodel, is imprisoned in the citadel. He was arrested for no cause, and no one can get near him because as you know he was a prisoner one day when he was away from home, they came and took all the machinery away, and at night they took him out of his bed, and carried him to the citadel. Up to now he has not had a hearing. We don't know what charge is against him and we don't know if he is alive or dead because we cannot get word from him. I wish to God, dear brother, you could find some way to take us out of this country if you want to see us alive again, because we expect any day for matters to turn for the worse. I could write you something more cheerful because I know that your heart will bleed on reading this. I would write you more but I am very weak and sick so I close my letter, hoping that this will reach you safely, and that we shall be still alive to read your answer, or to see you personally in your free country.

BALLINE SCHNEIBERG.

The letter was written to N. Schneib-erg, who conducts a small carving business in the Eagle block.

A FOREST RESERVE.

One Established in Big Cottonwood Canyon—Governor Notified.

Gov. Cutler received a communication today from Gifford Pinchot, of the government forestry department, calling attention to the fact that a forest reserve has been established in Big Cottonwood canyon for the purpose of developing the forests of that region and also for the purpose of protecting the watershed for the city's system. It is stated that the grazing of stock in the canyon has been prohibited, and the governor is requested to see that the stock be restricted from the state lands within the reserve. The state controls lands in township 2 south, range 3 east, Salt Lake meridian and it is desired that at the expiration of the present leases on the land no stock whatever be allowed thereon.
The matter was referred by the governor to the state board of land commissioners.

IRRIGATE INDIAN LANDS.

W. B. Hill, an agent of the Indian bureau, is looking over the applications for water filed with the state engineer. He says the government has decided on some 20 projects for irrigation in the Indian lands in Uintah county, to cost about $600,000, including dams, canals and laterals sufficient to irrigate 112,000 acres. A survey team has been made, and rock cut and lumber hailed; and after July 1, the force will be increased to 150 men with teams. By the middle of May the lands will be practically occupied.

Because You Are Not Made of Iron

But only of flesh and blood, and therefore cannot withstand the attacks of the many fatal diseases that make annual appearance at this season—because you need a good tonic, blood purifier and appetizer,—you should take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The most advanced science has found in this great medicine a specific for which no substitute has ever been discovered.
It makes one feel better, look better, eat better and sleep better.
It makes people well and keeps them well.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
