RETURNED MISSIONARIES.

Elder John L. Ellertson called at the "News" office last Saturday, when he stated that he had just returned from a mission to the Northern States. He left his home in Mona, Juab county, on June 29, 1898, and was set apart for his evangelical tour on July 2, a few days later in Salt Lake City. His mission-ary experience was mosily gleaned ary experience was mostly gleaned from the north Indiana conference, where he traveled for ten months without purse and scrip and he reports that during that time he enjoyed splendid health and general good feeling.

Elder W. R., Andrew of Logan City also made a brief call at this office; like Elder Ellertson he has been laboring in the Northern States mission, principally in the northern part of the Hoosier state in the normern part of the Hoosier state in the towns of Angola, Petersburg, Indianapolis and Logans-port. He started for his field of opera-tions on October 7, 1896, breaking the journey in Salt Lake City, where he was of Ango.... d Logansset apart three days later. His experi-ence coincides with that of the majority of the noble army of young men who are devoting time and best efforts to-wards spreading the work of the Lord, to the effect that he had obtained testimony and priceless experience.

Elder D. J. Davis of the Tenth ward started for the Eastern States mission, where he had been called to labor, on April 23, 1896. He remained in New York until September 1st of the same York until September 1st of the same year when he was transferred to the Northern States mission, where he spent his time traveling and preaching the Gospel through the states of Indi-ana and Ohio. On May 1st, 1897, he was delegated to fill the position of Presi-dent of the conference contained in the Purchase state and he continuetion with Buckeye state, and in conjunction five Elders he proceeded with his labor of love with the result that there is now a flourishing branch in the city of East Liverpool and eighteen Elders are now spreading the principles of light and truth broadcast throughout Ohio. Elder Davis, who returned on the 21st inst., reports a very promising outlook from Elder W. J. Panter of Union, Salt Lake county, returned from a mislson to Great Britain on Monday last: His voluntary exile from his home occurred on October 10, 1896. For the first year of his stay in England he labored in the Liverpool conference among the mill hands and also in the town of South-port. On October 11th Elder Panter asked for a change, which he obtained, heing transferred to the London conheing transferred to the London con-ference. There he concentrated his energies principally in the town of Southampton and Dunstable, where his southampton and Dunstable, where his labors were crowned with success. Three months before Elder Panter re-ceived his release to return home he was joined by his wife, who spent the time visiting relatives in Albion's Isle.

Elder Mark Austin, who was Elder Panter's traveling companion in the British misison field, profiting by prac-tical example, deemed it was not good for man to be alone, so he sent for his wife also, who labored by her husband's side in the town of Dunstable. They both returned to JUtah last Monday. Elder Austin hails from the Sugar town of Lehl: left there on October 10, 1896, and upon his arrival in Liverpool, Eng-land, was assigned to labor in the Man-chester conference. His labors in the chester conference. His labors in the city of perpetual rain were blessed to a marked degree. He reported having en-joyed good treatment, good health and a good time generally.

Incorporated with the party, that were Elder Austin's companions across the rolling deep, were six Elders and five returning Saints, the latter having been on a visit to the lands of their nativity, and incidentally had been en-gaged in the work of genealogical re-search. Among those who did not search. Among those who did not favor this office with a call were Mrs. Rebecca Johnson and daughter from Ogden. Miss Emma Johnson of Salt Lake City. Elders Alonzo E. Hyde Jr. of the Seventeenth ward and Thomas Leishman of Logan city.

For the last two years the members of the Twenty-first ward have missed Elder William J. Heckmann from their midst. On October '10, 1896, he left his family and journeyed across land and sea to the beautiful Swiss city of Berne, where he was detailed to labor in the German, and subsequently French Captons, until called into the head office at the Swiss capital, where head office at the Swiss capital, where he put in his time carly and late in sub-editing the Church publications that emanate from that office, and otherwise attending to the general mission busi-ness in the capacity of secretary. Elder Heckmann reports having enjoyed good health and as having been benefitted by his labors. He returned to the east bench on Monday last, when there was rejoicing chez la femme.

Elder Ed. E. Pike, late of the Nine-Elder Ed. E. Pilee, iate of the Ninc-teenth' ward, was seen by a "News" man last Friday. He left the Center street home on Sept. 19, 1896, upon be-ing called to fulfil a mission to Great Britain, where he labored the entire time in the Chekenham conference, principally, in the towns of Stroud, Cheltenham and Bristol, where he in-dulged in stirring times at the hands of dulged in stirring times at the hands of a certain class of individuals who es-sayed to elevate the "moral tone" of the ancient city made famous by Se-bustlan Cabot. Elder Pike returned to Ogden, where he now resides, on No-vemher 21, 1898, having grown consid-erably in knowledge, experience and last but not least-stature. He reports having experienced a grund time during big absence from the vales and dells'of his absence from the vales and dells of Litsih.

Another returned Enter throat is grown out of knowledge almost is Alonzo E. Hyde Jr., who since April 18, 1896, has been abeant from his home in the Seventeenth ward, being engaged in missionary work in the land of the kaiser. Elder Hyde returned last Mon-day from his field of action that was concentrated in the cities of Breslau, Stettin and Berlin, he heing president of the latter conference for the last few months of this mission. He reports Another returned Elder who has sown out of knowledge almost is months of his mission. He reports the work to be progressing apace in Germany, and that there are many friends to the Eklers there who, while they may differ on religious matters, at the same time take a genuine interest in the labors of the Elders there.

The majority of Elders who recently have filled infstions in Europe will re-member Eider Emmett J. Howell, of Paris, Idaho, who returned from a suc-Paris, Idaho, who returned from a suc-cessful mission in England some months ago, having labored in the Nontingham and London conferences with indefatignable energy. He paid his first visit to Salt Lake City, since his return, on Thanksgiving day. Since returning home he has gone into politics and was the suc-cessful Democratic candidate for as-sessor and collector of Bear Lake coun-ty. Idaho, during the last election.

Elder Alexander Faddis returned to his home at Coalville on November 10, 1898, having fulfilled an honorable mis-sion in Great Britain. During the first portion of his mission he tabored in the Irish conference: principally in the citles of Belfast, Colerain and Bally-money; later he was transferred across the channel to Scottand, where he was blessed in his labors in the old historic town of Sterling. He returns looking the plature of health after his long abtown of Sterling. He returns looking the picture of health after his long ab sence from Utah since April 30 30. 1896

The go-abead little town of Riverton The go-abead little town of Riverton has experienced an addition to its cen-sus roll. Elder George H. Dansle re-turned to his home there on November 10th last having spent the time subse-quent to October 30, 1896, in filling a mission across the water in "the tight little isle." Elder Dansie labored during the entire time of his mission in Great 96, he left his the entire time of his mission in Great ross land and Britain in the Cheltenham conference.
