LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRE.—Another large house assembled at the Theatre last evening to see Neck and Neck. The same play will be repeated this evening.

A SHORT rain-fall last night. Cloudy and mild to-day.

THE TRAINS.—The following was bulletined at the Desert Telegraph office:

MONDAY, Feb. 5, a.m.—The U. P. Trains passed Ogden this morning, and are making slow time westward.

The C.P. arrived on time.

The U. C. leaves on time.

JAPANESE EMBASSY.—The Japanese Embassy are expected to arrive at Ogden to-night at 10 o'clock, when they will be welcomed upon by a delegation from this city.

WILL BE TURNED OVER.—The bonds offered by C. Marion and H. Horton, charged with burglary, being deemed unsound, they will be handed over on a ministerial basis to the custody of the U. S. Marshal.

STILL LIVING.—The last accounts we received to-day, of Dowd, who was shot in the Revere House yesterday morning, were to the effect that he still lived, but that little hope was entertained of his recovery by medical attendants.

BORN.—This is the kind of stuff that is sent over the wires westward from this city.

There are rumors that Bates has been caught by the Mormons.

"Rumors" of the above kind can be manufactured by the cord, for outside effect. There are a few characters here who are both able and willing to do any dirty work of that kind.

PLEAD GUILTY.—F. Weldon, the lessee of Faust's Hall, and whom officers Ringwood and A. Scott attempted to arrest at the Tabernacle last evening, James Clinton this morning. He pleaded guilty to the charge preferred against him and the Judge fined him $50, which was paid.

Weldon expressed, through his counsel Mr. Smith, his regret at the disgraceful proceedings of Thursday night, and desired the Court to be assured that he would not again let the hall for the holding of a masquerade ball.

THE LECTURE LAST NIGHT.—Prof. Fowler's lecture on "Love, Courting and Matrimony" was, because of its utility in every day life, one of the best ever delivered here. His ideas with regard to the status of a nation depending on its families, were very happy and truthful. He attributed the almost overthrow of France to the lack of family organizations in that country, and reasoned to show the future rise or decline of a nation, which would depend on the condition of its families.

He dwelt on the evils of sexual isolation and the excellent results accruing from the affiliation of the sexes; and upon the great importance of kindness and courtesy of life in conducing to domestic and especially conjugal happiness.

The Professor alluded to the prevalence of false modesty, which had compelled him to give exclusive lectures. In his lectures he told plain practical truths which should not offend the susceptibilities of the most destitute susceptible lady or gentleman, and although it had been announced that he would lecture to gentlemen only to-night, he had long had an idea of abolishing the exclusive feature, which had recently thought of commencing to do so.

The audience here manifested their approval and the Professor said, "If that means anything, I will say that I will lecture to-morrow (Saturday) night to all, of either sex, who choose to come," saying at the same time, however, that he expected to handle his subject without gloves, and in a philosophic manner.

It is understood therefore that the lecture to-night will be free for ladies as well as gentlemen.

Remember the time, half past seven. This is the concluding lecture of Prof. Fowler's course in the Tabernacle.

In Town.—Charles F. Robbins, Esq., of the firm of Blaik, Robbins & Co., importers and dealers in paper of all kinds of Government and Commercial streets, San Francisco, states that the firm have a large stock of print, demy, full cap and other kinds of paper on the way from Europe, which is shortly expected to arrive, and which he thinks can be laid down in this city at equally as cheap rates as the same qualities of paper can be brought here from eastern markets.

FAIR—BLOCKADE—Burglary.

CORINTH, 2.—The following telegram was received from Denver, Colorado, on the 1st: A fire occurred here this evening, destroying Eastbrooks livery stable, together with some sixty horses, and nearly all the carriages and buggies in the establishment. The loss is estimated at forty thousand dollars. No insurance.

The situation of the Union Pacific remains unchanged. A telegram from Rawlins says that the road is now open to that place, and that it extends from half way between Rawlins and Separation, to about six miles west of Creston. For about twenty miles the road is said to be in a terrible condition. According to the west reports the blockade worse than at any time before. No trains can get through the west for the next 24 hours.

The railroad people are very reticent and very little can be learned of the condition of the track and road between Medicine Bow and Laramie, which however had been able, so far, to get through the blockade. The snow is drifting heavily.

A telegram from Helens, February 1st, states that on the evening of the 1st inst., Charles Rumsey's assay offices, on Main street, were set on fire, while attendants were at supper, and a large number of choice specimens of gold and silver, and some gold dust, valued at about six hundred dollars, were carried off. There is no clue yet to the thieves.

The weather is mild and pleasant, and the coaches are coming in regularly.

COULD BE MADE TO HEAR.—Before commencing his lecture last night, Prof. Fowler said, "I do not know how this room came to be shaped as it is shaped, but I firmly believe that if this room had been extended for a quarter of a mile beyond its present length, it should be filled with people, every person present could be made to hear distinctly. I have long thought that in the style of building is embodied a principle by which an audience of any number could be made to hear a speaker without difficulty."

THE PROFESSOR'S DOCTRINE.—The Oak and Franklin says—

"Holy writ inculcates the constant observance of the law of love, and all mortals who live up to the letter of the Divine injunction to 'love one another' are pretty sure to revel in clover here below."

That is the substance of Professor Fowler's lecture last night.

It is the lowest priced paper in the Territory, the subscription being so small as to be within the reach of everybody. Valuable premiums are offered to subscribers, and every cash subscriber gets a premium besides.

Magazine in regard to the judiciary, appointive or elective, judging by the following—

"One gets a good deal of experience in Kansas with both an appointed and an elected judiciary; too much to form any conclusions in favor of either."

In the Territories people are not permitted to have much experience with elective judges, but as to the appointed judges, why, generally speaking, the less one knows about them the better. Favorable conclusions concerning most of them are impossible.

COMMERCE, 3.—A telegram from Medicine Bow says one passenger train for the west passed there at 2 o'clock this a.m., and is now lying between Medicine Bow and Carbon. The road is badly blocked between Carbon and Salt Lake. Don't think any train can reach Rawlins in the next few days. The weather is cold and high wind. Several other passenger trains west are blocked near Wilcox. At Medicine Bow it is thought they may reach there.

Rawlins, 3, noon.—The road still blocked west and east. None of the trains between here and Washakie have got through the drifts yet. The weather is warm, but the wind is very high. Snow is drifting badly west of Separation.
