band. We were then an independent unit, and could have stopped any-where along the way where there was food and water and camped fourteen days in comfort. We had our own tents, bedding, food, and in fact, everything—Just like an army in an enemy's country. The train consisted of baggage cars, cook car under the charge of the best chef in Salt Lake. Arnold Brugger of the Royal cafe, and tourist sloepers. Two cadets were to-gether in the lower berth, and one in each upper. The officers had a tourist car to themselves. When meal time came and the men began to get hungry. It took just 12 minutes to fill each plate. The cadets sat four in a seat, of course with the table be-tween them. Four cadets from each car brought in the grub in pails and pans, and dished it out as they went down the aisle. the Salt Lake High school cadets, jooking as trim and neat as on the day inty left, and marching with the precision and grace of regulars, returned from the Alaska-Yukon-Pacafic exposilion Saturday evening at 5:35 o'clock. Upon alighting from their special train, which had been delayed several hours by washouts, the boys formed and marched from the depot to Main and South Temple street, down the alsie. "After the meal was done cleaning up began, and in just one hour each cadet sat silent in full uniform with his things before him for inspection. ts Main and South Temple street, headed by the band. They were cheered by thousands of Salt Lakers who are proud of the organiztion and the young soldiers were given to un-derstand they were welcome home. The cadets had a royal time and we observed the strictest of military will be the strictest of military fulse. There was no sickness among the boys and all returned in the high-est stricts.

VISIT PACIFIC FLEET. "On the S7th, the entire corps paid a visit to the Pacific fleet. About 40 chdets went on board each boat, where they were received by the officers from the captain down, as if they were grizzied old veterans. The middless' especially took every cars to show the vessels almost from the top of the mast to the bottom of the keel to the boys. The boys had such a good time that it took several days to get them out of the habit of hitching up their trousers and trying to dance a horn-When the city council meets Tuesday evening, Councilman F. S. Fernstrom's resolution directing the chief of police to close the slot machines will come up for consideration. An effort will be made to kill it in the hands of the municipal laws committee, where it has been for a week without any action trousers and trying to dance a horn-pipe every time I gave fours left." "One day, the 28th, we constructed a steamer and took in the Senttle water having been taken in regard to it. Fernstrom intends to show that the "American" party and the saloonmen front, the navy yard and other points of interest about the sound. We were goue eight hours and had a fine time. "President Chilberg of the exposition Councilman Black's motion to re-consider the revocation of the saloon license of Demiris & Veros, proprietors of the Albany bar, will be culled The "American" members of the council are playing politics and it is probable that the license will be restored. The "American" councilmen say the place has been closed for a week and that is sufficient punishment for the first offense. The saloonmen were found guilty in the police court and fined $500 They have, appealed their case to the district court. The cantying out of the new contract will entail an expenditure of approxi-mately $2.500 for removing the garbage dumping station west of the Jordan river from its present location. The Saltair company wants $12.56 a car for hauling the garbage while the Ban-berger road only charged $1.50 a car. The cars on the Saltair was are much larger, however, and make up the dif-ference in the cost. Two big sever extensions will come

Two big sever extensions will come up before the council for confirmation. It is understood that there are not enough profests to defeat the work, so they will be ordered to make a show-ing for the "American" party. The money in the bond fund will be used to pay for the extensions. These extensions are in the western part of the city and are known as ex-tensions No. 220 and No. 225. The cost of the former extension is estimated at $135,000 and the latter at $109,000.

We were invited to parade, which we did and for one mile and a half through the streets lined four dreep on the sidewalks on each side. More people watched the cadets than appeared at the G. A. R. parade here in Sait Lake. Just how many I do not know, but there was at least 50,-900 of them, perhaps more. And it was one long roll of hand clapping and cheers. "When we were held up for 24 hours near Huntingion with live other trains, things got a little dull for everybody, so the band got out and gave a concert. Then the cadets turned themselves loose and gave a fantastic performance, the like of which I nover saw before Its official title was 'high jinks' and I have a suspicion it leads right back to that day on the warships. Anyway the five trainloads of people laughed till they were tired—and the boys came back into their own train feeling bet-"When we were held up for 24 hours
