BREVITIES.

Quite a number of shocks of earthquake have been felt in Germany.

A heavy fall of snow took place in some parts of Austria on the 16th of September.

At Cumberland, Md., lately, H. Black shot and instantly killed W. W. McKay, jr., for the seduction of his sister.

The franc-tireurs (French bushwackers) of Paris are commanded by a Jew named Jules Aronson.

Large sums are being collected all through Switzerland for the relief of the sufferers at Strasburg.

A Protestant clergyman of high standing, at Constant, in Baden, has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for gross frauds.

The cigar dealers of the little town of Lauplin, in Wurtemberg, have sent thirty thousand cigars to the German army.

Squirrels are swimming the Ohio river in droves, and are being killed in great profusion in gardens and yards near the stream.

The Rev. Dr. Aiken, Treasurer of the Orthodox Church in Amherst, N. H., has absconded with $400 belonging to the society.

There was such a loud call for lectures from Tom Hughes that it is expected by his friends that he will return to America this fall to answer the demand.

The brewers of Berlin have sent 500 kegs of beer, packed in ice, to the German army, with an attendant committee bearing glasses, spigots and mallets.

Sydney Smith once said, in an aristocratic party: "That a man to know how bad he is, must become poor; to know how bad other people are, he must become rich."

An old, dilapidated bank note is going round with a piece of yellow paper pasted on the back of it, on which is written in a bold, free hand, "Go it Bill, I'll back you!"

None enjoy life so little as those who have nothing to do. The active only have the true relish of life. He who does not know what it is to labor, knows not what it is to enjoy.

Dr. Peters, of the Hamilton College Observatory, has discovered a new planet, which he names Iphigenia. This is the tenth planetary discovery of this indefatigable astronomer.

The court of common pleas in Vanderburg county, Indiana, has granted one decree of divorce a day, on an average, during the present term, and has not got through yet.

No character can be lastingly injured by a fearless discharge of duty. Calumny or prejudice may obscure it for a time, but in the end it will shine the better for the clouds which obscure it.

The Duke of Argyll, whose son is engaged to the Princess Louise, one of Queen Victoria's daughters, has a sister who has just married Sir John McNeill, a gay boy of 75.

An Oregonian six-footer exhibits in the State fair a six-footed colt of his own raising, and also a bull with two tails. In the latter instance, however, the prize will probably be awarded to a Hibernian competitor who offers a tale with two tails.—N. Y. World.

"A package of letters," writes the Paris Boir, "addressed to German officers and soldiers, fell into French hands the other day. The package was sent to the Government at Tours. Cremona had the package at once forwarded to Count Bismarck without opening it."

An Irishman strongly prejudiced in favor of the French, almost broke his neck, the other day, at Albany, by jumping from the scaffolding of a Catholic Church, where he was employed as a laborer, as soon as he heard that it was owned by the Germans.

At Columbus, Ga., marble yard there is a solid block of marble, which is to be dug out, a metallic coffin placed therein, and the whole, after the corpse is deposited within it, to be hermetically sealed above ground. It has been ordered by a gentleman in Barbour county, Ala.

The new Italian Ambassador at the Court of Vienna, Cavalier d'Arton, is an Israelite. He is a little man with very strong Jewish features and of very humble descent. He was one of the ablest and most esteemed agents of Cavour, and is deemed one of the sharpest diplomatists of Italy.

A machine, newly invented, for making woolen goods is attracting some attention in Portland, Maine. The chief advantage claimed for it seems to be the great quantity of cloth which it is capable of producing, which is stated at 250 yards a day, or six or eight times the quantity made by the present mechanics.

The exact text of the dispatch which the Duc d'Aumale sent in answer to the offers made him on several sides to elect him to the Constituent Assembly, is as follows: "Always ready to serve my country, I accept the candidature. This is my programme: As usual, I adhere to the Government which fights and negotiates. Future adhesion to the Government freely chosen by the Constituent Assembly. Honorable peace. Liberty, order, probity."

The tombstone over Charles Dickens' grave, in Westminster Abbey, bears the following simple inscription: "Charles Dickens, born 7th February, 1812, died 9th June, 1870," the letters, which are in brass, being sunk in the foot of the tombstone, and the remains of Sheridan lie at the foot of Dickens' grave, with those of Johnson and Garrick immediately adjoining, while they are surrounded on the walls by memorials of Shakespeare, Thomas Goldsmith, Handel, Gay, Southey and others.

A Prize Fight.

St. Louis, 5.—It was given out last night in flaic circles, that the fight between Allen and Gallagher was off, Gallagher's backers refusing to risk their money. But this was only a blind, for at half-past seven this morning the parties met on the island opposite the arsenal, below this city, and fought, Allen winning in sixteen rounds; time 26½ minutes. About fifty persons were present. Gallagher was severely punished; Allen was not hurt.

ILLINOIS.

About the Resignation of Secretary Cox.

CHICAGO, 5.—The Tribune's Washington special says there is an authorized statement from the White House, that a document designed to give answers to a number of questions raised by the resignation of Secretary Cox, is nearly finished. There seems to be considerable doubt, however, whether it will be printed. It has been ascertained that as the document now stands, three points are made: first, that examinations have been required in all the departments for a number of years, and so the attempts at civil service reform by Secretary Cox were nothing new; second, the present Indian policy was originated by the President, and he proposes to carry it out vigorously; third, the correspondence, or a part of it, in the McGarrhan case.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, 5.—A special dispatch from Versailles says, two deserters from Paris say it is thought the provisional government will refuse to hold the elections, for fear of losing power. Instead of allowing candidates to run for office, they desire to submit to the people whether they will support the government of national defense. The affirmative vote which they are certain to secure will be interpreted equivalent to their own election. A feeling is growing that Favre and his friends have resolved to sacrifice their principles rather than yield their power.

A correspondent at Paris says: "Yesterday my butcher gave me notice he could not give me any more meat. I went to the war office and got a ticket, authorizing the municipal butcher to give me one fifth of a pound. I sent my servant for the meat at 8 a. m., and he returned at 2 p. m., having been compelled to wait six hours at the ward office to get the ticket."

Napoleon has appointed an agent to pay his tradesmen's bills. Placards are on all the walls calling upon his creditors to attend the sale of the effects of Napoleon and Eugene, by auction, two months after the siege is over. The provisional government refuses to deliver to the Empress her cashmere shawls and lace.

The balloon factory turns out one balloon a day. Silk is now too expensive, and balloons are made of cotton. Horse flesh steaks and rumps are sold at eighteen cents, and all other parts at eight cents a pound. There are still 42,000 eatable horses left. The catcombs have given six months' supply of saltpetre. The cellars and one vault of the Pantheon have been filled with powder.

WASHINGTON.

Judiciary.

WASHINGTON, 5.—Three important cases are set for an early hearing at the December term of the United States Supreme Court. The first involves the constitutionality of the cotton tax law, and will be argued by Judge Curtis and Mr. Evans against the Government. The second concerns the constitutionality of the confiscation acts. This will be conducted by Messrs. Curtis and Cushing against the United States. The third comes upon a writ of error from Kentucky, and involves the Civil Rights Bill, the special case being that of a white man tried in a United States Court for the murder of a negro. Judge Black appears against the Government, and will hold that it is unconstitutional to try in a United States Court a citizen of a State for murder, when the State courts are open.

BELGIUM.

BRUSSELS, 5.—Eugenie passed through this city on Thursday, incognito, on her way back to Chiselhurst. She was with the Emperor one day.

It is stated here that the disturbances have broken out in Paris.

The Nord publishes a letter from Bazaine, giving the life to Gambetta's charges and insinuations in his proclamation. The Marshal indignantly denies any treachery or treason or bargain with the Bonapartists. He reviews the causes and facts which made the surrender inevitable, after an unparalleled siege and unremitting suffering.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Election in Paris—Austria and Prussia unfriendly.

LONDON, 4, Midnight.—The Germans are retreating from Chateau Meaux and concentrating on Orleans. Skirmishes are of frequent occurrence at various points in the valley of the Loire. The Prussians are destroying the railroad around Dijon.

The French claim advantages around Auxerre and Beaune.

LONDON, 5.—The election in Paris on the question of the maintenance of the powers of government of the national defense, has resulted in an overwhelming majority for the government. The returns of the city are nearly complete, with the exception of three arrondissements. The result is as follows: In round numbers, ayes: 442,000; nays: 49,000; majority: 393,000. Perfect tranquility exists in Paris. According to the latest dispatches there have been no military movements since Sunday.

The Times this morning has a special telegram from Versailles, announcing that the conference between Thiers and Bismarck continued yesterday, in accordance with explicit orders from the Tours government. The proposals made by England have not yet come under consideration.

There was much firing yesterday around St. Cloud. Fighting continues around the fortifications.

The statements made by the Standard yesterday, relative to the arrest of the members of the provisional government, are corrected by that journal this morning. The circumstance occurred at Paris and not at Tours.

The inhabitants of the department of Oise are withholding supplies from the French army, preferring to sell them for cash to the Prussians.

The mobilization of the entire French male population between the ages of twenty and forty has been ordered.

A special to the World, London, 4.—It is now certain an armistice has been signed conditionally by Thiers and Count Bismarck. The radicals in Paris were disaffected with the terms, and hence the disturbance there; but the committee of defense, supported by the national guards, overwhelmed the faction, and will carry out the conditions of the armistice.

A special from Brussels says, during the armistice, free ingress to and egress from Paris will be permitted. The opera was re-opened yesterday, and concerts are given at the Theatre Francaise.

Three cattle merchants, who left Paris on the 29th ult., hoping to pass the Prussian lines and buy cattle in unoccupied districts, ready to bring to the city when the armistice should be declared, were arrested at Versailles.

The Foreign office is informed that relations between Austria and Prussia have grown threatening within a few days. When Bismarck's last circular was read to Bismarck, he replied in a highly unfriendly manner, and a rupture appeared imminent. Prussia is now drained of her last division of landwehr, having at home only 80,000 soldiers, who are doing garrison duty and guarding prisoners. Bazaine's surrender was made known at Vienna, however, and caused Bismarck to adopt a milder tone.

FRANCE.

Trochu's bravery extolled—Orphans of victims to the War to be adopted by the Republic.

TOURS, 5.—The Francaise says it has been agreed that Paris shall receive supplies during the armistice. It is believed that in consequence of the armistice the army of the Loire, under a guarantee, will suspend operations. The Germans are now marching from Dijon and Chagny, threatening Lyons and Bourges.

NANTES, 5.—Advices from Paris, today, by balloon, say the members of the government there had issued a proclamation to the people saying: "You gave us orders; we have remained at the perilous post which the resolution of the 4th of September assigned us. We still remain, with the force coming from you. We realize the great duties which your confidence imposes. The first is the national defense, which must be our exclusive occupation. We will repress all criminal movements by a severe execution of the laws."

The national guards, in immense numbers, flocked to Trochu on his escape from the citadel, and on the personal bravery he exhibited at a trying time. The General made a short speech in reply, in which he said: "The Republic alone can save us; if it is lost, we shall all be lost."

An Associated Press cable dated Tours, 4, says, the government has published a decree that all able-bodied men, from twenty to forty, married or widowers with children, shall be mobilized and organized by the prefects and placed at the disposition of the Minister of War. The organization must be terminated on the 15th of November. All exemptions based upon the support of family is abolished, even for those who have hitherto received such exemptions. The Republic will provide for all families recognized as necessitous, by authorities duly appointed for the purpose. The Republic will adopt the children of those who die in her service.

It is also decreed that each department shall, within two months, have as many field batteries ready as it has hundred thousands of inhabitants. In the departments the prefects are entrusted with the requisite powers, to hasten the enforcement of this clause of the decree. The first battery in each department must be ready within a month. A number of minor decrees and orders have also been issued, to facilitate and expedite military operations.

An official bulletin has been posted up, dissolving the body of France-tireurs for bad behavior before the enemy, and ordering their officers before a court-martial.
