BOLD ROBBERY
OF GROCERY STORE

Hold-Ups Make Two Other Raids
Saturday Night—Arrested
Suspects Identified.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SCOWCROFT.

Mrs. George Stoddard Injured by a
Runaway—Another Violent Death
On Cut-Off—News Briefs.

On Saturday night, about 8 o'clock, two masked men entered the grocery store of A. B. Jensen, 3201 Washington avenue, compelling Mrs. Jensen, who was alone in the store, to move away from the till and allow them to rifle it. They kept a revolver pointed at her head all the time. Earlier in the evening a 15-year-old girl was left in charge of the store for a little while, and she remembers someone looking in through the window. About 8 o'clock Mrs. Jensen, wife of the proprietor, was in charge of the store, and preparing to take the money home with her. The two fellows entered the front door, and the one with the gun pointed at her head and made her move back. The other went behind the counter, opened the till and took out the contents, which included a check for $15 and about $15 in money. The check was not indorsed. Before the two fellows grabbed the register of the telephone and wrenched it off, so as to delay the sending in of the alarm.

The woman's description of the men is quite meager. Both appeared to be young and were dressed in dark clothes, wore soft hats and each had a handkerchief over his face. One was considerably taller than the other. The police yesterday made five arrests in men suspected of being concerned in the holdup of the A. B. Jensen grocery store Saturday night. No evidence against any of the suspects was forthcoming. Mrs. Jensen failing to identify any of them, and they will probably be released this morning.

JUDGMENT AGAINST TENNEY.
Judge Rolapp yesterday decided the two attachment cases against Rudolph Tenney in favor of the plaintiff. In each case giving the Plaintiff National bank judgment for $500 with interest and Plaintiff Brothers judgment for $175 with interest.

INJURED BY A RUNAWAY HORSE.
A runaway horse knocked down and seriously injured Mrs. George Stoddard yesterday afternoon, at the intersection of Washington and Twenty-fifth streets. The horse belonged to a resident of Hooper, who lent it to an employee of Fred J. Kiesel to start to his home on the bench. The employee did not tie the animal up, but slipped off the horse and placed a quantity of provender before the seat-appearing equine while he went to eat his own dinner. The horse soon started to run away and was very difficult to handle along Twenty-fifth street and only the dangling shafts to indicate that there had been a runaway. Mrs. Stoddard was struck and knocked down by the swinging shafts, her head striking the pavement with such force that she suffered from bleeding at the ears and nose, but her injuries are not considered serious.

ANOTHER DEATH ON CUT-OFF.
J. Manning, a lineman for the Western Union Telegraph company, was struck by a light engine out on the Southern Pacific cut-off yesterday afternoon and was instantly killed. He was walking along the track and did not notice the approach of the engine. Undertaker A. P. Richey received word last night and will leave for Lakeside this morning to bring in the body.

ANOTHER HOLD-UP.
G. A. Hinley, son of A. S. Hinley, a young man residing at 2300 Adams avenue, was held up last night, a little before 11 o'clock, while on his way home up Twenty-second street, between Adams and Washington avenues.

At the funeral yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Eva Moulding Scowcroft, wife of Albert Scowcroft, the second ward meetinghouse was crowded with sympathizing friends and relatives, who came to pay their last respect to the memory of a most worthy woman. Aside from a large number of relatives, who filled up the entire center section of the meetinghouse, the employees of the John Scowcroft & Sons company, about 75 in number, attended in a body. Floral pieces of great beauty and seemingly without number were sent by sympathizing friends and relatives, and the funeral was a most impressive one.

The program included the hymns, "Rest, Rest, On the Hillside Rest," and "O My Father," by the word choir, and a feeling rendition of the song "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling," by Mrs. Will Howell. The speakers were Eugene James Drumm, John L. Herick, George Shorten, Charles P. Middleton and Bishop McQuarrie. Zebulon Jacobs of Salt Lake, an old friend of the family, offered the closing prayer. Each of the speakers had words of glory for the many good traits of character possessed by the deceased woman in her illness and her heroic and patient sufferings during sickness. The pallbearers were Joseph S. Peery, William W. Brown, Frank R. Watkins, Nathan A. Tanner, William White and Henry Emmett. The body was laid to rest in the city cemetery.

AN ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP.
An attempt was made Saturday night to hold up Samuel Jost and Alex Huss near the corner of Adams avenue and Twenty-second street, as they were returning home in a taxicab. They observed two men step out into the sidewalk a short distance ahead of them in a dark place. The gentlemen immediately turned around and ran down the street, and the hold-ups took to their heels and ran away. Officers Rackham and others followed the men for a considerable distance, but they dropped out of sight in the darkness and could not be found.
