He has issued instructions, published in the Malad Enterprise, to registrars in that county containing a great deal of assumption about the "Mormon" Church, its teachings and practices, and what it ought to do or was ex-pected to have done in relation to its principles, and gives the following as his ipse dicit for the guidance of those officers "It being so well known, so much so, that the courts could almost take indicial knowledge of the fact that lating to their methods as agricultur-D. The U.S. District Attorney for Idaho is James H. Hawley, who was nominated by acclamation as Delerate to Congress by the Democratic Convention at Boise City, on Wednesday. Standrod is a very ordinary and as may be seen by his official letter, a very ungrammatical ucrson, who was elected to the Idaho Democratic Convention two years ago and disregarded, his agreement with those who elected him, in reference te the test oath. He knows he cannot count upon the support of the people whose votes sent him there, and being extremely anxious for re-election as county attorney, he is seeking to prevent them from taking any part in the election next November.

In addition to the opinion of the Attorney General of Idaho, from which we have made the above extract, D. W. Standrod received from that gentleman, in answer to his own application, a detailed argument establishing the illegality of any question to a voter as to the name of the Church to which he belongs or what tenets it may or may not entertain.

The course pursued by this unreliable and not very brilliant young aspirant is simply one of obstruction, work employment. This is inculcated and may bring him and those who are guided by his ill-digested opinions into considerable difficulty. Legal steps will no doubt be taken to vindicate the rights of citizens under the law. Even on the construction put upon the test oath act by the Idaho courts, no such a catechism as that invented by anti-"Mormons" to accomplish their personal ends is either authorized or institled by that act.

The course of the enemies of the "Mormon" people in Idaho is similar to that pursued in all the attacks that have been made upon the Church and have been made upon the Church and its adherents. No matter how par-tial, severe and un-American may be the laws which have been framed specially to interfere with their relig-ions liberty, those laws have been ex-ceeded and their execution has been far hevond both the letter and solutions. Everything is talked over at these meetings which may be of local or general good.
