An entertainment will be given in Twelfth Ward Assembly Hall this evening by the Utah Central Club, an amateur organization. Quite a varied and attractive programme has been prepared.

The baseball game between the Nationals and Willards, on Washington Square yesterday, attracted a large and much-disappointed audience. The game was late starting, the playing was poor, and at the end of the sixth inning the Willards had to leave to catch the train. The score then stood, Nationals 5, Willards 0.

By his presence of mind a driver on a street car going westward, averted an accidental accident last evening. At the Cliff House corner, a child about two years of age ran right in front of the moving car, and without doubt would have been caught under the wheels had not the driver done good work in applying the brake.

The hottest yet this season—38 degrees in the shade this afternoon, with a prospect of a steady increase for a few weeks. Many are already preparing themselves to hie to the cool mountain retreats, while a great many more who would like to do so are unable to afford the needed and delightful change. But hot as it is to-day, we have delightfully cool nights, which bring a relief not obtained outside of these mountain valleys.

On Tuesday Mr. Henry Flamm, of Rexburg, Idaho, was coming down on the Utah & Northern train to Logan. Between Battle Creek and Franklin he took a nap, and after his arrival in Logan discovered that his pocketbook was missing. It contained about $500 in money and checks, and to say that Mr. Flamm was "in a stew" is putting it mildly. On Tuesday evening his mind was relieved on learning that the pocketbook and contents had been picked up by the conductor.

JOSEPH W. BOOTHBY is from "way down in Maine." This fact did not prevent his arrest this morning when he was detected in the act of stealing a ride on the D. & R. G. W. When taken by the officer he had a parcel in his hand, which, when opened, was found to contain an ugly looking knife, an old pistol, and a hundred or more keys, which, with the remaining articles made up a fair-sized burglary kit. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $20, but not having any money, his address for the next month will be the city jail.

FRANK REICHLENDON was before Justice Pyper to-day for having stolen a ride on the D. & R. G. W. from Lehi to this city, yesterday afternoon. He admitted his guilt, saying he had been walking all day, when the train came along and he saw a chance to ride between the locomotive and baggage cars, he could not resist the temptation. He had formerly been engaged as a cook in the railroad restaurant at Glenwood Springs, Colorado, and having been thrown out of a job, came to Salt Lake looking for employment. He said he was willing to do anything, so the court accommodated him with a ten days' contract with the chain gang.

Body Found. On Wednesday afternoon, the body of Lewis Bishop, son of Mr. M. Bishop, of Deseret, was found on a sand bar in the Sevier River, two or three miles below where he fell in last April. Decomposition had set in. The funeral took place yesterday.

Presentation. In referring to the closing exercises of the Eastern District school on Wednesday, it was omitted to be stated that the pupils presented the principal, Brother Gideon M. Mumford, with a large handsome volume, as a token of affection and esteem. A presentation was also made to Miss Merrill, who conducted the primary department.

Diphtheria Claims One More. At 5 o'clock last evening the funeral of another of Mr. E. E. Baker's children took place from the family residence on Twelfth Street East, Eleventh Ward. The deceased was a young lady fifteen years of age, and was the third in this family to fall a victim to that dread disease, diphtheria. A fourth child is now dangerously ill from the same cause.

This afternoon the death of the fourth child, a boy of six years, was announced. The family are deeply sympathized with in their great bereavement.

DEAD ON THE DESERT.

An Unknown Man Dies from Exposure—The Inquest.

The following is an account of the finding of the dead body of an unknown man in the western part of Box Elder County, west of the northern end of Great Salt Lake: GROCERS CREEK, Box Elder Co., Utah, June 7th, 1888.

Editor Deseret News: On Friday, June 1st, 1888, as James Gowan was on his way from Tooele city to the Goose Creek mountains, in Idaho, he found the body of A DEAD MAN on the desert west of Newfoundland Mountain, about nine miles from what is known as the Deep Springs situated on the north end of Newfoundland. The body was about fifty feet to the south of the road leading to the Bell Springs, located in the number, contain beautiful drinking water, and are surrounded by about half an acre of good grass. On arriving at Grouse Creek, Mr. Gowan sent a note, relating the facts, to the Justice of the Peace, who received it at 6:15 o'clock p. m. on the 31st. On the 4th of the justice with three men, he started on his way, and reached it at 11 o'clock a. m. of the 5th, after traveling over fifty miles.

An inquest was held on the spot, and as the body was badly decomposed, it was DISCREETLY BURIED THERE.

The man was apparently about forty years old, and about four feet high, had dark brown hair, teeth sound, had closed his eyes before death, and had left a mustache and goatee. He had on cotton drawers and a pair of trousers, a white shirt and red woolen undershirt, and dark woolen over-shirt, and corduroy cap. One of his hands was in a pocket, but a piece of fabric was lying in the pocket, which he must have worn on the other foot, but it had blown away.

Nothing was found by which his name could be discovered. An empty money purse was lying near him and in his pocket was found a shoe lace and some pieces of card or stubs of some kind, its use to me unknown. I enclose you a photograph you can tell its use or purpose.

Respectfully yours, B. M. COOKE.

THE VERDICT agreed upon at the inquest is as follows: The man was a stranger to the Territory of Utah.

County of Box Elder, Precinct of Grouse Creek. An inquest was held at Newfoundland Desert, on the fifth day of June, A. D. 1888, before Benjamin F. Cooke, Justice of the Peace, of Grouse Creek Precinct, in said county, upon the body of an unknown man there lying dead, by the jurymen named hereunto subscribed. The said jurors upon their oath do say that the said man (to whose name unknown) came to his death from exposure to severe cold weather, and that he was a stranger to the Territory of Utah.

In testimony whereof the said jurors have hereunto set their hands the day and year aforewritten.

MARSHALL GROVER, WILLIAM C. BATTERIDGE, JOHN HAYNES, Jurors.

BENJAMIN F. COOKE, Justice of the Peace.

The piece of card or check sent to us is a coupon from a transfer ticket issued by Grant Brothers, of this city. It is numbered 1789, but from it no clue can be obtained except that the deceased was probably in this city about six weeks or two months ago.

SHAD. 2,000,000 of Them Put into Utah Lake.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 15, 1888. Editor Deseret News: For the delectation of your brainy readers, please give place to the following genuine fish story based upon facts.

At 5 p. m., Wednesday the 6th inst., the United States Fish Commissioner, Mr. C. J. Cook, in command of Captain Wm. A. Dunnington, left Philadelphia, Pa., for Utah with 2,329,000 Delaware river shad eggs on board.

They had been gathered by the United States steamer Fish Hawk, and from it transferred direct to the hatchery and from there to the car. The car was loaded at once commencing and continued till the last were packed in the morning train.

At the Utah Central depot, which point the car reached on Sunday evening the 8th inst., the eggs were taken out and estimated, by Professor W. F. Page, in charge of the hatchery, did not exceed ten per cent, which left a margin of over 2,000,000 eggs for Utah Lake, where we planted them on Monday and Tuesday last.

The D. & R. G. W. Railroad at Battle Creek station, which point the road skirts the lake with every yard.

If the safe estimate of twenty-five per cent of these shad live and thrive as it is believed they will, this consignment in two years means 1,000,000 young shad for the market, by eating quality of which is but very little, if any, below our mountain trout.

The following visitors, from Utah, arrived per S. S. City of Rome, on last Thursday night, May 24th: Thomas Briggs, Richard Leonard and Anderson, Samuel James T. Snarr and wife, Samuel Hallett and wife, Mrs. E. Dupe, and Mrs. H. Ford, in good health and spirits.

From Elder Levi Naylor, President of the Norwich Conference, we learn that a new branch of the Church has been organized at Dilham, in Norfolk County, with eleven members, most of whom have been baptized at the late Conference at Norwich. Elder Naylor and companions have also held interesting out-door meetings at East Boston and Hering. Elder Walsh has succeeded in getting "The Second Coming of the Lord" and "Events to Precede It," published in the Metropolitan and Standard, and the Elders Dale and Jarvis secured their publication in the Heraldic Times. The brethren are to be congratulated who could not have been reached by other means.—Millennial Star, May 25.

Remarks from Rexburg. Editor Deseret News: This part of the country has been blessed of late with frequent and copious rains. The late cold spring, it was feared, would keep back all the season, but these rains, and a few days warm weather, have set vegetation as far ahead as usual at this time of the year.

Monday, at 13 o'clock precisely, found a number of the Salina comfortable seated at the table of President W. F. Rigby, which was plentifully supplied with the comforts of the table. The number, numbering about thirty, had met, unknown to President Rigby, to show him their appreciation of his presence in their midst. To say he was "surprised" would be placing it lightly. He was indeed gladly surprised, and has just returned from a 3-years' mission to England, and a six-months' imprisonment in the California State Prison.

The said evening at dusk the members of the Sevier choir, directed by their leader, Brother C. Durran, were found and heard singing their sweet songs under the window at the house of President T. E. Ricks. Inside the house were Brothers Ricks, Rigby and C. U. Grinnell and others.

The community appreciate the efforts of Brothers Durran and Rigby in their labors in the music department, and took this means of showing their feelings.

The town has concluded to have a "grand celebration" on the fourth of July. The committee appointed by the citizens are at work and a real good time is anticipated. SEACAGO, REXBURG, Idaho, June 15, 1888.

RUSSIAN TERRITORIAL AG-GRANDIZEMENT.

The Death of the German Emperor

The Imperial Technical Society of St. Petersburg has fixed upon the route of the proposed transcontinental railway system of Russia to the Pacific. This line, with the transmissorial road will open the whole of Inner Asia to Russian trade. It will be 6,400 kilometers (10,000 miles) in length, and its cost will be 400,000,000 roubles ($300,000,000). This line may Russiatize all Asia that is not British, so that its commercial and military importance cannot be overestimated.

China, Turkey, Persia and Afghanistan are large wards in geography, and yet they are included in the political dictionary of the Czar. It seems that the Gortzschakoff craze, which has afflicted the Russian government since 1882, was not to be perpetual, and the Czar's conquests were finally to recognize the truth that Asia, and not Europe, was the proper field of Russian expansion. In this connection considerations of geography are important.

Europe, including Poland and Finland, has an area of 1,800,000 square miles, while the area of Siberia exceeds 4,000,000 square miles. The latter is that vast wasteland, double the area of his empire outside of Siberia and to carry Slav aggression farther than any of his predecessors.

A boundless field for emigration is being opened in the new conquests. While Germany is utilizing her surplus population to guard against possible attack and driving her young men to the United States, where they can forget German and learn English, Russia is creating new wealth and military power. The iron chancellor, and not justly, Bismarck, and not justly, Cesar, is a prophet. The younger Pitt was determined that Napoleon should not destroy the British empire, and he was right. Napoleon was to be a prophet. The younger Pitt was determined that Napoleon should not destroy the British empire, and he was right. Napoleon was to be a prophet.

When 100,000,000 people become civilized and, like Germany, armed to the teeth, and dangerous, and especially so when the 100,000,000 may easily double or triple in number, the Russian and Persian empires exhausted themselves with four centuries of war, only to make with an easy conquest for the Arab and Slavic Russian Czar and the French alliance very convenient to keep Germany in check, while she continues to build up a military force which will overcome Germany and France combined.

Russia and Great Britain are the only modern nations which, like the Romans, can assimilate conquered peoples and create new seats of power in distant domains. Every year makes the Czar's hundred millions of subjects more civilized, and civilization is military strength. The salvation of Germany is to attack her enemy at once, but this is exactly what even Prince Bismarck is afraid to do. The German army is a last resort. It is guaranteed for use in case of an emergency, but it is not to be used if such a catastrophe can be avoided. "We are ready to fight, but do not want to," is the Chancellor's declaration to Europe.

Russia must be created new, or her growth will make her invincible. Germany must be attacked before she can attack. France must be reckoned with at the same time. In uniting Germany, Bismarck has also kept out of the Turkish principalities, but has neglected to prevent Russian aggression in Asia, which is now more dangerous to Europe than an advance to the Bosphorus.

There is no occasion at the present moment for alarm. This is an era of arms and armies, but not of war. The armies of the world are full of iron-clads which never fight. Light rifles and modern artillery are being made agreeable to war, that nations prefer to manufacture rather than use them. One of these days a war will break out which will blow up a whole army at once, and so keep the peace for want of fighting. Possibly that is the best kind of peace, in view of the certainty that it cannot be disturbed.

How much the death of the Emperor, which occurred this morning, is likely to change the present situation in Europe, I will consider in another article. In his demise one of the best of Germany passes away. Frederick III was as great a good German as any man of his time. He was the best of his kind, "Fritz" is the name of his beloved.

DR. ISAACSON. SALT LAKE CITY, June 14, 1888.

Bound Over. Wm. Fuller, the young man who was arrested a few days ago on a charge of burglarizing a Sevier Street saloon, was before Justice Pyper yesterday afternoon. The result of the proceedings was that the accused was placed under $800 bonds to await the action of the grand jury at the September term of the Third District Court.

"Star" Notes. The fifth company of this year's emigration will leave Liverpool on Saturday, June 23d, 1888, per S. S. Wyoming, of the Great Britain Line.
