

THE EVENING NEWS.

GEORGE Q. CANNON,
EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Tuesday, November 22, 1909.

The Blacks of Baton Rouge and vicinity, in Louisiana, have issued a printed circular calling for "convention of Negroes for the purpose of adopting measures in regard to Coolie labor and other damages which threaten the colored laboring population."

The Negroes are imitative and are following the footsteps of the Whites with great unanimity. The threatened influx of Chinamen doubtless causes them as much uneasiness as the introduction of the same class, to the miners and others of the States of California and Nevada. In those localities white men hold conventions to regulate the labor question and to exclude "John Chinamen" from the labor market; and why should not Negroes have the same privilege? It is said that the friends of the freedmen in the East blame them for the meditated introduction of Coolies, to which the planters have been driven through the neglect of their labor by the freedmen, to attend to barbeques and political meetings. Had it not been for this it is probable that Coolie labor would never have been agitated or thought of.

The patience of the Southern planters, however, has been so severely tried by the conduct of the freedmen, who indulge in holidays on the slightest pretext, and are not to be counted upon, that the former have been in a manner forced to the expedient of meditating the employment of some other class of laborers more to be depended upon.

The best "convention" the colored population of the South can hold, and the wisest measures they can adopt, will be to make up their minds to accept the situation and attend diligently to their work, and by doing so, show that they can be relied upon as a steady, industrious class.

The Washington Evening Star thinks that Chicago has been favored beyond her desert this week, having her both Parepa Ross and Jo Jefferson to cater to the tastes of her citizens, as "East Lynne," "Lodell Western," and that sort of thing would be more in keeping with their style.

The Wisconsin Register informs the people of that section that "the notorious bush-whacker and assassin, the leader of the Lawrence massacre, Quantrell, has been in their midst, and that eight thousand dollars have been offered by the Government for his arrest. It says:

"The lawless and miserable carcass of this wretch would chill the stygian waves of damnation."

If the Register's ideas about the chilling effect that "carcasses" will have is correct, and the occupants of the "waves" have any influence in the matter, it is but reasonable to expect that Quantrell will soon be "sent for."

Convicts fail to blow up. Fire Department to be reorganized. Spain makes a formidable show.

An unsuccessful attempt was made this morning by the convicts in the Trenton State prison to blow up the walls with powder, to effect their escape. The explosion occurred but was not sufficient to demolish the walls.

BUFFALO.—Lake Egan, a man split away from New York by police Superintendent Kennedy, who had secreted himself in Jamaica, N.Y., in a box, was brought back today as a writ of Habeas Corpus was honorably discharged by Judge J. Van Dusen.

The New York Evening Post says it is asserted upon the authority of the Democratic leaders in this city, that the Metropolitan Fire Department is to be reorganized by the next Legislature, and among other matters it says that each company will be allowed twenty-five men instead of twelve, as at present, and the number will be increased to thirty. While this will be an increase of men it is claimed that the expenses will be less.

The investigation of the alleged attempt, with which Superintendent Kennedy, of the Metropolitan Police, was charged, in the case of Lake Egan, alias Farrell, alias Gifford, terminated today. The evidence clearly established that in the delivery of the prisoner to the sheriff, the Superintendent acted in the interest of law and justice.

It is surmised that the Spanish man of war, Pizarro, which arrived on Saturday has brought sufficient arms to man the gunboats lying at Delamater. Fifteen boats can be got ready for service in ten days, fifteen are being got ready in six weeks. The force of armed men guarding the fleet is still kept up.

It is believed that the Erie and Northern Canada and the Hudson River navigation will close between the 7th and 10th. All heavy shippers in this city have stopped forwarding Western dry goods and other merchandise to Buffalo.
