

CONFERENCE OF RELIGION CLASS

Various Stakes Will Hold Separate Sessions to Centralize Work.

OFFER SUGGESTIVE PROGRAM

General Superintendency Arranges List of Subjects, Which May Be Altered if Deemed Advisable.

Conferences of the Religion class workers will be held in the various stakes during this season rather than grouping several stakes together into a district convention. This will bring the work nearer home, and while it will greatly multiply the number of meetings held, and preclude so full an attendance of the members of the general board, yet local needs and conditions can be better considered and provided for.

The following suggestive program has been prepared, but the superintendency of any stake is at liberty to modify or substitute other topics to meet local demands.

- 1.—Guardianship work.
- 2.—Application, the best home preparation of the lesson.
- 3.—Originality in teaching.
- 4.—The fifth best to bear proper testimony.
- 5.—Reports of conditions in the stake.
- 6.—The relation of the Religion Classes to the Church schools and auxiliary organizations.
- 7.—How best to secure the interest of the pupils.
- 8.—Relation of Religion Class work to the work of elementary district schools.
- 9.—How can we best help the pupil form the habit of prayer?
- 10.—How best secure the support cooperation of the parents.

MRS. CARRIE DAVEY DEAD.

After more than a year's suffering from heart trouble, Mrs. Carrie E. Davey died yesterday at the home of her father, O. F. Davis, 458 Fourth East street. It has been known for several weeks past that Mrs. Davey could not recover, and to no one was the fact better known than to herself. Yet she struggled patiently and heroically against the ravages of the disease, which was steadily augmented by dropsy.

Mrs. Davey was the widow of Frank E. Davey, formerly a resident of this city. When his wife's health became impaired Mr. Davey gave up his position as one of the local railroad officers and took her to California. She was not specially benefited by the change, business reverses overtook the husband and he ended the struggle by taking his own life. Mrs. Davey steadily declined from that time. She left one child, a girl, 1 year old, and is survived also by her father, two brothers and a sister. The interment will be at the home of the late Frank D. Hobbs. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the residence, commencing at 3 o'clock.

BURLINGTON MAN LIKES SALT LAKE

J. E. Buckingham Sees Evidences Of Growth on All Sides.

BROTHER OF OLD O. S. L. SUPT

"Would Take Me a Month to See Everyone He Asked Me To See."

J. E. Buckingham, assistant general passenger agent of the Burlington, and a brother of E. B. Buckingham, formerly superintendent of the Oregon Short Line in this city, but now with a livestock company in Omaha, is visiting Salt Lake today. With R. F. Neslen, general agent of the Burlington in this city, the visitor made the rounds of the railroad offices and spent several hours just rambling around town. Mr. Buckingham, like his brother, E. B., is a favorite in Utah, and shares an enviable place with him in the esteem of all western railroaders. Also like his "big brother," the Burlington man is good natured, and to meet him once is to hope for lifelong acquaintance. His travels throughout Railroad Exchange this morning was one series of informal receptions, in which all the attaches of each office visited, would gather around the visitor and chat with him at length. He knows every railroad from president down to "steno," and every railroad is proud of it. "I am out on business, of course," said the Burlingtonian, "this is a peccolod visit and is nothing significant. Yes, I know, all the Missouri superintendents were out here a few days ago, but my following them is just a coincidence. Not that the Burlington hasn't a soft spot for Utah and Salt Lake—all Burlington officials who have come to Utah are among its best boosters in the east. This is a fact. And none of them like Utah and Salt Lake better than I do myself," he added earnestly.

The conversation was in progress on the corner of Main street and Third South. Mr. Buckingham sized up the neighborhood and a second later was talking enthusiastically about Salt Lake. "Say, this city is growing. Its growth does not need pointing out, for the most unobserving visitor could not help seeing the building going on everywhere. This is the first time I've been in town since Railroad Row became a thing of history through the gathering of offices in Railroad Exchange here. The offices are beautiful and this whole particular portion of town is certainly undergoing a transformation. Mr. Neslen and I have been strolling around the business district and the same signs of growth are everywhere. It is evident this is the coming city of the west."

Mr. Buckingham reports that his brother, E. B., formerly of this city, is prospering in Omaha, where he went after resigning his position here. "He sent regards to the railroad and newspaper boys and to all acquaintances. Were I to try to meet everyone he mentioned, I could not be sure to see him and a month's vacation," was the way Mr. Buckingham put it.

From Salt Lake the Burlington man will return to Omaha.

MALPRACTISE CHARGED

Dr. E. S. Wright Made Defendant in a $10,000 Damage Suit by T. A. Horne, Jr.

T. A. Horne, Jr., has filed suit in the Third district court against Dr. E. S. Wright, charging malpractice. The complaint recites a long story of alleged incompetent treatment of plaintiff's young son, Leon Ross Horne, aged 8 years, by Dr. Wright. It being alleged that the doctor accepted the employment to care for the child but did not use proper care or skill to ascertain the nature of the child's malady, which is alleged to have been a large laryngeal diphtheria. It is further charged that the doctor inserted a tube in the child's throat and left it there for two days without other or further treatment, and that he was under the alleged that a few minutes after the insertion of the second tube in the child's throat, and after the departure of the doctor, the child expired in the last stages of the disease.

Doctor Wright is charged with gross neglect, carelessness and incompetency in the treatment of said child, and judgment in the sum of $10,000 is asked against him.

RALLY SEASON APPROACHES END

How Various Parties Will Spend Final Nights Before the Casting of the Vote.

DEMOCRATS IN SALT LAKE

They Plan Many Rallies for Monday—Republicans Will Scatter Forces Over the State.

With what display of old time campaign pyrotechnics is this political season to come to an end? The good old fashioned rally on the closing night, to which the people turned out en masse and built bonfires all along the route to the open air rostrum, seems to be passing in the modern methods of disseminating political opinion. With the picture machines, the phonographs, and piles of pamphlets praising Taft and Bryan, the work of the national speakers in Utah has been supplemented.

In local issues the plans carried out so far, of many small rallies, punctuated by a few larger ones, seem destined to pursue its course to the final finish.

Saturday and Monday night are the closing chances to get in another lick of argument. The Democrats plan Monday night to assault the air with arguments from every rostrum. Salt Lake has for long. Already a dozen rallies have been commenced, and the belief of the leaders that their cause is prospering has caused them to decide upon as brilliant a finish to the campaign as can possibly be made.

REPUBLICAN PLANS.

The Republican plans for the final windup call for a reweeping of the entire state, and the orators will all be out to do it. The Howell going home to close the campaign on Monday night among his neighbors, and Senator Smoot doing the same. At Provo and at Logan Monday evening both of these members of the congress and delegation will address their neighbors in the political battlefields from which their progress in public life commenced. Senator Catherall will be busy on the final evening. Tomorrow night he will be at Murray, Saturday at Park City, and Monday at Eureka. Utah county will hear Willard Done on this same evening at Lakeside, while H. A. Smith will be at Springville, A. L. Thomas at Spanish Fork, Kayville, and William G. Mann will and his southern series at Panguitch on Saturday evening.

Saturday will be almost as important as Monday in the Republican strategy. Senator Sutherland at Park City, W. D. Livingston at Sanpete, A. L. Thomas at Heber, William Spry at Logan, M. M. Knight and J. J. Cannon at Mill Creek, P. P. Christensen at Mexican Wells will do the rallying for that evening. The "American" party flag rally Saturday evening will be its final and only demonstration on a large scale in Salt Lake. The impressment of city laborers and employees into line on penalty of losing their positions guarantees a crowd for the line of march.

VOTING MACHINE READY

A voting machine has been installed in the Deseret News Business Office, and will remain up till Saturday evening. Voters of any political faith are invited to call and familiarize themselves with its workings.

BETTING BOARD ATTRACTS CROWD

Many Wagers as to Political Situation Are Posted for Takers on the Curb.

TAFT MONEY IS NOW COVERED

The Large Odds at Which It Is Offered Make It Attractive to Citizens Of Parties.

Today the festive election bet is coming forth from the recesses of political faith in quantity considerably increased from yesterday.

The really heavy betting, however, will begin when returns are available from the post-registration canvass. This work is being vigorously pushed by at least one party today, and it will probably be finished by tomorrow night, which should lower the money now being held in reserve until the psychological moment to plant it for takers at seductive odds.

On some of the larger political problems, however, money already finds quick takers. Taft money is being pursued by Bryan money, although the odds offered are large. Several large Taft bets at 2 to 1 were taken yesterday. Here is the collection as it appeared at noon today on Second South street:

$1,000 to $500 Spry is elected.
$100 even Grosbeck is elected.
$125 to $500 Bryan is elected.
$150 to $100 Taft carries Ohio.
$150 to $50 Knight is not elected.
$1,000 the whole Republican state ticket is elected.

TALKING ELECTRIFICATION.

Eastern Expert Confering With President Simon Bamberger.

H. V. Hunt of Chicago, representing the electrical department of the American Locomotive Works, is in town confering with President Bamberger of the Salt Lake & Ogden railway with reference to supplying the road with its electrical equipment when the change from steam to electricity. It is believed the change can be effected at a cost not to exceed $200,000, and possibly for $250,000. The direct system will be used, the power to be furnished by the Utah Light & Railway company. While the latter company may not be in immediate position to furnish the extra current required, it will be able to do so easily after the great 3,000-horsepower motor-generator is in position at the West Temple street station. As long as the Salt Lake & Ogden road does not have to install its own power plant, the electrification will consist in equipping cars with motors or purchase of electric engines and erection of the overhead plant.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.
