PASSING OF A WEBER PIONEER

Isaac McKay Closes Honored and Eventful Career at Sixty-eight.

SUCCESSFUL RAID OF POLICE.

Find Stolen Goods in the Wilderness And Arrest Six Hobos—Miss Eva Nerden Victim of Pneumonia.

Ogden, July 20.—In the demise of Isaac McKay which occurred at 3:30 yesterday afternoon at the family residence 663 Twenty-fifth street, Weber county loses one of its stalwart and most highly respected citizens. He was taken sick just four weeks ago yesterday. At first great hope for his recovery was entertained, but when dropsy developed there was little hope of his surviving it.

Isaac McKay was born in Scotland, November 2, 1839, was the son of William and Ellen Owan McKay. When a boy about 15 years of age he became a member of the Mormon Church, and in 1859 emigrated to Utah coming to Weber county, taking up his home among the pioneer residents of the valley where he lived, doing much to assist in the upbuilding of that valley. He made his home there until 1903, when he removed to Ogden.

He possessed those sterling qualities that go to make up a man whom everyone respects. At the time of his death he was a faithful member of the high priests of the Mormon Church. He was a brother to County Commissioner David McKay and uncle to Elder David O. McKay.

A loving wife and five children survive him. One of his sons, Hobey McKay, is now laboring as a missionary in Samoa, and his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Stevenson, is at Baltimore with her husband, who is studying medicine. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 4:30 p. m. in the Fourth ward meetinghouse.

STOLEN GOODS RECOVERED.

Ogden, July 20.—A gang of six men all suspected of being implicated in the burglarizing of a box car in the Union depot yesterday afternoon, were arrested by officers and are now languishing in the jail.

A report was sent to the police department by Freight Agent Chevers of the Harriman line that some one had broken open a box car in the depot yards near the old water tank and stolen a quantity of clothing. The officers were detailed on the case and immediately started on a still hunt among the brush near the Weber river. Officer Morrissey after considerable time located a crippler who gave him the name of Rob James, sitting on a pile of new clothing in a secluded spot in the brush. He was placed under arrest and Morrissey concluded to wait with him and see if his pals did not return. He was right, in a short time along came Fred Clark, J. Keating, and Ed Deal. They were given the high sign by James, who fired several shots at them, bringing Deal to a halt and he took the two over to the patrol wagon and to the police station. Several boys saw the five men and kept an eye on them until the boys got to the Union depot when they notified Railroad Detective Baker who went in and arrested them. They fought the officer and were giving him a hard struggle when Al Herlick came to his assistance and the two, who give their names as Clark and Keating, were placed under arrest.

Later Officer Martin heard of two men trying to sell a suit of new clothes on Twenty-fifth street and then located them with the clothes still in their possession. At the station they gave their names as Nephi Adams and F. W. Bowen. The clothes are similar to those taken from the car and it is believed the men belong to the same gang. They had 11 suits of clothes in the bundle on which James was sitting when arrested. The police have placed the men in separate cells and hope to get a confession out of them. The pilfering of freight cars in the depot grounds is of frequent occurrence, and the officers believe they now have the gang who have been doing the work in jail.

PASSED WORTHLESS MONEY.

Last evening Detective J. F. Ponder placed under arrest a man giving the name of Frank H. Burns, charged with passing worthless money. Burns, it is claimed, hired a room from a lady, giving her $300. The lady's husband was worth $100 in payment for the room, receiving in exchange $950 in silver. He tells a long story as to how he came in possession of the worthless money, which the officers do not believe.

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA.

Pneumonia, which has proven so fatal the past year, has claimed another victim, Miss Eva Nerden, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Nerden, who died at 7 o'clock last evening at the family residence on Stewart's Lane, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets. She was the eldest daughter in the family, and a child of sweet, lovable disposition. She was born in Provo, Utah, Feb. 17, 1895, and has lived with her parents in Ogden since a little child. The funeral services will be held Sunday noon at the Third ward meetinghouse.

FUNERAL OF MRS. STANGER.

All those who assembled at the Marriott ward meetinghouse yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mrs. Isabelle Stanger Amidon, were unable to get seats, the meetinghouse was so full. Bishop Moroni S. Marriott presided at the services which commenced at 2 o'clock. The ward choir sang a number of appropriate selections. The speakers were Elders Hans Madsen, George Butler, John Powell, Patriarch George W. Larkin and Bishop Marriott. The funeral services of the pure, godlike life of the deceased, of the many sacrifices she made for the gospel sake and her true motherhood, were taken back to her last resting place in the Ogden city cemetery. A wealth of beautiful flowers covered the bier.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

County Attorney Harris has prepared a complaint against the Rocky Mountain Trout company charging them with violating the game law.

Pioneer day will be suitably observed in most of the county precincts in Weber county; committees have been at work for some days making appropriate arrangements as to programs and sports.

The many friends of Mrs. Childs of Riverdale, who underwent an operation recently for tumor, will be pleased to learn she has recovered sufficiently to return home.

WOMEN RECITE THEIR WOES.

The Old Tale of Deserter and Drunkenness Justifies Decree in Each Case.

Judge Ritchie handled the regular weekly divorce calendar yesterday afternoon in the absence of Judge Morse and granted three divorces. Mary Harrington informed the court that she had not seen or heard a word from John Harrington since he deserted her 12 years ago. She stated that they were married at Fall River, Mass., on Feb. 2, 1893, and that Harrington deserted her on Dec. 28, 1895, and ever since that time has failed to support her. She was granted a divorce and the custody of their child.

BRITCHER VS. BRITCHER.

Desertion and failure to support are the grounds upon which Mary E. Britcher was divorced from James E. Britcher, whom she married at Laramie, Wyo., on May 22, 1902. Soon after their marriage they went to York, Penn., to live and in January, 1904, Britcher deserted her and their child in order to join the navy. He also failed to support her so she was compelled to come to Bingham and live with her parents. She said that Britcher also deserted the navy but was captured and taken back to serve his time. She was granted a divorce and the custody of their child.

WAS HABITUALLY DRUNK.

Camilla J. Hendrickson testified that Harold P. Hendrickson was guilty of habitual drunkenness, had deserted her more than a year ago and had also failed to support her. She was married on Dec. 20, 1905, and Mrs. Hendrickson stated that her husband deserted her in October, 1906, and went to Elly, Nev. She was given a divorce, $500 in attorney's fees, $15 court costs and was allowed to resume her maiden name, Camilla Nielson.

FOR ATTEMPTING TO ROB.

EASTERN BALL NOTES.

Shannon of the Giants is the leading run-getter of the National league. Keeler has at last commenced to climb the golden ladder. His batting average is now well over the .350 mark.

St. Louis has four big sluggers. Three of them, Niles, Pickering and Wallace, are well into the glorious 300 circle, while Stone is rapidly approaching it. Stone was canned for bottling the crowd.

Overall has acquired a habit of winning games and rarely breaks into the debit side of the pitcher's ledger.

In the National league the real fight is for second place and any of the three teams in the running are in the "almost" prize when the season's tallies are counted.

Back Ficker leads the Western league with 22 stolen bases. He is batting at a .346 clip.

The German Carriac is still pitching a good ball for Jersey City and breaks into the shut out column regularly.

Wesley Keeler has the grand batting average of .377 and is still in the playing. In that time he has batted the table on two occasions, been second in the batting race between the hours of 3 and 4 p. m. Goes out of business in the winter season. The chief attribute of the pitcher is his ability to throw a hammer, lungs like a rhinoceros and a remarkably keen eyesight, which enables him to play a game of track umpire whose nose is dangling over the contestants. The "fan" subsists chiefly on peanuts and pop. Ever and anon he chews tobacco or smokes a cigar.

PRODIGIOUS CROPS.

Hay has gone up to $11 per ton, and the third crop of alfalfa is being cut. Alfred A. Cluff of this place cut his first crop April 15 and his fourth crop of hay, and says he had two tons to the acre.

Diphtheria Scare at Nephi.—The residents of Nephi had quite a scare last week as several cases of diphtheria were reported, and it was feared the Black Hawk epidemic would have to be postponed, but after a careful investigation of the situation, Drs. Miner and Manton have given out definite report that there is no special cause for alarm as the cases reported came by a party from another town exposing the few homes where the cases have occurred, and there will be no alarm as any other cases. The entertainment festivities will continue three days next week with attractions every day and evening.

COALVILLE.

Death of Mrs. Hannah Eldredge, a Native of Nauvoo.

Special Correspondence.

Coalville, Summit Co., July 18.—Mrs. Hannah Eldredge, wife of Edmund Eldredge, and daughter of Jacob and Margaret Huffman, died at Coalville, July 17, of kidney trouble, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Eldredge was born in Nauvoo, Ill., Dec. 4, 1845. She was baptized shortly after her arrival in Utah, at the age of about 17, and remained a faithful member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints to her death.

She came to Utah in Milo Andrus' ox-train from Iowa in 1861, stopping at Coalville where she has made her home nearly ever since. She was well known in Coalville and vicinity for her kindness to the sick and her assistance to the poor.

She was the first president of the Young Ladies' association in Coalville, which position she occupied for about 12 years. She also held the position of counselor to three presidents in the Relief society of Coalville, filling this position for number of years. She was also an officer in the Stake Relief society for a number of years. In all these positions she was an ardent and sincere worker and was much loved and mourned by the people of this district.

Observations with his instrument, Orson Pratt determined the altitude of the camp to be 7,245 feet above sea level.

In the main camp a number of wagons were repaired, including George A. Smith's which broke down the day before. One of Mr. Crow's men arrived from Elder Pratt's advance company, which he reported about nine miles ahead. The main company, leaving Blanding, New Mexico, and going west, started on East Canyon creek and traveled 7 1/2 miles over the worst road yet experienced by the pioneers. They crossed the creek 11 times and had to cut willows and repair the road all the way.

PILGRIMAGE OF THE UTAH PIONEERS SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

TUESDAY, JULY 20, 1847.

The morning was frosty in the respective pioneer camps. Orson Pratt, in charge of the advance company, wrote a description of the road and country he and others had traversed for several miles ahead, and left the same deposited in a conspicuous place for the benefit of the camp which was soon expected to pass. The advance company resumed the journey about 8 o'clock in the morning, being hindered more than usual by some cattle which had strayed a short distance. They traveled during the day about six miles over the mountains, laboring diligently upon the road. By his usual believe they now have the gang who have been doing the work in jail.
