

Several stormy sessions last week with Col. Sterrett. He presented several bills on personal accounts but only one was allowed. The committee paid $70 for his private room at the Knutsford hotel. Sterrett had the room seven days during the G. A. R. encampment at $10 a day.

Sterrett also incurred bills for rooms for all the past commanders and the Grand Army nurses who were present. These obligations were incurred during the stormy sessions of the committee and the bills were not presented until after the visitors had left.

HANDLED PASSES QUICKLY.

The only things that Sterrett had personal supervision over were the passes to the different resorts, but the veterans did not get them. After the first concert at the tabernacle, the tickets were taken up which were held by persons who were not members of the G. A. R. and the veterans and their wives were passed on their badges. Manager Heaton of the Salt Palace bicycle track had the same experience. The Salt Palace management did not issue free tickets, but passed the veterans and their wives on badges. The same was true at the Tacon and Wandermere.

Col. Sterrett spoke about a farewell entertainment, but the committee did not take kindly to it. He also thought that the least the committee could do was to pass a set of resolutions thanking him for his services. When he left for the depot yesterday afternoon there was nobody there to escort him to the train and he expressed himself on the subject in a caustic manner.

In his interview, he said, that the committee had wrangled over nearly every bill and that he was disgusted with the whole affair. He declared that the people were unpatriotic and gave no support to the affairs of the encampment. He did not deny, however, that the encampment was a great success and handled in excellent shape by the local committee.

Col. Sterrett said that he was going to St. Louis, where he was to be tendered a reception. He was accompanied by his two nieces who acted as stenographers, and J. C. O'Neill, his assistant.

MR. ECCLES SAYS TALK IS PREMATURE

Many Details Yet to be Arranged Before Montana Town Gets Sugar Factory.

David Eccles, president of the Amalgamated Sugar company, was in Salt Lake this morning, having just returned from a visit to Harlem, Montana, where he was met by H. H. Rolapp, secretary of the company, who had been travelling in Europe some months. The two gentlemen spent some time looking over the agricultural possibilities in Harlem with a view to the establishment of a sugar plant there. Mr. Eccles stated to a "News" representative this morning that the announcement that a sugar plant had been definitely decided on for Harlem was altogether premature, as there were many preliminaries to be arranged.

The most important of which was the question of favorable rates from the Great Northern Railroad, and until this had been secured, absolutely nothing could be done. He had found that the consent of the government could be obtained to have the Indians on the reservation near Harlem, employed in the sugar plant, which is a favorable place, and with proper management he thought, a sugar factory there could be made a success, but as yet, the whole question was in the air.

The deceased was a native of Great Britain, coming to this country while a young man. He became private stenographer to President Brigham Young, in which capacity he served for many years, reporting also the services in the Tabernacle. Mr. Irvine later entered newspaper work, and he was a contributor to the Salt Lake dailies. He leaves a widow and several grown children.

MR. AUSTIN SAYS LEHI WILL HAVE GREAT CROP

Encouraging Reports from Beet Fields in Utah and Idaho—Nampa Plant to Close.

Within thirty days the delivery of beets to the factories of the two sugar companies operating in Utah and Idaho will begin, and for the next three or four months thereafter, all will be worked to the full capacity turning out refined sugar.

George Austin, agricultural superintendent of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company for the Utah division, is in town today, having just completed an inspection of the beet crop in his district. Mr. Austin says:

"We shall work a bumper crop at Lehi, running anywhere from 10,000 to 12,000 tons; at Garland the yield will not be less than 70,000 tons, according to present estimates. In fact, both the Lehi and Garland factories, according to present indications, will have all the beets that they can successfully handle. I have been up and down the Bear River valley both sides, and the crops look superb. The reports are equally promising from the southern district, and the outlook is excellent in both Idaho and Utah. The weather is just what the farmers have taken great care of their crops."

Mr. Austin is still enthusiastic over the Bear River valley, which he thinks the best natural beet growing district in the west, owing to its uniformity and irrigation facilities. He says the heavy recent drop in the price of oats and the fall in wheat have somewhat disappointed farmers in the Bear River valley, but it has served anew to demonstrate the value of the beet crop in comparison to others, as the price of beets never varies and the farmers get cash almost at their doors.

Manager T. R. Cutler is still in Idaho and is going thoroughly over the beet fields. His private secretary, George A. Smith, who is in charge of the Utah division, and that of Agricultural Superintendent Mark Austin, is that the crop at Sugar City, Idaho Falls, and Blackfoot is very promising, and that the beet crop in the north will be 25 per cent larger than last year. All the tests taken to date show that the sugar contents of the beets are better than last year at the same time.

The only disappointment in the beet crop is found at Nampa, where the extreme drought and heat, followed by the presence of the white fly, will cut down the crop from 50 per cent to 60 per cent. The company has, therefore, decided not to open the Nampa plant this year, but to ship the beets grown in that district to the nearest sugar factory.

The men engaged at the Nampa factory are being distributed among the other five plants.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE ENDS.

Methodists Will Probably Adjourn Tomorrow—To Make Appointments.

The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal mission in Utah, will probably be ended tomorrow evening at which time it is expected Bishop Berry will announce his appointments. The statement is made semi-authoritatively, that the only change in the Utah mission will be the appointment of a successor to the Rev. D. M. Heikel of the 11th church, and this position will undoubtedly be given to the Rev. D. W. Crane.

At the session this morning Bishop Berry delivered an address on the importance of midweek services, or Wednesday prayer services, and the method of conducting them.

The report of the statistical secretary was read and showed a satisfactory condition of affairs generally. A committee was appointed, to select the next place of the annual conference. This committee will report sometime before the end of the year. The report of the conference treasurer will be received and acted upon when the final report of the statistical secretary is submitted.

There is a session this afternoon to hear further reports from members of the conference, and this evening a banquet and reception will be tendered to Bishop and Mrs. Berry at the Liberty Park church.

Tomorrow, beginning at 9 o'clock, the annual festival will be held, presided over by the Rev. David W. Crane, and at 10:45 services will be held at which Bishop Berry will be the speaker. The services at the other Methodist churches, will be dispensed with and all concentrated at the First M. E. church. In the evening there will be a mass meeting of the young people of the church and they will listen to an address by Bishop Berry. Following this will in all probability, come the appointments from the presiding bishop.

RECORD WEEK FOR PERMITS.

Total for Seven Day Period is Nearly Million and a Half.

A. B. Hirth, city building inspector, on Saturday issued four permits for improvements calling for expenditures of $116,500. They were to: Keyser Investment company, five story brick and concrete fire proof warehouse, 328 West Second South, $70,000; Alexander Realty company, three story, 62 room brick apartment, 320 South West Temple street, $40,000; V. With the issuance of the above permits the total for the week reached the splendid figure of $1,457,000. Among these is included the Utah hotel, $1,200,000; the Covey flats, $50,000, and two or three large residences.

POLICE FAIL TO IDENTIFY VICTIM

Gus Veros' Case for Violating Liquor Ordinance is Taken Up.

The sudden importance attached by the city to the case against Gus Veros, arrested July 18 for violating the liquor ordinance by selling beer on Sunday, was manifested today in its being given preference over all other cases. Contrary to the custom of the court under which trial cases come last on the docket and the list of petty offenders is disposed of first, the Gus Veros case was called first, a few minutes after 10 o'clock and dragged through until after noon, when it was continued until 2 o'clock. In all that time the petty offenders were compelled to sit on the bench listening to what was in some respects as good as any comedy presented by a road company. The strain of Mr. Rogers' cross-examination into the minute details of the exact second at which Veros was arrested, and one, Earl Thompson, booked as a vag, succumbed in a fit and had to be carried out of the courtroom.

The trial of Veros, foreman in its way, developed the fact, however, that the main purpose was not so much to punish Veros for one violation of the law but to have the city council, through the double ground that he entered with a Vivinus motor but substituted a Gnomo motor and that he violated article 8 of the regulations, which provided that no motor employed on the ground be approved by the committee, August 20, two days before the contests opened.

The committee rendered a decision favorable to Farman when Farman produced written authorization from three members of the committee to use the Gnomo motor.

The contest this morning changed its ruling of last night, classifying Latham as both second and fifth in the Grand Prix de la Champagne. This is done on the ground that the rules do not permit the same pilot to enter the same contest with two machines, but in the case in point the entry was not made by Latham personally, but by the committee.

Louis Paulham has announced that he will try today or tomorrow for the Michelin cup, the annual prize of $4,000 for the fastest time in a race over 100 miles. The conditions provide that the winner fly double the distance made by the previous winner of the trophy, consequently Paulham will have to cover more than 146 miles. Count de Lambert and Tissandier also will try for this cup tomorrow.

TO ADDRESS PARENTS.

The following speakers have been appointed: Vincent, who will speak in the Ensign ward; A. Alexander, twenty-fourth ward; P. W. Dunyon and another speaker; Twenty-eighth ward, Bill Murphy and Ray H. Smith; thirty-first ward, J. H. Hancock and Oliver R. Meredith; Fourteenth ward, D. McAllister and Robert Skelton. The following Sunday speakers will be sent to the remaining wards of the stake. In their talks the speakers will show the benefits that accrue to the children in increased employment at home, through the parent-teacher league. Other features of the subject will also be presented.

STRIKE STILL ON.

Effort to Settle Differences Between Men and Masters Proves Futile.

Yesterday's attempt to settle the plumbers' strike proved futile, and the union men of the city are still out, and their places are still largely filled with nonunion men, the number of whom will be increased shortly so as to meet the demands of the fall business. The men, it is said, have given up all hopes of trying to bring the employers to their way of thinking, and they propose to establish a co-operative supply house. The employers affect no concern about the matter, as they say they have all they can do, and moreover, such a plan when tried in other places as Denver and Los Angeles did not have any appreciable effect on the business of the plumbing firms of the city.

The men, as is known, struck about nine weeks ago for $8 per day instead of $5.20 which they were receiving.

keepers. His total time for the distance was 20 minutes, 33.2 seconds, almost five minutes slower than Curtiss.

Bieriot, on the advice of Santos-Dumont, removed his four-bladed and substituted a two-bladed propeller. He then made another trial, but the time of 8 minutes, 14.2 seconds proving unsatisfactory, the machine was taken back to the shop.

Curtiss lightened the weight of his machine for the run today by substituting a small gasoline tank for the heavier oil tank used earlier in the week. Thousands of visitors of all nationalities made their way to Curtiss' shed to congratulate him upon his splendid flight.

As the day advanced the breeze gradually increased and at a quarter before 3 it was blowing from four to seven meters a second.

Bieriot started on a third trial round shortly after 3 o'clock but stopped after passing the first turn.

Curtiss has been invited to go to Berlin and fly over the same ground as on the Wright and he is disposed to accept the invitation.

Bieriot made a world's lap record in 7 minutes, 47.4 seconds. This is a world's record.

LATHAM PROTESTS.

Rheims, Aug. 28.—Henry Farman's great victory yesterday, when he flew 180 kilometers (111.73 miles), in 3 hours 4 minutes, 56.2 seconds, was not to have been a triumph for Latham, the double ground that he entered with a Vivinus motor but substituted a Gnomo motor and that he violated article 8 of the regulations, which provided that no motor employed on the ground be approved by the committee, August 20, two days before the contests opened.

The committee rendered a decision favorable to Farman when Farman produced written authorization from three members of the committee to use the Gnomo motor.

This is done on the ground that the rules do not permit the same pilot to enter the same contest with two machines, but in the case in point the entry was not made by Latham personally, but by the committee.

A PROPELLER BREAKS.

Betheny Aviation Field, Rheims, Aug. 28.—As Leon de la Grange was turning the first pylon in the course of an exhibition aerobatic performance, the propeller of his machine broke from its shaft, and the aeroplane fell heavily to the ground. Fortunately, the height at the time did not exceed 35 feet. De la Grange was badly injured and shaken up, but none of his bones were broken.

They were married at Grass Creek, September 19, 1884, and have two children aged 13 and four years. She says she has a certain amount of household furniture, of considerable value and a piano, most of which was paid for by her own efforts. She asks that the court confirm her claim for the value of the property and the ownership of this and fix reasonable alimony with costs. She files an affidavit of impecuniosity with her complaint.

COURT NEWS

SAYS HUSBAND KICKED HER.

Frank Sling kicked his wife Marie in the stomach about five months ago, to her great pain and humiliation, so she says. She filed suit for divorce this morning, charging non-support and cruelty, which consisted besides the kicking of calling opprobrious epithets, using harsh language and swearing at her. She asks that the court fix the relief she should receive. They were married at Washington, D. C., on Oct. 17, 1905.

She asks the court to fix both temporary and permanent alimony and costs.

DECISION IS REVERSED.

The supreme court has reversed a decision of the third district court in favor of the Florence Manufacturing company of Florence, Mass., against the Pacific Express company for $388.20. The court has reversed the decision in transit two years ago. The express company had set up the defense that the shipment was covered by a contract which limited the liability to $50 and took an appeal. A new trial was ordered.

The judgment was reversed on the ground that counsel for the manufacturer had failed to make out precise and definite findings in some respects, but had failed to stipulate material and issuable facts. The court found that the stipulation of facts in support of the judgment and that the findings could not be broader than the stipulation of facts upon which the case was submitted to the court as to all issuable facts.

WRIT OF MANDATE ISSUES.

Supreme Court Reverses Judge Morse In Suit on Mechanic's Lien.

Affirming the principle that a trial court has no right to elect for a litigant which of two courses he shall pursue, the supreme court yesterday ordered a writ of mandate to issue against Judge C. W. Morse of the district court, compelling him to allow Marie M. Dorsett, plaintiff in the estate of Daniel H. Dorsett, who is suing Flora A. Phillips, to make her own choice of courses open to her. Mrs. Dorsett brought suit for $500 damages for the estate of Daniel H. Dorsett, claiming that she was furnished with material, furnished and Mrs. Phillips in her answer set forth a counter claim for $2,500 for damages for the furnishing of poor material. Mrs. Dorsett set aside the claim in equity for $500 but to foreclose on a mechanic's lien. Judge Morse ruled that the law action should be dealt with first. Counsel for Mrs. Dorsett objected to this ruling. The court refused and the supreme court was asked for a writ of mandate which has been granted.
