

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

"Education and Crime" is the subject of a paper to be read before the State Teachers' association by President J. Kingsbury. Other members of the University faculty are listed on the official program as follows:

"Knight School in the Public School System," Prof. Byron Cummings; "The Prussian Duty," Supervisor Horace Cummings; "Necessary Training for Kindergarten Teachers," Miss Mary C. May; "Physical Education in Colleges and High Schools," Dr. E. G. Gowan; "High School and College," Prof. Milton Bennett; "Parent and the School," Prof. William M. Stewart; "Utah Educational Exhibit," Director Horace Cummings; "The Place of Physical Education," Dr. E. G. Gowan.

State Representative-elect C. S. Kinney was shown through all the departments of the University on Wednesday by President Kingsbury.

W. E. Corry, N. 92, now doing work with the New York Security & Trust Insurance company, was a visitor on Wednesday.

Student O. J. Bracken has withdrawn from the University to engage in business in the Argentine republic. He expects to leave for South America on Jan. 10.

The work in anthropometry is progressing rapidly. Dr. Gowan has examined nearly 100 men during the last two weeks. The examinations disclose some serious defects in development which proper physical training would have prevented. Nearly all the defects so far noted are of a neuro-muscular type. As Dr. Gowan is a specialist on the nervous system he is particularly interested in the work. The university is justified in looking for results that will be very beneficial to the individual students.

Instructor M. R. Porter returned to the University on Monday after having been out three weeks on account of sickness.

The University closed yesterday for the holiday recess and will open on Jan. 9.

The Christmas Chronicle was issued on Tuesday. It contains a number of interesting cartoons on different members of the faculty.

Instructor Boehm left this morning for Iowa City, where he will spend the holidays at his old home.

The board of regents met yesterday to receive bids for grading the athletic field.

J. Fred Anderson, '02 N., and his father visited the University on Thursday. Mr. Anderson is now doing work with Prof. H. S. Clark of the University of Chicago. He will leave on Monday for Chicago.

Dr. Chas. A. Gowan, a brother of Dr. E. G. Gowan of the University, was a visitor on Wednesday. He comes here from Logan to open a dental office.

A. B. Christensen of St. George, who has been studying for a number of years at the University of Berlin in Germany, was shown through the University by Dr. Merrill on Thursday.

The Hon. Samuel Newhouse has presented the school of mines with a car load of ore to be used in the metallurgy department.

As Coach Holmes of Los Angeles failed to send final arrangements for a football game between the University of Southern California and the Varsity eleven, the trip has been called off.

Fred J. Pack, B. S., 04, formerly undergraduate assistant in Dr. Talmage's department and now doing postgraduate work in geology and mineralogy at Columbia, has sent to the department of geology a small but interesting and valuable collection of specimens. The collection consists of altered fossils and pyrite concretions on fossilized wood.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

City schools began their two weeks' vacation today. General pay day was observed yesterday.

The principals discussed methods of assisting the local humane societies in their endeavors to inculcate in the children a love for all living creatures. The consensus of opinion was that no formal action should be taken in the schools, but that incidental teaching should be resorted to as a means of reaching the desired end. At the next meeting the subject of "Departmental Work" will be considered. A diversity of opinion regarding the merits of the system is anticipated.

Justification was the predominant feeling in all the schools yesterday. Delightful programs were given in all the buildings. Where corridors could be seated, general exercises were held. In their desire for pleasure, some schools did not forget the practical phase of Christmas. Little children suggested the preparing of presents for their less fortunate neighbors. At the Lafayette, a large table was loaded with dainties, choice sweets and substantial foods. These will be distributed among the poor through local charitable institutions.

Unity hall was the rendezvous of High school students last evening. School and class colors gave an artistic tone to the hall, and a smart set was in attendance. Punch was served throughout the affair. The occasion was known as "Red and Black" day.

The annual program given by the High school students was rendered yesterday afternoon in assembly I. The hall was tastefully decorated in red and black. The numbers on the program were as follows: Overture, "Poet and Peasant," High School orchestra; address, "Red and Black Day," Fred Hale, Sr.; recitation, "The Woman from Nantucket," Miss May; presentation of flag, Royal Maritime, president senior class; acceptance, Francis Critchlow, Jr.; orchestra, "Cypress," presentation of football picture, Warner Thompson, captain acceptance, Pullan Hamberger, Jr.; vocal quartet Gertrude Kelly, Irene Kelly, Edna Evans, Jennie Miles—(a) (by request) "Auld Lang Syne," (b) "Aunt Marjory," the alumni, Kate Groo; invitation to dance, Marie Derge; school song, "Red and Black."

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

Salt Lake City.—During the past week the different classes of the L. D. S. U. visited the grand display of art in Social Hall, given by the Society of Utah Artists. Sarah Jensen,

On Wednesday morning, Dec. 21, the fourth year English class visited the annual exhibition of the Society of Utah Artists in the old Social hall.

The visit was both pleasing and instructive to all who attended.—W. S. Ure.

The $5 prize offered by the Gold and Blue for the best story was, after a careful consideration of the stories handed in, awarded to Miss Maud Newley. Other prizes will be offered during the remainder of the year, for stories and poems. We hope the students will take an active part in any features of this kind that may be arranged for.—Geo. Q. Knowlton, Editor.

The Seminars society of nurses met Tuesday, Dec. 20, in Y. 33. Miscellaneous business was transacted, and then Mrs. N. A. Empey, superintendent.

Students themselves to correct the constitution, rather than to have the faculty pronounce it invalid by casual stories and poems. We hope the students will take an active part in any features of this kind that may be arranged for.—Geo. Q. Knowlton, Editor.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY.

Provo, Dec. 22.—President Brimhall will visit in the east till after the holidays.

Prof. B. Partridge and wife will leave this evening for Michigan, where they will spend their vacation, visiting with friends. Mrs. Partridge will probably remain there the rest of the winter with her relatives.

Prof. Maw, who has been ill for the past week, was at school today.

The faculty recently received an interesting letter from Prof. N. L. Nelson, who is studying in Massachusetts.

Prof. Hinckley has received some valuable specimens of powder from A. M. Cheney, an old student of the university, now engaged in government service in California.

Some of Mr. Van Buren's friends have sent him some deer for the purpose of mounting.

The woodwork boys are making several roller-top desks for some of the teachers.

A new bulletin board has been placed in the lower hall of the High school building. This was necessary on the renumbering of the rooms in order to give the proper directory to rooms and classes.

A number of chairs have been received to increase the seating room in college hall. Despite the fact that the preparatory department held chapel exercises in their new building, college hall is not large enough for the High school and normals.

Prof. Osmond lectured Tuesday evening before a ladies' club on "Othello."

The party given by the kindergarten girls Friday evening was perhaps the most successful event of the season. The gymnasium hall was decorated most artistically and refreshments were plentifully served. The social spirit prevailed to a marked degree. The evening passed pleasantly in dancing and playing of games. Mrs. Dusenberry and her girls certainly have taste as entertainers. They no doubt worked hard, but the pleasure they gave their friends will not be forgotten.

A. B. Christen, who recently returned from Europe, where he has been studying, was a visitor Tuesday morning. He addressed the young ladies in their M. I. capacity. Brother Christensen was called home on account of the sad death of his little son. He expects to return soon with his family, to resume his work.

The program given by Miss Nelke's devotion students in "Literary" last Friday evening seemed to meet with praise and appreciation from the large audience in attendance. Miss Nelke is certainly doing a good work in the line of expression. Her work is thorough and up to date, and that the students appreciate the privilege of obtaining training under such an able instructor, is seen in growing numbers of her classes.

A great deal of interest is being manifested in the Leap Year ball that comes off this evening.

Wednesday evening a debate was conducted before the Speech Improvement club. The question was: "Resolved, That the foreign element in the United States is detrimental to the country. Andrew Rasmussen, A. C. Johnson and Lulu A. Nielsen contended for the affirmative and M. E. Wakefield, Elsie Chamberlain and Tillie Foster for the negative. The judges decided in favor of the negative.

The idea is under way by Mr. Eastmond to have a league organized of the art students for their own mutual benefit. The thought also is to combine the industrial students in a crafts association.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE.

Logan.—The Usona society gave a brilliant leap-year party in the gymnasium Thursday evening. The committee in charge had paid especial attention to the decorations, and the hall was made beautiful with a canopy of crimson ribbons reaching from the center of the gymnasium to the railings around the track. The holly and evergreens were used with charming effect and there were cozy corners decorated with the college colors and supplied with sofas and easy chairs.

The entire south end of the gymnasium was draped with portieres and made inviting with cushioned seats. Refreshments, consisting of ice-cream, punch and coffee, were served in one corner. There was a fairly large attendance and the party was one of the social successes of the year. The society girls proved themselves to be excellent hostesses and each and every guest was most pleasantly entertained throughout the evening. The music for the evening's entertainment was furnished by the Jeppeson's orchestra, and the dancing was continued until midnight.

Prof. A. B. Wright has received this week the pictures he had on exhibition in the State Art Institute at Ogden. He is contemplating opening an exhibition of his work in the faculty room of the college immediately after the Christmas vacation. There will be an entire change of pictures from those shown in his former exhibition, and as the central point of attraction there will be shown the life sized portrait of Miss Richards, which won the $300 prize at Ogden. President Linford's portrait which has just been finished will also be hung in this exhibition, as will also some of his best copies of murals, and others of his original work. The exhibition will be free.

The devotional hour on Friday was devoted to a special Christmas program that had been prepared by a committee of the faculty. Among the pleasing matter of her husband's death. Many excellent arguments and some well-prepared papers have been presented.

The college closed at noon Friday for the Christmas vacation and will resume work on Monday, Jan. 9. Many students have gone to their homes for the holidays.

WEBER STAKE ACADEMY.

Ogden, Utah, Dec. 22.—Monday morning after devotional, the students resolved themselves into a mass meeting for the purpose of discussing the coming lecture course, President Wiley Cragum of the student body, acting as chairman.

Elder Frank Stratford of the Bishopric of Wilson ward, addressed the students in devotional Tuesday. His subject, "Office of the Holy Ghost," was ably presented and applied to subjects of present concern.

Harry Grow, a former student of the academy was present at devotional Monday and warmly expressed his appreciation of the school.

Wednesday Supt. Allison and Dr. Brown, the noted anti-cigarette lecturer, visited our school and attended opening exercises. Supt. Allison was given a warm reception by the students when he was unexpectedly introduced by the principal. For his subject Mr. Allison announced Dr. Brown who occupied the time speaking on his special subject. Our students are all in favor of crying down the pernicious habit of smoking. It is reported that only two in the school use tobacco, and these two are overcoming it.

On Thursday Prof. Fred Anderson delivered a very pleasant and instructive talk on Religion and The Simple Life.

Miss Jennette McKay is ill, not having been present since Wednesday.

Great interest is being manifested in the unparalleled lecture course that is to be given this season by the academy. Many tickets are already sold. Following is the lecture program:

Edmond Vance Cooke—1. In Some of His Own Poems, 3 p. m. Jan. 14. 2. "A Lecture," different from anything else ever heard, 3 p. m. Jan. 14.

H. Hopkinson Smith—"Colonel Carter of Cartersville," or "Tom Grogan," 8 p. m., Feb. 7.

Albert Armstrong—1. "The Bonnie Brier Bush," (17 scenes, 11 characters) 8 p. m., Feb. 15. 2. "The Little Minister," (20 scenes, 13 characters), 8 p. m., Feb. 16. 3. "The Sky Pilot," (20 scenes, 18 characters), 8 p. m., Feb. 17.

HORACE G. NEBEKER.

A Utah Boy, Who Will Lead the University of Chicago Team in the Coming Intercollegiate Debate.

Special Correspondence.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—When the University of Chicago meets the state university of Minnesota in intercollegiate debate in January, Horace G. Nebeker, a Utah man, will lead his team in representing Chicago. Such is the result of the three preliminary contests that have been held to select the Chicago debating team; from the 24 men who entered the race for positions on the team, the number was successively cut down in the preliminary trials to 12, then to six, and then to the three who will constitute the team.

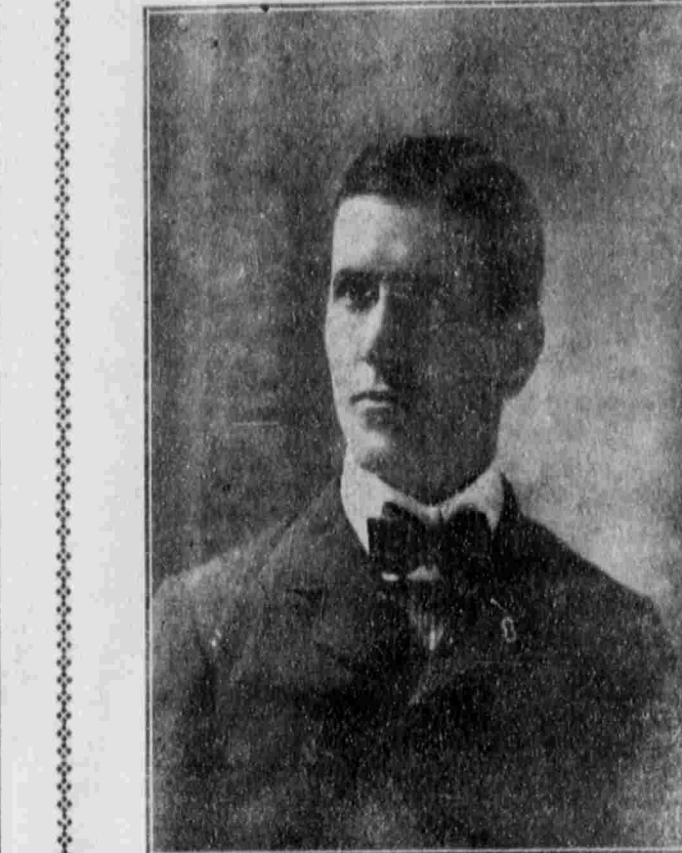

Friday last the final preliminary was held and Mr. Nebeker was selected as a team member, and has since been named as its leader in the coming debate. To indicate the importance attached to the debating work at Chicago it is only necessary to name the men who acted as judges in the final preliminary: Mr. H. P. Chandler, debating coach; Prof. E. M. Blanchard, department of public speaking; J. P. Hall, dean of the law school; Prof. J. P. Warren, department of history, and Prof. W. Hill of the department of political economy. The honor of representing Chicago in intercollegiate debate is further of worth and honor to it gives to team members a scholarship for the period of one year and a cash prize of $50. The other two members of the team are Arnold B. Hall of Indiana and Albert W. Merritt of Oregon.

Mr. Nebeker was formerly a student of the Brigham Young college at Logan, and after having fulfilled a mission to the Eastern States, entered Cornell university to study law. While there he showed considerable oratorical ability, being one of the final number selected from a group of 40 to compete for the yearly 36-memorial prize. He entered the Chicago law school at the beginning of the last summer quarter, and since has manifested a lively interest in debating work. He is a son of Mr. Ira Nebeker, who was for years Bishop of Laketown, Rich county; and is a brother of Frank K. Nebeker, district attorney at Logan.

The subject which will be discussed in the Chicago-Minnesota debate will be, "Resolved, That the United States should continue its present policy of opposing the combinations of railways," and Mr. Nebeker and his team mates will present the arguments of the affirmative. The debate will be held in Leon Mandel hall, Chicago, on the evening of Jan. 21, and the winning team will meet the winner of the Michigan-Northwestern debate.

Mr. Spencer Clawson, Jr., writes to his father from Germany under date of Nov. 27 that Theodore L. and Albert Genter, sons of E. W. Genter, late of Salt Lake City, at present residing in Colorado Springs, have graduated with the highest honors from the Technical university at Charlottenburg, near Berlin. Theodore won the medal of honor against 42 competitors and received the title "Diplomenter Huetten Ingenieur," which means receiving the Prussian government's diploma as "mining engineer." His brother Albert was a close second.

It will be remembered that Theodore L. Genter was a corporal in the Utah battery under Maj. F. A. Grant in the Philippines, and that on his return five years ago he went to the German capital to take up his studies and qualify himself as a mining engineer.

THEODORE L. GENTER.

Mr. Spencer Clawson, Jr., writes to his father from Germany under date of Nov. 27 that Theodore L. and Albert Genter, sons of E. W. features of the exercises were: An oration by Prof. Bullen, a vocal solo by Miss Carrie Thomas, a Christmas story by Miss Cynthia Hill, and selections by the college orchestra and the Brigham Young college brass band.

The students of the Carpentry department have been unusually busy during the last week or two in making tables and towel-racks, which completes the work outlined to be done before the holidays. Ready sale among the student body has been found for every article produced by the department. The work being done is of a high order and instructor Linford is well congratulated on the excellent showing made. The same may be truly said of the blacksmithing department. The students in forge work have made rapid progress in that line. In this department also the work of the students has been purchased and will be shown as examples of the skill of those who are taking the course.

The students of the domestic department had a solemn good-bye to their teacher, Miss Gwendie Hubbard, on Wednesday. She tried to slip away quietly and might have done so but for the fact that in an instant moment she had asked the cooking department to prepare a wedding cake, and it required but little guessing to arrive at the conclusion that she had decided to take unto herself a husband. By a little quiet investigation it was learned that the happy young man is Mr. Thomas Redford, formerly of Mount Sterling, but now employed in Butte, Mont. There was for a time a flurry of excitement when it was known that Miss Hubbard would wed a Montana man for fear Henry would be levied upon the school, but we are assured that she will continue her work until the end of the year. The marriage took place on Thursday in the Logan Temple. That afternoon at 4 o'clock a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ezra Lloyd, at which only members of the families and a few near friends of the bride were present. The hearty good wishes of the faculty and the students are being showered on the happy couple.

On Monday, at the devotional exercises, Elder Thomas Duce of Alberta, Canada, addressed the students in a most interesting manner. Miss Parison also gave an excellent recitation.

On Wednesday morning, the class in oratory was represented in the devotional exercises by Jesse Rich, who gave Patrick Henry's oration in a very creditable manner.

Prof. Vernon's classes in history of English literature have just completed a critical study of "Hamlet." The session during the last week have been enlivened by a discussion of the guilt or innocence of Queen Gertrude in the School was dismissed Thursday night for holidays. At 4 o'clock all met in the assembly hall and rejoiced together in good feeling before separating for the vacation.

Last Friday night the Academy Junior basket ball team met and defeated the team for the State School for the Deaf and Blind.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Logan.—Last Monday evening in the college chapel the military band, assisted by the tenor soloist, Mr. Baugh, gave a concert before a large audience of students and townspeople. The band played with much dash and brilliancy a kind of music from waltzes to operatic overtures, and showed that it had been well trained and is composed of students of no mean ability in music.

Miss Ruth E. Monech of the English department will give a talk on the teaching of reading before the State Teachers' association, which will meet in Salt Lake during the vacation.

The second number of the Tycoon series of student entertainments will be an opera entitled "The Little Tycoon," which will be given in February. This will be followed in March by the performance of Goldsmith's "She Swoops to Conquer," and the series will end in April with Steiner's oratorio, "The Daughter of Jarvis."

Through the courtesy of Miss Lillian Oliver of the Brigham Young college the members of the Agricultural college faculty received invitations to a musicale given by Miss Oliver's pupils Tuesday evening.

An elaborate eight-course Christmas dinner was prepared and served by Miss Fisher, '04, and Miss Rudolph, '05, in the college dining hall on Tuesday afternoon. The guests were President and Mrs. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Riter and Mayor and Mrs. Robinson. This was one of the regular dinners which the advanced domestic science students are required to give. The young women, two at a time, prepare a menu, receive so much money, do their own marketing, cook and serve the dinner. Miss Fisher and Miss Rudolph had decorated the table with holly and even surpassed the excellent dinners that students had given before them.

Tuesday afternoon the engineers under Capt. McClellan defeated the agricultural students under Capt. Herman-

DR. ROYAL ALBERT McCUNE.

Young Utahn Who is Chief of Staff at St. Francis Hospital, New York.

A splendid distinction has come to one more young Utah student, in another state. This time the man who is the recipient of honors of a high order is Dr. Royal Albert McCune. Dr. McCune is a son of Henry P. and Elizabeth McCune, and a nephew of A. W. McCune, the well known Salt Lake capitalist and promoter. He was born at Nephi, Utah, where his parents now reside, and is in the twenty-eighth year of his age. He was graduated from the district schools of that section and later he entered the University of Utah, where he proved himself an exceptionally strong student, and from which institution he took his diploma to Bellevue Medical college, New York, where he pursued his studies for four years and graduated with the degree of doctor of medicine. The past year he has been in the service of St. Francis' hospital, and is now chief of house staff, a position that requires ability and judgment of the highest order, both of which he possesses to a marked extent.

Dr. McCune has also taken a special post graduate course on the eye, ear and throat. Last summer he spent his vacation in Europe, during the meanwhile as medical adviser for a New York millionaire, with whom he toured the continent. The love of the sciences of medicine and surgery is apparently inherent with Dr. McCune, as from his earliest childhood they have been bent that he has followed unceasingly. His grandfather, Dr. Matthew McCune, was one of the earliest physicians and surgeons of Utah. He came here from Calcutta, India, and practiced his profession for many years. Now his grandson gives promise of becoming a renowned practitioner. Dr. McCune expects to return to Utah and locate in Salt Lake next year.

sen in a game of basketball, with a score of 16 to 11. The victorious team the following day played the commercial students.

The college vacation began Thursday and will extend to Jan. 3. Many of the professors will be out of town. Prof. Robinson is contemplating a business trip to Utah county. Prof. and Mrs. Rexell will spend Christmas in Ogden; Prof. Studdard will be in Salt Lake, and Capt. Styer with his family will spend the holidays in the same city.

Mrs. Adelaide Church Smith of Madison, is spending several weeks in Logan with her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Smith, the college librarian.

Among the most prominent students in the crowd that took the noon train on Thursday were about 40 charmingly gowned young women students. These were from the domestic science department. For the past month they had been busy under the direction of Mrs. Cook, preparing these same gowns as Christmas presents for themselves. They made a most creditable showing and are now doubtless dazzling the home people with the simple elegance, good taste, and stylish appearance of their new garments.

At an athletic meeting of the Commercial club this week Mr. Findlay was elected manager of the track team and Mr. Mortensen captain. Enthusiastic speeches were made by Prof. Langton and Prof. Rexell.

Miss Monech entertained her physical culture class recently at a Gym Jinks in the gymnasium. The young women spent the time in executing remarkable athletic stunts, in playing games and in dancing, after which refreshments were served.

Among the new books added to the library by the summer school committee are the following: Chas. Wagner's "Simple Life" and "By the Fireside," George Bernard Shaw's "Plays Pleasant and Unpleasant," Vasari's "Lives of the Painters," and several modern novels.

Among the lecturers who are to address the State Teachers' association in Salt Lake early in January are Mrs. Cotey and Mrs. Cook. Mrs. Cotey will discuss the scientific side of domestic science instruction, while Mrs. Cook will speak of domestic arts in grade work.

The military band is giving much assistance to the military department by playing daily on the drill ground at drill hour.

The college has received visits the past week from Representative T. H. Merrill of Richmond and other members of the Legislature.

At the cloth meeting of the A. C. Woodward club, Mrs. Rexell spoke appreciatively of the life and work of Orasmus; Mrs. Snowden emphasized the importance of Brundsted to architecture, and Mrs. Ostlin directed the discussion that followed.

In this relation, it should be borne in mind that the difference in price between our nails, and that of the very cheapest now sold amounts to only five per cent.
